Bert Hafar motored to Pillager Sunday. To Find the Water Level in Soil. In the Farm and Fireside is the following advice to the farmer who is about to plant his crops: "The water level is a term used in speaking about soils. It means the depth in the ground where the soil is saturated with moisture. "To find it simply take a post hole digger and dig down until water stands at the bottom of the hole. Do this in an ordinary season when the ground has about the average amount of moisture. For most crops the water level should be about three feet below the surface, for alfalfa at least five feet. A water level two to three feet deep is excellent for the majority of farm crops." Iron in the Ocean. A piece of iron will sink to the bottom no matter how deep the water is, because water is only slightly compressible. If water were highly compressible, as air is, the water at a great depth would be much denser and therefore heavier, and an object would sink until it reached a point at which its weight would be less than that of the water which it displaced, and there it would float, as clouds float in the atmosphere. But a cubic foot of iron weighs more than a cubic foot of water at a depth of two miles, just as it does at the surface, and therefore continues sinking until it reaches the bottom.—Christian Herald. A Polished Diplomat. "Did you see anything that particularly struck your fancy when you were looking around the furniture shops today?" asked a young husband of his lately made wife on her return from a tour of furniture inspection. "Yes," she replied; "I saw something that was exceedingly pretty in looking glasses." "I have no doubt you did," he observed, "if you looked into them." The halo of a calm, sweet peace rests upon that home. Backfire at the Instructor. The English assignment was: Write a short theme using ten words which you have never used before. This is what a freshman accomplished: "One of the Idiosyncrasies of this typographical expedition is that the usually otiose teamster is compelled to mollify and transmogrify into useful forms by behemothian, in fact, almost aysyphen swink, the rife desires of his quadrupeds." The instructor is now taking a course in etymology.—Harvard Lampoon. DRYS' APPEAL TO BULL MOOSE YOUTHFUL KEYNOTER RIVALRY BRYAN AS ORATOR. Speaker Declares for Prohibition and Suffrage—Says Mexico Needs Samaritan, Not a Conqueror. St. Paul, July 20.—The program headed toward the nomination of J. Frank Hanly for president rolled merrily on at the Prohibition national convention, varied only by an old-fashioned campaign fund-raising demonstration, during which one man pledged $50,000. Today William Sulzer, the man who turned his impeachment from the governorship of New York into a martyrdom, is scheduled to reach St. Paul and to put to the test on the convention floor his reputed power of personal magnetism. "Keynoter" Rivalry Bryan. St. Paul, July 20.—Too young to be the party's presidential candidate, but not too young to achieve the distinction of being the party's most masterful orator, Daniel A. Poling was introduced as being "of the world," "keynoter" at the opening session of the Prohibition national convention in the St. Paul auditorium. Mr. Poling really hails from Massachusetts, though he was born in Oregon, and he delivered for the drys a "crown of thorns" oration, threatening the honors of the historic W. J. Bryan. Makes Declarations. Mr. Poling, as official "keynoter" of the party, declared, of course, for Prohibition and suffrage for women, and to these he added commercial preparedness in lieu of military preparedness, a world's peace court, a humanitarian policy in Mexico, government confiscation of the war munitions factories, a hand of welcome to the Progressives, elimination of graft and excessive profits in manufacture of war munitions, a more equitable return for labor and a fairer distribution of the world's wealth. Would Welcome Moose. "Mexico needs a Samaritan, not a conqueror," exclaimed the young orator. To the Progressives he said, "Your house has been destroyed by its master builder; we have one for you." The resolution would empower a committee of five members to determine the causes for the advanced price of paper. The federal trade commission, under a resolution introduced by Senator Owen, already in making an investigation of the subject. Discussing his resolution, Mr. Mann said he knew of no natural causes that would account for the increase.

SOUTHWEST DARLING July 19.—Monday and Tuesday mornings this vicinity was visited by heavy rains which proved very beneficial to the crops but which delayed the haying somewhat. At the annual school meeting in district 35 Saturday, Arthur Regnell was elected director for three years and it was voted to have eight months' school, beginning in September. The school house will be reshingled. Fred Cook has a fine stand of wheat which is just heading out and Mrs. Cook has a fine garden. Mrs. Hugo Troselius is troubled with a sore foot. She had to visit a doctor at Little Falls the first of the week. Raspberries and currants are ripe now and many are out picking them. It is too late now to get any nice plant stock from August Blomquist as the plants are too old. The second crop will be grown to its full size in August. Willie Peterson is helping Charles Nordstrom with the haying. Albert Zimmerman and August Blomquist will help each other with the haying. The Rockdale Farmer is unable to get any help to do the haying. Men seem to be scarce now. The Ladies Sewing society of the Swedish Lutheran church will meet next Tuesday, July 25, at the home of Mrs. L. A. Peterson, at 2 o'clock. WEST BELLEVUE July 18.—William Lambert of Washington is visiting at J. M. Lambert's. Mrs. Wayne Pauley is in Aitkin county visiting the former Miss Maud Gray, who is very ill. George Chapman was a Royalton caller Saturday. Thomas MacDougall and Misses Rose MacDougall and Minnie Stone were Little Falls shoppers Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Dassow visited at J. R. Stone's Tuesday. Mrs. Bullard of Little Falls visited relatives and friends here last week. Mr. and Mrs. T. Hayes and son went to Gravelville Sunday. G. E. Brockway drove to Royalton Saturday. Fourteen voters were present at the annual school meeting in district No. 5. J. M. Lambert was re-elected to the office of treasurer. SWAN RIVER July 19.—Frank Rasinski, who is employed as a barber at Watkins, visited with his parents here. Paul Stanek is making hay on E. Krusel's meadow this summer. Having in this vicinity is going on in full blast. Some of the farmers have nearly completed, but others have been delayed on account of the rains the first of the week. Steve Bartkowitz completed his barn this week with the exception of some inside work which he will do this fall. John Plakut and sister Lilly and Polly Magdzas were in Little Falls on business last week. Frank Stanek has been employed by Joe Bartkowitz the past two weeks, working on this new barn. Andrew Magdzas was an Elm Dale caller Monday. Lilly Plakut was out Sunday afternoon picking June berries. There was a dance Monday evening in Albert Wolman's granary. A large crowd was present and all report a good time. Frank Krusel has purchased a new mower rake. PIKE CREEK July 17.—A pretty wedding occurred Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the St. Stanislaus church at Sobieski, when Miss Mary Kuka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kuka of Sobieski, became the bride of Peter Knopik of this place. Rev. Fr. Gospodar performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Krause of Little Falls visited Sunday with their parents here. Miss Helen Lipinski of Little Falls was a guest of Miss Marie Wiczek, on Friday. There was a school meeting held on Saturday at the school house in district 72. Jacob Ginter was elected director, Joseph Copia clerk, and John Cimanski treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. A. Cooper of Plensburg were guests at the home of A. Krause Monday. Miss Clara Krause spent Friday with her cousin, Miss Marie Wiczek. Mrs. M. Ringwelski returned from St. Cloud, after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Krefetz. Miss Josephine Olik of Little Falls visited at her home here Sunday. EAST DARLING July 18.—Mrs. Frank Buck is in South Dakota for a visit. She expects to return home this week. The First National banker has been looking for a man to help him on the farm but has not yet secured one. They are quite scarce nowadays. Thure Sanderson is helping Emil Olson with the haying. Hugo Nelson is a real hustler. He is doing the haying without any assistance whatever. Mrs. Nelson is taking care of the garden. The Rich Park Farmer will have a fine crop of clover and timothy this year.

Here's What a Machine Shed Did for One Farmer In the summer of 1898 a certain farmer bought a new mower, a binder, a tedder and a hay loader. Before the machines were delivered at the farm he built a good shed for them and they were stored there at once. The shed was built so they could be run into it easily. At the end of the season for each machine they were stored in this shed and all running parts were oiled and greased, canvases and knives were taken off and cleaned and the canvas taken into the house and stored where it was dry and safe from rats and mice while the knives were greased and stored where moisture could not get at them. This was done regular every year. In 1913 all these machines except the tedder were still in use and were still good for some years. Very few repairs had been needed for any of the machines during these 15 years of service. Suppose you figure what new machines and machine repairs have cost you in the past 15 years and see if you don't agree that a machine shed would be a good investment for you too? Better build it right now and save the machines you have from further rust damage. Ideas, plans and figures are a part of our service to you that's free. Morrison County Lumber Co.
