Will any of your machines be out in it? You know what will happen to them if they are.

Some of your machines were out all last winter and they were in bad shape this spring—cost a lot of time and considerable money to put them in working order and even then they were not nearly so good as they were before the winter's exposure.

You have thought several times of building a machine shed so you could take better care of your $800 to $1000 machine investment.

Do this much at least toward building one this fall—Come in and let's figure out how much it would cost you to do it.
