REFERENDUM IS ILLEGAL

U. S. Supreme Court Decision Dashes Hopes of Wets.

Holds Federal Prohibition Amendment Cannot Be Submitted in States Allowing Referendums

Washington—The supreme court has fallen again to decide the validity of the prohibition amendment and portions of the enforcement act and recessed for one week when the present term will close.

Washington—The supreme court has held that federal constitutional amendments cannot be submitted for ratification to a referendum vote in the states having referendum provisions in their constitutions.

Ohio supreme court decrees dismissing injunction proceedings brought by George E. Hawke of Cincinnati to prevent submission of the prohibition amendment and woman suffrage amendments to the voters were set aside by the court.

The court declared imperative the Ohio state constitutional referendum amendment insofar as it affects ratification of federal amendments.

Ohio's legislature ratified the prohibition amendment, but wets succeeded in calling a referendum and the voters decided against national prohibition.

Proceedings were at once started to enable Ohio to withdraw its ratification and the state supreme court in Ohio decided the prohibition referendum was legal.

The court's decision was a hard blow for the wets. Counsel for the liquor men declared that if the supreme court should hold the referendum applied to constitutional amendments it would mean delay of constitutional prohibition legal, there would only be 35 states certified to by Robert Lansing, former secretary of state, as having ratified the 18th amendment.

They contended that if the referendum act was held illegal, there would only be 25 states ratifying prohibition through the secretary of state's proclamation and that it would be unnecessary to issue another proclamation, which would permit saloons to run until it became effective, provided President Wilson lifted the wartime liquor ban.

After a five mile chase the slayer was captured and lodged in the county jail. He is thought to have suffered a relapse from the effect of shell shock received in France in the world war.

Whalen has been acting queerly since an airplane had been flying over this vicinity the last week and it is thought the old war sound had affected his mind.

Altoona, Iowa, Bank Robbed. Altoona, Iowa—The State bank at Altoona was broken into and a number of safety deposit boxes robbed.

Bonillas To Be Free. Mexico City—Ignacio Bonillas, former ambassador to the United States, under arrest since his capture following the murder of Venustiano Carranza, will be liberated immediately, President de la Huerta announced.

Bulgar Bands Attack Train. Constantinople—Bulgarian bands fired upon the Saloniki-Constantinople train near Demotica, in Bulgarian Thrace about 40 miles south of Adrianople. The train was delayed for two hours while Greek troops drove off the bandits and cleared the track of bombs, one of which exploded harmlessly. Adrianople is quiet, but Bulgarian bands are assembling near that city in large numbers and are preparing to resist Greek occupation of the city.

Danger in Empty Gas Tank

Gas, when in liquid form, will not explode. A tank which is practically empty and is full of air will be mixed with a certain amount of gas vapor, so contains a very explosive mixture. It is the empty gas tank that is always dangerous.

Time's Changes in Bisbee

Bisbee, Ariz., where is now heard the honk of the modern automobile, the tick of wrist watches and the wall of silk hose of all colors extending over the tops of $15 shoes, was entirely different 16 years ago, reminisces a writer in the Review of Bisbee. Then the hard-working miner had to struggle for hours to get a seat at a poker table or a "look in" at a faro game.

Main street was once one of the liveliest thoroughfares in the western hemisphere, saloons, gilded and otherwise, having been the honored business enterprises which lined both sides of the street. If anybody had predicted that a street railway would at some future time run through the center of Main street, or that it would some day become as dry and arid as the Sahara and Gobi deserts, he would immediately have been taken before a lunacy commission.

Too Much Ceremony

The battalion was resting beside the road toward the end of its 16-mile hike. After the weary marchers had eased their packs and sipped from their nearly empty canteens, they watched dispiritedly the energetic setting-up exercises being gone through by a strange outfit in a nearby field.

"What's that there gang?" inquired Private Hanks of Oklahoma without enthusiasm. "Infantry candidates' school," replied the corporal.

"Candidates' Infantry candidates!" exploded Hanks. "My good gosh! Do you have to make application and be initiated to get into this mess nowadays?"—The Home Sector.

Sculptors in the Doldrums

According to American Art News, the sculptors complain that there is little work at present in their line of endeavor, and even the leading men are "waiting." The commemorative war statues and patriotic groups that were to decorate cities, towns and cemeteries have not thus far materialized. The unsettled conditions of the country, they contend, which are holding up building, are accountable for the present "doldrums."

No Wonder He's Crazy

"This poor fellow is in a terrible condition," said the visitor. "Yes," replied the asylum attendant, "He's the most violent patient we have in this ward."

"What caused him to lose his mind?" "He tried to figure out some way to harness the energy that was going to waste in tango parlors."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

SELLS LAMB BY PARCEL POST

California Man Finds New Way to Reduce the High Cost of Living.

Carbon, Cal.—By distributing the product of his flock through the mail, Lincoln Braden has found a new way to reduce the high cost of living and to dispose of his lamb crop at a profit.

In describing his novel business, Mr. Braden says: "In the first place the lambs should be fat, and the fat should be put on quickly, through the use of the widest variety of feeds. They must be butchered right—that is, 'case-skinned'—and neither the hands nor the wool should touch the carcass while it is still warm. The kidneys should be removed in warm weather.

"I split the carcass down the middle with a saw and divide the halves into quarters, leaving two short ribs on the hind quarter. Wrap the meat in white cloth, then in paper and then in cellophane. I use a return shipping tag and the customers may return the wrapping in good condition. If they do not, I charge them up with it at the end of the month.

"I send meat 85 miles by auto stage, but cannot, as a rule, supply the local demand, so keep close to home. Our trade developed out of our custom of taking a roast leg-of-mutton to picnics or to celebrations on the Fourth of July or other holidays. I know how to dress the meat and my wife knows how to cook it."

Reduce The High Cost Living

You can beat the high cost of living by trading at our store. Many stores, jobbers and manufacturers throughout the country can reduce their prices from 20 to 30 per cent and still not be down to where our regular prices are today. Besides we close out a good many odd lots of goods way below the market price. For instance—we have placed upon one of our tables about 50 men's Slipon raincoats at $4.00 to $10.00. About 50 pair girls' an misses' shoes at $1.95. About 50 pair boys' outing shoes at $1.75. About 50 pair men's dress shoes at $3.00 to $6.50. Children's brown duck coveralls at $1.95. Every article in our store is fairly and reasonably priced and only dependable merchandise sold.
