In the Coffee Business Since 1899
We have just installed a big coffee roaster which roasts with coal instead of gas. The reason we made this change was to get away entirely from any gas odors, while you get more or less roasting with gas.
With the new coal roaster we are putting out roasts far superior to any roasting done by gas.
Our blends speak for themselves. Try any of our coffee and see the difference between fresh roasted and coffee that has been roasted all the way from three to six months before you get to use it.
