FRIDAY, MARCH 20, 1914.

The city election has a warning in it for victors as well as defeated. Those defeated were formerly victors.

A. Sucker was a successful candidate in Lewisville, Watonwan county in the spring elections. And yet they say "What's in a name."

Editor W. E. McEwen of the Labor World has been appointed postmaster at Duluth. It is understood all factions united on him. This was proper recognition, well earned.

Since taking over the Motley Mercury again Brother Haymaker is showing an improved paper. A new job press and engine has been installed and other improvements are contemplated.

The Commoner has another blast at Roger Sullivan of Illinois. The Commoner knows that there are Roger Sullivans in other states, and we hope to see the Commoner pay a little attention to these also.

It is claimed that J. J. Hill has frequently named judges. We hardly think that Attorney General McReynolds will listen to suggestions from that quarter, even though other alleged democrats might be inclined to do so.

It is said that one of Minnesota's cities has an Abe Ruef, and that strenuous efforts are being made to land a good federal office for him. It is also said that the administration has been fully informed. It will be interesting to see what happens.

The Duluth Herald and Fairmont Sentinel are booming Ole Sageng for the democratic nomination for governor. Sageng is a good man and would make a splendid governor. We doubt very much, however, if he cares to pull chestnuts out of the fire for anybody.

It is quite evident that the governor has been true to his word and given the efficiency commission a free hand. Surely some of the impracticable, undigested proposals coming from some of the commission would never be sanctioned by anyone with knowledge of Minnesota's affairs.

The St. Paul Dispatch continually criticizes Bryan and the government's foreign policy, then in the next breath says Wilson is his own foreign minister. If Bryan is only a figurehead, then he is not responsible. The Nebraska man can't please the republicans press no matter what he does.

Red Wing Daily Eagle: The city of Anoka is having its first experience under the commission form of government. And up to date the experience seems to consist mostly in hiring at good round salaries men to manage city affairs who formerly did the same thing for practically nothing as a matter of local duty and civic pride.

The Albert Lea Standard reviews Lawler's career in politics with an unfriendly pen. There is nothing new in it, and the Standard naturally finds no extenuation. Now, if the Standard will review the political career of Lynch in the same way—and tell the truth—(Frank Day can supply considerable data)—an interesting contribution to political history will have been made.

T. J. Knox would make a great federal district judge. His ability as a lawyer is unquestioned, standing as he does in the front rank of the bar of the state. In all other respects also, he measures up to the highest conception of what a federal judge should be, frank, fearless, and untrammeled. It is not the place to put a creature of corporations, but a people's man in the best sense, who will be fair to all. Judge Knox is such a man.

Louis Nash and Winn Powers will be the candidates for mayor of St. Paul. One represents democratic democracy, the other, everything else. It should be a clean cut fight, with the issues squarely determined. The old gang in both parties are behind Powers, including Fred Lynch, who has joined hands with his old leader O'Connor in support of Powers. With the real issue straight before the people, and a courageous fight by Nash, there is prospect of his success, although the hosts of reaction are massed behind his opponent.

Albert Lea Standard: The recent great conference of twelve hundred democrats in Minneapolis strikingly demonstrated who is the favorite and best loved of Minnesota democracy. Wilson is all right, but the most rousing and heartfelt cheers are for Bryan, again and forever for Bryan, Bryan.

There is no doubt of the truth of the above yet Lynch, who stands for all that Bryan opposes, is recognized as the representative of a progressive national administration. We do not believe that this state of affairs can or will continue, if the good of the democratic party is to be considered.

The basketball game which was scheduled to be played between the GYM team of this city and the Catholic club team of St. Cloud at that place Friday evening, was cancelled late Friday afternoon, the manager giving as his excuse that they would not be able to pay expenses from the gate receipts.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONFERENCE.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Democratic State Central Committee at a meeting regularly held in the City of Minneapolis, on Tuesday, Feb. 24, 1914, a mass conference of the Democratic voters of Morrison county, Minnesota, is hereby called to be held at the court house on Tuesday, March 24, 1914, at one o'clock p. m. of said day to consider the selection of 14 representatives to attend the State Democratic Conference to be held in the city of St. Paul, Minn., on Tuesday, March 31, 1914, and for the further purpose of electing a county committee whose duties shall be to care for the welfare of the Democratic organization and conduct such educational campaign as their means and opportunity may permit.

All voters of said Morrison county, without regard to past political affiliation, who now believe in the principles of the Democratic party as promulgated in its platform and exemplified by the national administration, are cordially invited to participate in this conference.

NEWS FROM THE FATHERLAND

Odds and Ends Gathered in Germany and Austria.

A NEW TYPHOID SERUM.

Graft Scandal in Hungary—Dewey Finds German Champion—Bavaria's King at Skittles—Leipzig to Be Made a Seaport—Punished For Insult to the German Crown Prince.

A new anti-typhoid serum is announced by Staff Surgeon Fornes of the German army. He has been experimenting with a view to lessening the side effects of inoculation. His new serum is comparatively free from albumen, and he believes it a decided improvement over existing serums.

Notwithstanding his discovery and the success attending compulsory inoculation of soldiers in the United States, the German military authorities have decided not to adopt a rule for compulsory inoculation of German soldiers in time of peace.

The report from Washington showing only two cases of typhoid fever among 80,000 officers and men, compared with 250 to 350 cases annually before compulsory inoculation was introduced has attracted the attention of Surgeon General Von Schjerning, chief of the army sanitary corps, and his subordinates. They are quite ready to be convinced that the serum may be an almost certain method of immunization against typhoid, but prefer to keep the treatment in reserve and use it only in case of a serious outbreak of typhoid in war time.

The Germans are also preparing to use prophylactic inoculations against other diseases in case of war. A serum against lockjaw is to be carried with all advanced hospitals, the anti-diphtheritic serum will be found at all base hospitals, and experiments are also being made with serums to prevent dysentery, which, with typhoid, constitutes the chief medical horror of war.

Graft in Hungary. News has reached Berlin of a political graft scandal which it is said is about to come to light in Hungary, involving the Liberal party, now in power, and a prominent Roman Catholic congregation in Belgium.

Some time ago it became known that leading Liberal politicians, for a consideration amounting to $280,000, had agreed to obtain the passage of a bill in the Hungarian parliament granting a concession for a great gambling enterprise on the famous Margaret Island in the Danube at Budapest. The scheme was knocked on the head before it could be put through, and it was thought the incident thereby had been closed, but within the last few weeks a certain Belgian Catholic order is said to have put in a claim for $80,000 "invested" in the fund for obtaining the gambling concession. It has threatened formal legal proceedings on the ground that its money was obtained on false pretenses. It claims to possess as documentary evidence a letter from an important official of the Hungarian department of the Interior pledging that the concession would be granted.

Dewey Upheld.

Rear Admiral Brussakis, a retired officer of the German navy, who commanded the German cruiser Cormoran at the time of the Spanish-American war, added his version of the Manila bay incident over which a controversy has been aroused by the publication of Admiral Dewey's autobiography.

Writing to the Tages Zeitung an account of the arrival of the cruiser Cormoran at Manila bay, he says that the McCullough, an American vessel, fired a blank shot in order to attract the attention of the cruiser. The Cormoran halted, and later an American officer came on board and communicated to her commander that a blockade of Manila had been instituted by the American fleet.

Admiral Brussakis considered that the firing of the blank shot was a proper signal and the only one under the circumstances.

Editor Punished. An insult to the German crown prince resulted in a sentence of six months' imprisonment being inflicted on Hans Leuss, the writer of a condemnatory article in a weekly newspaper, Die Welt Am Montag.

The article, entitled "William the Last," asserted that the crown prince, by sending a telegram of congratulation to Colonel Von Reuter in connection with the incidents between the army and civilian authorities at Zabern, Alsace, and by his farewell order to the Death's Head Hussars when he left the command on Jan. 9, was propagating Republicanism. The writer said it would be a public misfortune if the crown prince were called in now to ascend the throne.

For Injured Workmen.

The Northeastern Iron and Steel Co-operative association, embracing all the metal working factories of Berlin, has bought a 210 acre farm near the city and will equip it for taking care of the victims of factory accidents. A hospital for badly injured men is to be provided, and for less seriously injured workmen and convalescents special quarters will be built.

Particular benefit is expected from light gardening in cases of traumatic neurosis, a common sequel of injuries in this line of work. All patients will be cared for free of cost, and convalescents capable of working at gardening, fruit culture or other light farm work will receive wages.

The case of Lizzie Yonck vs. Mary Blanchard was settled out of court. This was an appealed will contest.

The court ordered briefs submitted in the case of A. H. Vernon, as guardian of Anton Kanieski vs. Ignatz Kanieski. This was an action for recovery of rent due on land.

John Joswiak and Frank Gritter were found guilty by the jury Friday afternoon of breaking into a schoolhouse in Morrill town and damaging books and supplies. They were fined $3 apiece.

Saturday morning the jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case of the state vs. F. B. Naprovnik, for selling decomposed meat to S. N. Humphrey of this city. The court sentenced him to a fine of $5 and costs.

The petit jury finished work Sunday morning, when they brought in a verdict of $3 for the plaintiff in the case of Simon Minchow vs. John Lyshik.

A divorce case which has been in the courts for about five years was settled Tuesday when Mrs. Marianna Koziol was granted a divorce from her husband. Mr. Koziol was given custody of the children and must provide for their maintenance.

The case of N. W. Chance vs. the County of Morrison, an action for collection of a bill, was taken under advisement by the judge.

An action by Mary Lasky against Philip Lasky and Binney Lasky for failure to perform a contract for the sale of land was also taken under advisement and the decision will be rendered later.

Adjournment was taken Tuesday evening and on Wednesday morning Judge Parsons returned to his home in Fergus Falls.

The offices of Dr. N. W. Chance and W. H. Moyer in the First National bank block are being remodeled and redecorated.

Peter Ruff has resigned his position as clerk in the Pantzke Bros. grocery store, and has taken a position with Harry Hamm in the Golden Rule. Malvin Sherman, who has been night clerk at the West hotel for some time, has taken Mr. Ruff's place at Pantzke Bros.
