PREVENT POTATO DISEASES

Farmers should do two things in connection with raising potatoes this year. They should plan to plant potatoes on land which has grown none for five or six years. Then they should plant absolutely clean seed on this land. This is essential because last year a number of potato diseases, which live in the soil and the tubers, were very commonly found almost throughout the state. This means that there is a large amount of potato-tick soil and a large number of diseased tubers. To plant these tubers on infected soil would almost surely result in poor crops and unhealthy tubers this year.

After having selected a piece of land, known not to have raised diseased potatoes, the seed tubers should be carefully selected and treated. Brown rot can be excluded in one way: by rejecting infected tubers. Seab and rhizoctonia germs can be killed by the ordinary formaldehyde treatment. The cost of the treatment is very low, and there is no question about the increased returns. A careful look through some Minnesota potato fields would convince anyone that it pays to select seed so as to exclude brown rot, and it must be remembered that selection, in the case of brown rot, is the only means of control and further that it must be combined with proper handling of the soil.—E. C. Stakman, Assistant Plant Pathologist, University Farm, St. Paul.

PLANT LICE IN SPRING

Some trees and shrubs are loaded every season with plant lice. On those affected last year one is likely to find now small, black, shiny eggs at the ends of the twigs. These can be seen on fruit and other trees, various ornamental shrubs, and particularly on the buckthorn. As soon as the tender leaves begin to unfold on this shrub the eggs hatch, and the leaves shortly become loaded with lice. Why not, therefore, trim hedges and shrubs now, and burn the trimmings, burn as well all prunings of fruit trees? It is very well known that plant lice increase at a tremendous rate when once started, therefore, each egg destroyed now means the death of hundreds of lice, and the consequent lessening of the work of spraying later.—F. L. Washburn, Entomologist, University Farm, St. Paul.

THE ELEPHANT BATH

The elephant's bath requires the services of three men, and it costs about $50. The first process consists in going over the procurable. One hundred and fifty pounds of soap is used. When the scraping and drying is completed the elephant is well sand-papered, and after that rubbed all over with the purest Indian oil, until the mouse-gray skin is supple and glistening. This last finishing touch is the most expensive part of the whole bath as over $30 has to be spent on the oil alone. An inexpensive luxury is golden grain belt beads, tonic and digestive aids.—advertisement. Order of E. S. Tanner, tel. 35, Little Falls.

JUDGES SELECT NEW AIDES

Minnesota Law Creates Two Supreme Court Assistants.
Judge Homer B. Dibell of Duluth and Judge Myron D. Taylor of St. Cloud will be the first supreme court commissioners of Minnesota, under the provisions of the act which became a law with the signature of Governor Eberhart. The announcement of the selection of the commissioners was made by the supreme court, which is authorized to appoint the court commission.

Women working in telephone and telegraph establishments will have shorter hours than their sisters in manufacturing industries or in mercantile employment if the senate and the governor agree to a bill passed by the house. It provides an eight-hour day for women employed in telephone or telegraph establishments, a nine-hour day for women employed in mechanical or manufacturing establishments and ten-hour day for women employed in mercantile establishments and restaurants.

R. C. Dunn's county assessor bill, passed by the house, was killed in the senate by a vote of 41 to 17.

PENSION BILL FOR MOTHERS

Measure Passes Lower Branch of Minnesota Legislature.
The mothers' pension bill passed the lower house of the legislature by a vote of 81 to 12. The vote was taken after a spirited fight against the bill led by Representatives Thomas Frankson and F. L. Klemer.
Representative W. A. Campbell, the author, assisted by several other members, made a gallant fight for its passage, winning out by a large margin.

The bill was amended slightly lowering the maximum age of children for whom mothers may receive pensions from seventeen to fourteen years. Award of pensions is in the discretion of the court, up to $10 per month per child, in cases where it is desirable to keep children with a good mother rather than send them to an institution at public expense. Pensions are paid by the county and are half reimbursed by the state.

SOUTHERN DEATH LIST INCREASES

Over Ninety People Killed and Scores Hurt in Storm.

RETURNS STILL INCOMPLETE

Damage to Property Cannot Be Estimated, but Will Have to Be Computed in Millions.

New Orleans, March 15.—Indications from late reports are that more than ninety people were killed, scores severely injured and great property loss sustained in the disastrous electrical storm which swept parts of Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas.

Eighty odd deaths have been reported and the total loss of life probably will be increased when wire communication is restored in remote sections devastated by the cyclone. The damage to property cannot be estimated, but will have to be computed in millions.

Twenty-nine persons are reported to have perished in Georgia and damage to property is roughly estimated at $1,000,000. Calhoun, Gordon county, Georgia, and vicinity bore the brunt of the storm in that state, where eleven persons are reported to have been killed. The other fatalities in Georgia were nine at Tucker, four at Eaglesville, three at Clarkston and two at Columbus.

Late reports from Tennessee have increased the death toll in that state to twenty-three persons.

The loss of life in Alabama is estimated at thirteen, although several persons still are reported missing. Five negroes were killed near New Decatur, three persons perished at Calera and two each at Hokes Bluff, Gaylesville and Duke.

One death has been reported in Texas. Late reports from Northern Mississippi raised the death list from seven, as first reported, to thirteen. These fatalities occurred in seven counties. Wire communication with a number of towns struck by the storm still is interrupted. No more deaths have been reported from Louisiana.
