

ESTATE OF J. H. RHODES

LAST OF HEIRS ATTAINS RE-
QUIRED AGE AND $66,000 ES-TATE IS CLOSED UP.

After being in probate court twelve years the estate of J. H. Rhodes, deceased has been settled and divided among the heirs, six in number. The estate is valued at $66,000, and consists almost entirely of real estate or business property.

The reason for the late settlement of the estate is that in his will Mr. Rhodes stated that it should not be settled until all of the heirs were 21 years of age.

Six persons are named as heirs to the estate. They are Mrs. Nettie Rhodes and Miss Alice Rhodes of Jackson, Mich.; Miss Bertha Rhodes, Chicago; Mrs. Cora Robinson, Lake Benton; Taylor C. Rhodes, St. Paul and Mrs. Harry V. Harper, Minneapolis.

The estate consists of 1,400 acres of land scattered throughout Morrison county, the Rhodes residence at 106 Fourth Street southeast, the building occupied by the C. H. Brown drug store at the corner of Broadway and First street southeast, and the buildings occupied by the H. W. Venners confectionery and the postoffice, on First street southeast.

MINNESOTA PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION.

(J. J. Murphy)
The Minnesota Public Health association announces that membership is open to all citizens interested. Anyone who is concerned about his own health, that of his neighbor, or that of this state as a whole, should take advantage of this opportunity. Weekly public health letters and various pamphlets will be sent to every member.

"Minnesota the Healthiest State in the Union" is the slogan. Knowledge concerning diseases and its prevention must be disseminated widely. The health and efficiency of this state depends directly upon the health and happiness of the individual citizen.

Do you know, Mr. Citizen, that for your present haphazard way of preventing disease you are paying directly or indirectly, a tax greater than the war tax of a foreign citizen? Consequently you should realize that it is not only an opportunity, but a duty to become informed and to spread this information to less fortunate neighbors. Knowledge will enable you to do your share in Minnesota's great battle against preventable disease and death.

Information will be sent to anyone who sends their name and address to the Minnesota Public Health Association, Old Capitol, St. Paul, Minnesota. The association's new year begins July first. As new mailing lists will be made up soon after, please send your name in at once. Simply address: Minnesota Public Health Association, Old Capitol, St. Paul, Minn.

About one hundred farmers from the country surrounding Little Falls attended the livestock demonstration at the east tracks of the N. P. Saturday, which were given under the auspices of D. E. Willard, development agent for the railroad. The car arrived about an hour later than scheduled, which probably had something to do with the small attendance.
