AGITATE FOR A SANITARIUM

TRAINED NURSE CIRCULATING PETITION FOR PUBLIC VOTE ON MATTER

A trained nurse, sent out by the state board of health, is in the city this week for the purpose of getting people interested in co-operating with three neighboring counties in the erection of a tuberculosis sanitarium.

She is making canvass of the city and getting real estate owners to sign a petition asking for a special election to be held this fall, for the purpose of voting upon the matter.

The fight against the spread of tuberculosis has never been as great as it is at the present time and many counties in the state have already erected sanitariums or have voted to do so soon. In some cases two or three counties have combined and erected them, each county to pay its proportionate amount of the cost of erection and maintenance. By combining the cost to each county is much smaller.

People suffering with tuberculosis are taken to these sanitariums for treatment, and pay for the treatment if they can, or as much as they can. If they are unable to pay anything the cost is borne by the county.

The state board of health has urged the county commissioners of this county to take some step in the matter, and it was suggested that Todd, Wadena, Crow Wing and Morrison counties build a joint sanitarium. In Todd county the commissioners drew up a resolution in favor of the plan, and the Wadena-Crow Wing county board was also favorable to the plan. The matter was taken up at a meeting of the commissioners of this county recently, and a representative of the state board of health was present and explained the proposition, but they turned it down. Already a number of people have signed in favor of the proposition and compared the cost would be small, when combined with the great benefit such an institution would be. It is a fact that tuberculosis today has a stronger grip on humanity than ever before and than any other disease. Investigations in the larger cities of the state have brought out the fact that under the old method of combating the disease without sanitariums three cases will develop within three years from every case now existing.

HAVE YOU YOUR 2ND PAPERS?

JUDGE ROESER URGES PROMPT ACTION BY APPLICANTS FOR FINAL PAPERS

Judge Roeser of St. Cloud has issued a statement in regard to applications for final citizens' papers, in which he urges that those who have made declaration of intention must apply for the final papers within seven years. Following is the statement:

The naturalization law of the United States, passed June 29, 1906, provides that applicants for citizenship must apply for their final papers within seven years after they made their declaration of intention, that is, within seven years from the date of their first papers.

The bureau of naturalization has always claimed that this law also applies to cases where the first papers were taken out under the old law, but that it did not apply to the declaration under the old law. The federal courts, however, are holding almost unanimously that the new law does apply to the declaration under the old law, and that if declarants wait more than seven years from the date of their first papers before they apply for final papers their application must be denied and they must begin over again by taking out first papers.

This attitude of the federal courts will, of course, have a tendency to influence the state courts to hold along the same lines, and I have no doubt that the representatives of the naturalization bureau will insist upon such a construction within a very short time. I do not think that they will urge such a construction at the coming terms, but I would therefore advise all parties, who have taken out their first papers more than seven years ago, to apply no longer and make their application for final papers without further delay.

—John A. Roeser, District Judge.

NEW TRIAL DENIED BY COURT

IN CASE OF MRS. MARSHALL VS. CITY OF LITTLE FALLS—CASE MAY BE APPEALED

Judge Parsons of Fergus Falls has denied the city of Little Falls a motion for new trial in the case of the Mrs. Catherine A. Marshall of Iowa City, Iowa, vs. the City of Little Falls, in which a verdict was returned for Mrs. Marshall for $1,750 damages in district court here last September.

Mrs. Marshall was in the city visiting relatives and friends last summer, the guest of her nephew, H. W. Verner. While walking on a cement walk on Second street southwest one day she stumbled and fell, with the result that her hip was injured, and which she claimed might be permanent. She started an action against the city for $3,000 damages and was awarded $1,750. Judge Parsons presided over the court at that time.

It now remains with the city to appeal the case to the state supreme court or to pay the damages. It is thought that the latter procedure will be taken and the city attorney will inform the city council of the decision and suggest the proper step at its next meeting.

CITY COUNCIL HELD MEETING

GRANTED TRANSFER OF LIQUOR LICENSE AND APPROPRIATED $250 FOR COUNTY FAIR

The city council met in regular adjourned session at the city hall Monday evening, with Aldermen Hall, LaFond, Bell, H. Peterson, Venners, Newman and Moeglein present.

The application for a transfer of the R. L. Palmer liquor license to D. H. Ellis was granted. All the members of the council with the exception of H. Peterson voted yes. Peterson voted no.

The surety bond was approved for the transfer of the license. Frank Kiewel was granted a permit to construct a cement walk in front of his property, being lot 1 of block 46 on Third street southeast. Andrew Molde was granted a permit to construct a cement walk in front of lot 4, block 66, Thayer's addition, on Third street southwest.

A petition for a light at the intersection of Fourth street and Fifth avenue northeast near the N. P. tracks, was referred to the street committee for investigation.

The street commissioner's report of work done on roads leading out of this city during August was read and two bills, for $198.00 and $196.60 were allowed.

The bill of Octave Richard, acting chief of police, for a refund of fare to pier, amounting to $2.62 was allowed.

G. W. Massy, member of the board of education, appeared before the council and asked that some improvement be made on First street northeast from First avenue to Third avenue, at least. He stated that the school grounds have been put in good shape and First street which is in a very poor condition for travel at the present time, be fixed up.

N. N. Bergheim suggested that some work be done on Fourth street northeast before First street is tackled, as this city street is the main artery out of this city north of Belle. He suggested that the split log drag be used on the roads of the city, as they have been found very satisfactory wherever tried out.

Geo. Kiewel said that Fourth street should be fixed up before First street, as during the rainy season the fishing ponds become too numerous on this street. He also stated that something should be done to prevent the Broadway West roadway from deteriorating. As a result of automobiles speeding on this roadway, the crushed rock is loosened and in a short time it will be full of chuckholes. He suggested treating the roadway with road oil, which would act as a binder. He also gave a talk on the building of roads. Clay should not be used for roads, he said. Crushed rock roads are much more satisfactory, although the cost of building them is much greater. In order to lessen the cost of building crushed rock roads, he suggested that the rock be hauled to the place where the work is to be done and crushed with a portable crusher. The cost of such a crusher would soon be saved by decreasing the hauls.

As the result of the talks on roads and of automobiles speeding on our good roadways G. W. Massy stated that he thought that the roads would last much longer if the auto drivers are restrained from speeding, and suggested that signs be placed on the outskirts of the city where the main roads enter, telling the autoists how fast they are allowed to drive in the city. This suggestion brought out another, that of having an ordinance to regulate traffic. At the present time teamsters, auto drivers and others, pay no attention to the rules of driving, while others are absolutely ignorant of such rules.

After some discussion it was decided to leave the matter of the improvement of First street, in the hands of the street committee for investigation. The principal reason for the slow progress in road building is that the charter restricts the council from expending more than $200 for road work at any one time. The city clerk was instructed to send to the state municipal information bureau for a copy of an ordinance on the regulation of traffic in the streets of the city.

Alderman Newman read a proposition submitted to H. Landahl on the opening of Minnesota avenue, in which the city offered to vacate 40 feet of the street provided he would pay one-half of the cost of having the street surveyed and would open up and put in a passable condition 30 feet of the street. He also read a letter from Landahl, stating that the proposition could not be considered, as the cost of opening such a large part of the street would be too great. The councilmen agreed to drop the matter for the present.

Geo. Kiewel appeared before the council and asked for an appropriation of $250 to the fair society to help defray its expenses at the coming fair. The city has appropriated for the fair last year $500. Upon motion by Alderman LaFond the council voted to appropriate the amount asked. Council then adjourned.

GAME LICENSES RECEIVED

County Auditor B. Y. McNairy has received a supply of small game licenses from the state game and fish commission. The season for chickens does not open until September 7 and the licenses are not needed before that time, so no licenses will be issued until a few days before and then only for the convenience of those who go to other parts of the state to hunt. The fee is the same as usual, $1, and entitles the holder to hunt in any part of the state. No license is required of residents of the county if they hunt within the borders of the county.

It is expected that a large number of licenses will be issued this year, as the chickens promise to be plentiful. Ducks and geese will also be numerous, large flocks of them having been seen by local sportsmen during the past few days.

POPE PIUS X IS DEAD

HEAD OF CATHOLIC CHURCH STRICKEN AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

The Dead Pope

Born at Riese, near Venice, June 2, 1835.
Studied at Riese, Treviso and Padua.
Ordained priest in 1853.
Served as curate nine years.
Appointed parish priest of Salazano in 1867.
Chancellor of the diocese, 1875.
Bishop-capitular, 1877.
Vicar of Mantua, 1884.
Cardinal and patriarch of Venice, 1893.
Elected pope, Aug. 9, 1903.
Died Aug. 19, 1914.

Rome, Aug. 19.—Pope Pius X died today. His holiness, after suffering a relapse, earlier in the day, became unconscious at noon. At that time a priest was sent for and the last sacraments of the church were administered.

Doctors in attendance were compelled to begin the administration of oxygen to keep him alive pending the summoning to the bedside of the officials demanded by the rites of the church to be present.

At 1:30 p. m. it was announced that the condition of his holiness was desperate, that his fever was increasing and his general condition was becoming very much weaker.

His sisters were in constant attendance. The pope sank gradually until death came.

Many Rush to Square

The ringing of church bells throughout Rome was the announcement to the faithful that the holy sacrament was being administered. Many people rushed to St. Peter's square for the news, hoping that the gravity of the report was exaggerated, only to learn that the pope was dying. The crowds increased until at the time of the pontiff's death there were thousands in the square.

For several days the pope's condition was serious, although the doctors have endeavored to minimize his condition. He was ill from a bronchial attack and due to his great weakened condition, due to his great grief over the European war. For days before the war broke out Pope Pius was gravely concerned and notified all of the heads of the church throughout Europe to work for peace. Up until hostilities actually commenced he did not believe that war could come between civilized nations at this late date. When he heard that Germany had declared war on Russia and realized that the conflict had actually begun he was overcome. He swooned and was unconscious for several minutes. His physicians were called in and had to use powerful restoratives. There was a slight recovery and the pope was able to be about the vatican. He spent most of his time in praying that peace would come speedily.

Issued an Exhortation
On Aug. 2, at the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, the pope issued the following exhortation to the whole world:

"At this moment when nearly the whole world is being dragged into the vortex of a most terrible war with its present dangers and miseries and the consequences to follow, the very thought of which must strike everyone with grief and horror, we whose care is the life and welfare of so many citizens and peoples cannot but be deeply moved and our hearts wrung with the bitterest sorrow.

"And in the midst of this universal confusion and peril we feel and know that both fatherly love and apostolic ministry demand of us that we should with all earnestness turn the thoughts of Christendom thither, 'whence cometh help,' to Christ, the Prince of Peace and the most powerful mediator between God and man.

"We therefore charge the Catholics of the whole world to approach the throne of grace and mercy each and all of them and more especially the clergy, whose duty furthermore it will be to make in every parish, as their bishops shall direct, public supplication so that the merciful God may, as it were, be wearied with the prayers of His children and speedily, remove the evil causes of war, giving them who rule to think the thoughts of peace and not of affliction.

"From the palace of the vatican, the second day of August, 1914.

"Pius X. Pontifex Maximus."
From this time on the depression of the pope was noticeable to everyone who saw him. His condition became so grave that melancholia was feared, and finally last week he took to his bed. His sisters were sent for at once and all audiences were suspended.

For the last few days the doctors forbade even the cardinals to see the pope. Although everyone had been forbidden to mention the war in his presence, his holiness was reported to be constantly asking for news from the front and to be spending his time, until his strength failed him, in praying that peace will speedily be attained.
