Hogwallow News

DUNK BOTTS, Regular Correspondent
(George Bingham)

The grocer at Tickville complains that the moving picture business has busted into his enjoyment a right smart, as he used to get into all the real shows at the opera house free of charge by furnishing barrel staves to the comedians.
Atlas Peck is doing without his lantern this year, but is making out all right, as he takes his pet owl along with him at night to do his looking.
The wet weather of the past day or two has warped some of the planks in the postoffice floor. The postmaster was out when this took place and he is still considered straight.
Jefferson Potlocks, who plays the lead fiddle in the Excelsior Fiddling Band, has been somewhat criticised by his action during the last entertainment at the school house, when he stopped during the middle of a sentimental classic piece and looked to see what time of night it was.

Bat Smith, who successfully operates the moonshine still on Musket Ridge, has requested us to notify his patrons around Hogwallow that hereafter all barrels must be returned as soon as empty.
Raz Barlow was caught drinking out of the eastern bucket at the Dog Hill church last Sunday. The board of Stewards immediately went into a business session and voted that this must be stopped.
Newly married couples generally are referred to as being One, but it would be marked in the proof if the society reporter wrote that they are going to housekeeping.
Atlas Peck has been clearing up his throat this week as he hopes to sing louder than all others in the choir next Sunday.
Yam Sims and Sidney Hocks swapped horses at the forks of the road after two hours' deliberation and general inspection, together with a mass of doubtful statements. They traded even, each giving five dollars to boot.
Miss Rosy Moseley is becoming one of our most talented singers and her fame is spreading far beyond the confines of this voting precinct. She has a very strong voice, and sometimes when she gets to singing the audience has to get up and move back.
Toke Moseley, the pioneer of the peerless self-acting fly-trap, is steadily engaged in working on a patent door bell, which will fail to register the neighbors who call to borrow a cup of flour.
Elevators are abused but they are fairly safe. They never have a collision while backing up, sidetracking or going forward.
Cricket Hicks says a person has more sense than a fly, but that it takes a lot of brains and ingenuity to slip up close to one.
The Excelsior Fiddling Band serenaded the Old Miser on Musket Ridge Tuesday night. When he heard them coming he locked the door and shut his eyes, pretending to be asleep, so that he would not have to pass out a jug to the band.
Cricket Hicks has returned from the Calf Ribs section, where for two days he held down an important and lucrative position at a saw mill. He has not yet decided what work he will engage in in the future, but will first take a much needed rest of two or three months.
The Mail Carrier found an Irish potato in the public road just this side of Bounding Billows yesterday afternoon.
Jefferson Potlocks is too old to enlist, and will stay at home and defend the vegetables from the Zeppelin movements of the bugs next summer.

No Person Can Give You a New Pair of Eyes.

But a properly ground pair of lenses come very near to doing that very thing sometimes.

Take a near-sighted person, for instance, who can not see plainly across the street. Maybe sometime that person, who did not realize that he did not see well, is made aware of the fact. He then consults an Optometrist—fitted with glasses which enlarge his field of vision wonderfully. That person has enjoyed the next best thing to getting a new pair of eyes.

All errors of vision are accurately corrected by our optometrist.
