Hogwallow News

Cricket Hicks, who has always yearned to be fat, has had his picture enlarged while he has the mumps. The road to Tickville is being repaired so that the blacksmith won't have to hear the auto owners brag so much about the endurance of their cars. Tobe Moseley, who has been in a critical condition for several days with financial troubles, had a relapse the other day when the assessor told him he would have to pay dog taxes. The Old Miser of Musket Ridge, was in Hogwallow Thursday after a pipe full of tobacco. A good bone-dry argument is that of the man who boasts of the fact that he drinks it when he has it and lets it entirely alone when it is impossible for him to get it. Cricket Hicks says he would not mind going to church if he didn't have to stand up every time the congregation sings. Isaac Hellwanger believes that one of the worst things about being old is that a person can't keep his pipe and specs together. Most of the interest taken in the daily weather forecast in Hogwallow is not to find out how the weather is going to be, but how far the forecaster missed it. Atlas Peck says he has read where a fly lays more than two million eggs a year. More credit, he believes, is due the person who watched the hen-fly and figured this out than to the fly itself. The Wild Onion school teacher, in an address the other night, grew sentimental over the rapid flight of time, but his hearers felt that time was passing mighty slow. Miss Fruzze Allison ordered a new dress from a firm in Chicago, which guaranteed to sell only one of a kind in a community. The dress has arrived and is just like one Miss Flutie Belcher had last year. The guarantee is for this season, and Miss Allison positively refuses to wear the dress. All babies are born equal and remain so until their parents place them on the floor together. Miss Flutie Belcher will leave for Tickville next week, to be the charming guest of friends for several weeks. For the occasion the editor of the Tidings will build an addition to his society column. Miss Fruzze Allison spent the weekend at Bounding Billows, prospecting with a view to locating there. However, no announcement of an engagement has yet been made. Jefferson Potlocks was arrested on Musket Ridge day before yesterday by the Deputy Constable, on a charge of having entered the smokehouse of a man near Bounding Billows. When searched a ham of meat was found under his coat. The jury acquitted him on the grounds that this was only circumstantial evidence. The Tickville Tidings has editorially come out against compulsory prohibition. Eliek Hellwanger has swapped around until he is now the owner of a long squirrel rifle, and now he won't have to slip up closer to everything he goes to shoot at. The sun, which for the past summer has been setting behind a lot of trees, will soon begin to set behind Poke Easley's corn crib. Miss Rose Moseley was shopping at Bounding Billows Saturday, but failed to find a pair of shoes too little for her.

CHANCELLOR FORCED OUT

MICHAELIS PLACES PORTFOLIO IN HANDS OF KAISER.

Story of Resignation Circulated by Wireless Press.—Kaiser Returns to Berlin to Handle Crisis.

London, Oct. 25.—A Wireless Press dispatch received from Amsterdam asserted that Chancellor Georg Michaelis had placed his portfolio in the Kaiser's hands. The Wireless Press was not confirmed from other sources. The opposition to Chancellor Michaelis has been growing steadily during recent months in Germany. It started with the effort of the majority socialists to obtain some definite statement of Germany's war aims and grew more formidable when Michaelis evaded and ducked the issue. It reached a crisis when Michaelis and Admiral von Capelle, minister of marine, sprang the news of the German naval mutiny in what socialists soon saw was a trick to gain a weapon by which Michaelis and his junkie supporters could crush liberalism in Germany. Buelow in Berlin. Within the last few weeks Berlin reports have indicated the mysterious presence there of Prince von Buelow, formerly chancellor, and have coupled his conferences with high officials with the report that the chancellorship was again to be offered him. Kaiser Back From Balkans. Copenhagen, Oct. 25.—Emperor William has returned to Berlin, prepared to begin dealing immediately with the political crisis, particularly as it affected the imperial chancellorship. Rudolph von Valentini, chief of the emperor's civil cabinet, made a report to the emperor on the train on the various developments of the international political situation during the emperor's absence in the Balkans. Valentini acts as the emperor's eyes and ears in ascertaining public and political opinion.
