KELLOGG WILL SPEAK HERE

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATE COMES HERE NEXT THURSDAY

FRANK B. Kellogg, republican candidate for U. S. senator from the state, will be here next Thursday to deliver a campaign address, at the court house at 8 o'clock of that evening. Former Congressman Stevens and J. Adam Bede will also speak the same evening.

THE FARMER AND THE STRIKE The republicans have never been able to regard the farmer as they do other business men, or to treat the farmer's business as they do other business. The whole legislative record of the party shows this; the line of argument used to the farmer by their speakers and in their campaign literature shows it.

THE latest and most remarkable instance of this is the preachment they are now putting out that the settlement of the strike by President Wilson will be of no value to the farmer and that a great burden in the way of increased freight rates will fall upon his shoulders. There is no basis for either assertion.

THE strike would not have caused the farmer to actually suffer for food or for fuel had he not in distress had suffered. But his business would have suffered. With the railroad traffic of the nation blocked the farmer's business would have suffered along with all other business in accordance with the settlement of the strike by President Wilson.

THE farmer would have suffered inconvenience and loss as to everything he ships to market and as to everything he buys from other points. In addition to this direct loss, he, too, with the rest of the population, would have suffered from the disastrous state of the business of the country brought about by the strike.

THE net earnings of the railroads of the country for the year ending June 1, 1916, were 768 millions dollars more than the last year of the Taft administration. This indicates a possibility that an investigation shall be made and just and fair freight rates allowed. How welcome the fulfillment of this promise will be to the railroads is a question.
