BOWLUS
 Bowlus Advance, April (28).—J. M. Heisick says that the stories of killing quack grass that are being published in Farm, Stock & Home agree with his own experience. He had a 6-acre patch of the nuisance on his place that he seeded to rye in 1919. As soon as the rye was off in 1920, he plowed it shallow, and during the fall, he double-disked it twice, and just before freezing up, plowed it quite deep. In the spring of 1921, he plowed it again and planted potatoes on the patch and cultivated them carefully. The land is a heavy black loam on a clay subsoil. It would be difficult to find any quack grass on it now.
 The marriage of Mr. Roman Trettel and Miss Mary Scholonska was solemnized at the Catholic church in Royalton last Tuesday morning at 9:30 by Monsignor Plachta.

 The bride was attired in a handsome dress of blue crepe de chine and wore a veil and wreath and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Rose Scholonska, who was attractively attired in lilac organdy.
 A wedding celebration was enjoyed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scholonska near the Mississippi, and in the evening, a large number of the young folks gathered at the hall here and had a good time at a free wedding dance.
 The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Trettel of this village and owns a nice farm south of here, where he and his bride will make their home.
 Stanley Woznak and his sister Martha, and Martin Biros drove to Silver Lake Sunday morning for a visit at the Woznak homestead. On their way back Monday, their car was overturned just this side of Sartell and Biros got his right collarbone broken, but the others escaped injury.
 Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peks entertained the stork last Sunday. The visitor left them a nice new daughter.
 The village council has hired Mr. Riedel as marshal for a month till speed fends get the spring fever out of their blood.
 A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Oldakowski of Swan River Thursday, April 20.
 Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Surma are the parents of a fine son, their second, born Thursday, April 20.
 Geo. Pierzina is having his implement office fixed up like a million dollars. Schneider Bros. put in a cement floor for him and J. J. Zwack is lining it with wall board and finishing it inside.
 Anton Klosski has rented his farm in Swan River to his neighbor Math Filula and held an auction Wednesday to dispose of his personal property. Mr. Klosski plans to go on road work somewhere.

 Last Monday evening, while Mr. Raelcot and the band boys were busy imitating Sousa, the bandroom door quietly swung open and a company of handsome and smiling ladies walked in. It made the bandmen stutter for a second, but as soon as they discovered that the visitors were all from Bowlin and members of the Busy Bee Club, they gave them a welcome with a rousing selection. The ladies enjoyed the band practice for a while and then Mrs. Schaefer as president of the club presented the band with a check for one hundred dollars to help out on expenses. J. P. Haehn on behalf of the band accepted the check with thanks. Then the band played another piece, the ladies went home, and things were quiet again.
 Pretty nice, eh?

RADIO
MARCONI REALLY FATHER OF RADIO
Story of the Gifted Italian's Work in Development of Air Communication.

While experiments along the line of radio really started as far back as 1827 and hundreds of scientists were interested in solving the problems involved for many years, it was not until 1896 when Senator Guglielmo Marconi took out his first patent that the mastery of air communication got its first great impetus. His life history is to all practical intents the history of radio communication.

Senator Guglielmo Marconi, G. C. V. O., L. L. D., D-Sc. M. I. E. E., was born in Bologna, Italy, April 25, 1874. His mother was Irish, while his father was of a family whose mechanical ability was marked. After an education at Leghorn and Bologna, the young man interested himself in the problem of wireless telegraphy, starting his research in 1895. He went to England and in 1896 took out the first patent ever granted for a practical system of wireless telegraphy, by the use of electric waves. His early experiments in England were made at Westbourne Park. Shortly afterward Marconi saw W. H. Preece and at his request made some experiments for officials of the postoffice. Some further experiments were made in May, 1897, in the Bristol channel, wireless communication being established between Lavernock and Bream Down, a distance of nine miles.

On the invitation of the Italian government Marconi afterward went to Spezia where a land station was erected, which was kept in constant communication with two Italian battleships working from a distance of 12 miles. For this success the Italian government conferred upon Marconi the honor of knighthood. After a return to England further experiments were conducted and on July 20, 1897, the first radio company was formed and two permanent stations erected. In 1898 wireless reports of yacht races in Kingston were made and proved the usefulness and adaptability to which the system lends itself to commercial purposes. In December, 1898, Marconi installed apparatus to provide communication between the South Foreland lighthouse and a lighthouse on the south coast. In 1899 Marconi read a paper on "Wireless Telegraphy" before the Institution of Electrical Engineers in London.

 Early in 1901 telegraphic communication was established between two points more than 250 miles distant and at the end of that year Marconi transmitted signals from Poldhu, in Cornwall to St. Johns, Newfoundland. In 1902 he received on board the steamship Philadelphia in the presence of the officers, good messages on the tape when at a distance of over 1,500 miles from the transmitting station and signals at over 2,000 miles. In December, 1902, the station established at Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, under a contract with the Canadian government for transatlantic wireless telegraphy, was put into communication with the Cornwall station at Poldhu and inaugural messages were transmitted to the King of England, the King of Italy and to the London Times. In October, 1903, the steamship Lucentia published a daily wireless bulletin from messages received from the Marconi stations. A powerful station at Clifden on the west coast of Ireland was opened early in 1907 for the establishment of commercial relations with the American continent at Glace Bay.
 Mr. Marconi's work has been recognized by many governments and seats of learning; he has been decorated by the King of Italy and the late ex-Czar of Russia as an honorary doctor of many universities, including Oxford, Glasgow, Aberdeen, Liverpool and Pennsylvania, besides having received the freedom of the principal Italian cities. In 1914 he was elected a senator in the Italian parliament. He also holds many scientific awards granted by various societies and institutions.
 Upon the declaration of war by Italy, Senator Marconi placed his services at the disposal of King Victor and was given the rank of lieutenant in the Italian army. He was employed on important military missions to England by the Italian government and after this service was transferred as temporary commander in the Italian navy. Marconi visited the United States in 1917 as member of the official mission sent by Italy. In 1919 Marconi was appointed plenipotentiary delegate to the peace conference at Paris, and in this capacity signed the peace treaties with Austria and Bulgaria. He was afterward awarded the Italian military cross.

This very important figure in the wireless world, who has received about all the honors possible for the scientific world to bestow upon him, including the Nobel prize, has not given up active work, but is even now engaged in radio telephone experiments.

Radio enthusiasts have increased tenfold within the last few months, it appears from a survey conducted by the Associated Press and covering the central west, Kentucky and Texas. At virtually all points from which reports have been received, there are thousands of radio sets, particularly for purposes of telephony, where at most there were hundreds before.
 While the sets are used chiefly for pleasure and experience, they are being put to practical uses in many cases. Numerous farmers are receiving market and weather reports, and police are receiving bulletins. Sermons, concerts, health talks and style talks are transmitted. Universities and professional operators are co-operating.

 Approximate figures are reported from various states and centers indicating the present number of radio sets. According to A. L. Benson of St. Louis, division manager of the American Radio Relay league, about 90,000 radiophones are used in four states as follows: Iowa, 23,000; Missouri, 25,000; Nebraska, 22,000; Kansas, 20,000. In St. Louis alone there are some 2,200. The radiophones chiefly carry concert music, but in many localities farmers have installed them to receive market reports.
 Correspondence from Texas reports 263 stations in Dallas, ranging in size from 1/4 K. W. to 20 watts, and almost equal numbers in other cities of the state.
 Cleveland, Ohio, reports probably 15,000 radio enthusiasts, 1,000 sending stations in greater Cleveland, virtually all amateur, and 10,000 receiving sets used almost nightly. These estimates exclude commercial sets. Cincinnati reports 500 sets.
 Indiana has 4,500 amateur radio sets and Indianapolis has 1,000 radiophones. Wisconsin has nearly 1,500 stations, and the number is said by Malcolm P. Hanson, University of Wisconsin operator, to be increasing at the rate of five a day. Nearly 1,000 sets are reported in Milwaukee and vicinity.
 North Dakota has a number of receiving stations and a few fairly powerful telegraph and telephone sending stations. The North Dakota Agricultural college is planning to install a 100-watt service for farmers. The vacuum tube is displacing older equipment in the state.
 Marked growth is reported at Omaha, Neb., by two radio clubs, which have been in existence only six months. The University of Nebraska and Nebraska Wesleyan, co-operating, send to amateurs in Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Colorado and Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Moran and daughter Ella and son Ovid, were visitors Friday evening, at the Ben May home.

A traveling salesman made his appearance in this community Tuesday and Wednesday. He was selling batteries for telephones and repairing if necessary. He did good service to telephones in Belle Prairie.

H. C. Snow of Park Rapids was in Little Falls on business Friday. A golf club is being formed at Park Rapids and while here, he looked over the local golf links to get some ideas as to the layout of the course.

BELLE PRAIRIE
 May 1.—The road crew has completed laying the road east of school district No. 122 and Monday they put sand on top, so as to have a better road bed after a rain.
 John Forcier and Fred May were passengers to Mapletown, N. D., last Wednesday. He was accompanied back by his son Eric, Thursday, who was working for Gardner Farm Company at that place.
 The dance given at Gilbert Waite's was well attended. Everybody reported a good time and supper was served at midnight.
