

STILL FOUND NEAR PIERZ--ARREST TWO

JOHN BARES AND SON HELD TO FEDERAL GRAND JURY--GAB SEIZED

Extending their activities to the eastern part of the county, federal agents on Monday arrested John Bares of Pierz, for the illicit manufacture of liquor, and his son, John Bares, Jr., of St. Cloud, for having illicit liquor in his possession. Twenty gallons of moonshine, 105 gallons of mash, a five gallon still and a new Grant Six automobile were confiscated. The men were brought to Little Falls and taken before U. S. Commissioner D. M. Cameron late Monday afternoon for a hearing. They waived examination and were bound over to the federal grand jury and were released upon furnishing $500 bonds each.

According to the agents, the still found on the place, had a capacity of five gallons per day. Three different kinds of mash, corn, potato and raisin, were found. They said that the prisoners sought to bribe them for their release.

The younger Bares was visiting at his father's home at the time of the raid. The agents found five pints of moonshine in his Grant car. He denied knowledge of the presence of the liquor in the car, expressing the belief that it was placed there by the children in his father's home as a present.

NIGHT SCHOOL SESSIONS FOR PUBLIC

Evening sessions of the public schools in this city will be held on Monday evening, April 11, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock, for the purpose of giving the people of Little Falls an opportunity to observe the method of instruction. There will be no programs. The regular school work will be taken up and gone through in the usual manner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bergquist entertained the Professional Five Hundred club at their home Tuesday evening.

Examinations for the position of rural carrier to fill vacancies at Pierz and possible later vacancies on other routes in the county, will be held on April 23. Application blanks and other information can be secured from the local civil service officer at the Little Falls postoffice.

The new officers of the Mississippi River Scenic Highway are as follows: C. M. Lightfoot, President, St. Louis, Mo.; Hon. F. L. Matthews, Dominion, President, Fort Arthur, Canada; Frank Pierson, General Manager, Minneapolis, Minn.; Theo. F. Averkamp, Treasurer, Quincy, Ill.; Thos. A. Scherer, General Counsel, Quincy, Ill.; J. C. Van Hal, Jr., General Secretary, Clinton, Iowa; B. M. Pierson, Assistant Secretary, Minneapolis. Hon. J. B. Meyers of Minneapolis is a vice president, at large, R. E. Carnes of Boylston, state vice president and H. E. Harts of Lead Prairie is a state director from Minnesota.

REPORT SHOWS CITY WATER SANITARY BUT NOT SAFE

In a report of the analysis of the local water supply, sent to the city clerk here, the assistant engineer of the state board of health states that the sanitary aspect of the supply is unsatisfactory for the reason that contamination may reach the water supply through several cross-connections. One of these cross-connections is located in the plant and another is at the Hennepin paper mill. Removal of the cross-connections between the municipal system and any private supply system is recommended; also the installation of a filtration plant and the establishing of a laboratory here under control of the city for the examination of the water at frequent intervals.

Bacteriological examination of samples taken at various places in the city show the water to be of good sanitary quality, as evidenced by the low bacteriological count, the report states. It goes on to say, however, that the absence of indications of contamination in the water does not mean that the supply is safe as the field survey shows avenues through which contamination can enter at any time.

$25.00 REWARD

Sometime ago, someone shot through the window in school district 37, breaking four panes. This matter was passed, but as some vandal entered the school Saturday night, March 19, or the Sunday following, and broke the glass in the book case, the school district will pay a $25.00 reward for information of who committed the vandalism. V. CIMENSKI, Clerk Dist. 37--5-6.

Earth is Slowing Down.

Happily for our convenience, the process is extremely slow, but all the same the fact is that the days are getting longer. This does not refer to hours or daylight increasing with the advancing year, but to days as timed by the revolution of the earth on its axis.

The earth's power of rotation, says a writer in the Popular Science Monthly, is growing weaker and as a result its revolution on its axis is slowing up. Which means, of course, that the day is lengthening.

An epoch must eventually arrive when the day will be equal in length to the year; that is, to the time it takes for us to revolve about the sun. Then the earth will always turn the same face toward the solar luminary, just as the moon now always turns the same face toward us, and one-half of our planet will have sunshine all the year, while the other half is in total and permanent darkness.

That is, if the sun still is shining. It may become a dim and chilly orb before then.

Plant Impales Insects.

There is in Cuba a curious grass, Cenchrus echinatus, which bristles with tiny sharp-pointed spikelets upon which multitudes of insects are impaled by night as well as by day. The wings of the victims are pierced and entangled by the barbed spines, so that the most of them are unable to get away, and thus perish miserably.

Even a large, luminous snapping beetle, which is so strong and active that it can with difficulty be held in the hands, falls a victim to these vegetable bayonets. It has been observed, however, that two species of insects, a large bug, oebalus, and an earwig, readily free themselves from the spines. Minute insects are not caught. The grass does not appear to derive any nourishment from its prey. It is found elsewhere in the West Indies and in southern Florida.

Hebrides Not All Gloom.

Occasionally there is a sun in the Hebrides, writes a traveler. Then the Highlander sees beauty. The wild coast grass a brown-green, its seabirds a snowy white, and the ocean with its innumerable waves sparkling blue. And on summer nights, when the fishermen go forth, the phosphorescent glow offers a splendid sight. "A stream of fire ran off each side from the bows," says MacCulloch, "and the ripple of the wake was spangled with the glowworms of the deep. Every oar dropped diamonds, every fishing line was a line of light, the iron cable went down in a torrent of flame, and the plunge of the anchor resembled an explosion of lightning."

Mrs. Louis Plumondore of Hillyard, Wash., is here visiting her sister, Mrs. C. B. Chouard. This is their first visit in fifteen years.

The Carleton glee club stopped off in Little Falls Tuesday morning, enroute to Crosby from Owatonna. While here, they were guests of local people at a dinner at the Hotel Buchanan. The glee club was to have appeared here last Monday evening but through some mistake nothing was known of it here until a few days before, when it was too late to arrange for it and get the concert advertised.
