John Smith speared a ten pound pickerel last week, but lost possession of him in Genola on his way home. During Smith's 5 minutes' visit, the fish disappeared. Whether the prize was stolen, borrowed or simply appropriated for private use, Smith cannot say. The fact remains that the fish is gone, and Smith expresses himself in no particular terms, when speaking of the extreme lawlessness tolerated down the line. Wm. RIGHT FIRING KEEPS COAL COSTS DOWN

Has the cold weather sent the coal bill up and the temperature of the house down? It is a good time to waste coal now, according to J. L. Mowry of the division of agricultural engineering, University farm, St. Paul, and a little mixture of brains and coal will keep a warmer house and a smaller bill. Stoking a furnace, Mr. Mowry says in a bulletin on house heating, is an art. There were three cases of firing in St. Paul last month which he cites as examples of the difference in cost between sensible and non-sensible heating.

CITATION FOR HEARING ON PETITION FOR PROBATE OF FOREIGN WILL

Estate of Valere Magnan State of Minnesota } County of Morrison } In Probate Court: In the Matter of the Estate of Valere Magnan, Decedent: The State of Minnesota to all persons interested in the allowance and probate of the will of said decedent: The petition of Valere Magnan, representing that Valere Magnan, then a resident of St. Catharines, Dominion of Canada, died on the 28th day of July, 1916, testate and that his will be admitted to probate in Surrogate court in and for the Judicial District of Eastern St. Catharines, Canada, being filed in this court, together with authenticated copies of said will and of the probate thereof in the court above named, and praying that said will be admitted to probate in this State, and that letters testamentary be thereon granted to Valere Magnan: Now Therefore, you, and each of you, are hereby cited and required to show cause, if any you have, before this court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House in the City of Little Falls in the County of Morrison, State of Minnesota, on the 17th day of February, 1917, at ten o'clock a. m., why said petition should not be granted. ing. One brought in a coal bill of $47, another one of $36 and the third one of only $16. The last house was equally warm with the other two. In its case, however, the coal was fired, in the others it was dumped in. In firing, Mr. Mowry says, add as small amount of coal each time as possible and fire often. Don't cover the bed of live coals entirely, but leave a small hole through which enough heat can go to fire the gases as they distill off from the new coal; gases that go up the chimney are lost. Keep the grates clean and clear of clinkers, and use a slice-bar to prevent a tendency to cake at the bottom of the fire. The difference between proper firing and improper firing is not a matter of more heat on a cold day. It is a matter of a reasonable coal bill on the first of the month.

NEW BOOKLET TELLS OF WHITE PLAGUE

"What every Minnesota citizen should know of tuberculosis," is the way Dr. I. J. Murphy, executive secretary, summarized the subject matter of a pamphlet recently issued by the Minnesota Public Health association. The pamphlet contains advice for consumptives and much information of value to any one interested in tuberculosis and the state-wide campaign against it, Doctor Murphy says. Specific directions to persons afflicted with tuberculosis and to those associated with them; how the disease is contracted, when it develops and how it may be prevented and cured are things told in the booklet. All the county sanatoria and other institutions in operation in the state in the fight against the white plague are illustrated, and lists of the superintendents of all the institutions and of the resident or staff physicians are given. Copies for distribution will be sent free to anyone writing the Minnesota Public Health association, Old Capitol, St. Paul.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN NOTES

(February 8 to 15) There is still time to do some root grafting of apples. The cion should be two or three times as long as the root. Plan to do some topworking this spring. This is a good way to get returns from unproductive trees that are thrifty. Late this month or early next month is a good time to sow pansies, columbine, foxglove and perennial seeds for early plants. When ordering seed for the garden try some vegetables you have not used before. Salsify, Swiss chard, and endive are good sorts to try. There are more than 10,000 acres of land in California devoted to raising garden seeds. The annual value of these seeds is $2,000,000. The evergreens are interesting objects on the home grounds at this time of year. A good group or grove of them is a protection from the wind. Bitter-sweet is one of the best vines for porch or trellis. If it is planted with other vines or plants, care must be used to see that it does not twine about them, as it will strangle another plant. Soon the golden willow and dogwood branches will be coloring up nicely on warm days. Have you ever noticed the difference the bright twigs of these plants make among the shrubs on warm days in late winter? Florence is one of the best crab-apples for general use. Sweet Russet is fine for sweet pickles and to eat out of hand. Early Strawberry and Whitney also are good to eat out of hand, but not of much value for market, because they are rather soft. In spite of the large quantities of peanuts grown in the south and in California, about 20,000,000 pounds, valued at $1,000,000 are imported from Africa, China and India yearly. Send to A. W. Latham, 207 Kasota block, Minneapolis, for the list of fruits recommended by the State Horticultural society. This also gives a list of premiums offered by the society. It is worth sending for.
