

ELKS HELD FLAG DAY EXERCISES

JUDGE BALDWIN OF MINNEAPOLIS DELIVERED FINE PATRIOTIC ADDRESS

Flag day was properly observed by the Little Falls Elks lodge Wednesday evening with public exercises at the high school auditorium, which were attended by a small crowd. Hon. Mathias Baldwin, municipal judge in Minneapolis and past exalted ruler of the Minneapolis Elks lodge, was the principal speaker and he gave a fine address on the significance of flag day and of allegiance to the flag.

The services opened with a selection by Falk's orchestra and invocation by Rev. Bacon. Exalted Ruler H. B. Smoots conducted the ritual service, assisted by the other officers of the Elks lodge. The history of the American flag was given by Dr. S. R. Fortier and Rev. A. C. Bacon read the Elks "Tribute to the Flag." Miss Elvira Ruth gave a reading "A Tribute to the Flag," written by Lawrence Hodgson of St. Paul, "Larry Ho."

Two musical numbers were interspersed, a selection by a trio composed of Richard Meyers, Chester Tanner and Carroll Brown and a selection by the Falk orchestra.

Judge Baldwin first spoke on the significance of flag day, pointing out that with the Elks the observance of this day is a part of the services, a part of the ritual and a part of the members' obligations. "We observe this day," the judge said, "because we want it to remain true; to strengthen our hope in this country and to strengthen the hopes of others who come to these exercises, not only by what is said, but by perpetuating the memory of those who defended the flag in time of danger and who kept it from falling from the pole; and to insure the permanence of our flag. The judge said that sometimes it seems harder for us to defend the flag than it was for those who have gone before. All things must die and nations seem to be much the same. The lesson which we are to learn from this is to look back in the pages of history and find what happened to the great countries of the past. Men have dug down and found records of nations that were great, who were as greatly advanced as this nation is. Every one of them in turn were taken from the face of the earth. Not one of the great nations which have risen without before it had been weakened from within. There is a force that the training of soldiers cannot overcome. Nations are much like men—they get sick. A man's hand may be torn to bits and the surgeon can take it off and save the man but if the poison from the hand gets into the blood, he cannot reach and the man dies. And so it is with nations. The enemy which we can see, which is localized, we may be able to drive back, but the enemy that we cannot find is the enemy that is in our own hearts and which seeks to destroy our government by leading us to those who seek their own selfish purposes. These are the only enemies that can take the lustre from the stars in our flag.

Going back to the Revolutionary war and then looking down the line through the War of 1812, the Mexican war, the Civil war, the Spanish-American war, and the late World war, to the present we see the flag stand through it all, possessed with a soul and a life that gives complacency to all under it. The flag speaks to us of duty and it seems to take on the spirit of its environment. It has been seen sometimes on the street, held there because it had to be, alongside of a red flag, but drooping with shame. It has been seen in the hands of the little children, where it seemed to speak a message of hope and of promise. It was seen in the long columns of boys who went to defend the country in the late war and there it seemed to tug and strain, proud of its mission and its six or six years ago, carried by the boys in blue, now old men, who saved the nation from the internal enemy, slavery. That flag seems to call to us in times of peace as well as in war to defend it. Thus far it has weathered all storms and the danger of its destruction is not from without but from within, from the poison that comes from the hands of the selfish. Let us seek not its destruction but its survival and on indefinitely, not only for the people of this land but until its beneficence reaches all the people of the world.

The exercises closed with the singing of "America" by an audience and a selection by the orchestra.

HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT LEAVES TOMORROW

Miss Susan Hough, who has been home demonstration agent for the Morrison County Farm Bureau Association for the last four years, has resigned her position and will leave tomorrow for St. Paul for a brief visit with her parents. The first of July Miss Hough and a sister will leave for New York City to attend the summer session at Columbia university.

Miss Hough came here in June, 1918 to take up the duties of home demonstration agent for the county. She has been very successful in her work and wherever she has conducted classes in home economics the people have been highly pleased and they regret the loss of her services as well as the loss of a real friend.

At present Miss Hough has no plans for the future beyond the summer school, although she expects to continue the same kind of work and the course at Columbia university is for the purpose of better fitting herself for it. She has had several attractive offers, including one as demonstration agent at Bemidji, but she would not accept them.

The many friends of Miss Hough in Little Falls and throughout the county regret her departure and hope that ere long she will return here to resume the work which she so ably got under way.

W. H. Ryan leaves today for Minneapolis to attend the annual meeting tomorrow of the Minnesota Retail Hardware Men's Mutual Insurance Company, of which he is a director. From there he will go to Chicago to attend the annual convention of the national hardware dealers' convention as a delegate from Minnesota.

SON CONFESSES TO KILLING HIS FATHER

DISAGREEMENT OVER USE OF AUTOMOBILE CAUSE OF 17-YEAR-OLD BOY'S ACT

St. Cloud, Minn., June 13.—Jacob Steller, 17 years old, confessed today, according to County Attorney Paul Ahles, that he killed his father, Thomas Steller, 45 years old, prominent farmer of Brockway, ten miles northwest of St. Cloud.

The body was found today buried in a lonely spot a half mile from the Steller home.

The senior Steller disappeared Sunday and his son organized and led a searching party that sought him without avail.

Held Without Charge
The youth at first said the killing was accidental, but tonight admitted that he shot his father intentionally, according to the county attorney.

"I pointed the gun at his head," the lad is alleged to have told the authorities. "I am glad that he is dead."

A coroner's jury was sworn in tonight and witnessed a post mortem examination of the body. The boy is being held at the city jail without charge.

Young Steller showed no emotion when detailing his father's death to the county attorney and other officers. He had dug the body from the grave in which he had interred it.

The body of the elder Steller was taken to Holdingford tonight, for interment.

"Trouble" in Family
Neighbors reported to the county attorney that young Steller had threatened to "get" his father and that the young man is said to have admitted, but not in the meaning of killing him.

Trouble in the family between father and son is declared to be of long standing, but it has never been considered of a serious nature.

St. Cloud Times, (June 14).—The coroner's jury called to investigate the murder of Thomas Steller of Brockway, returned a verdict at 12:30 p. m., today accusing Jacob Steller, the murdered man's 17 year old son with the crime.

The verdict read that Thomas Steller was killed by the "intentional" firing of a 12 gauge shotgun held in the hands of the son. The testimony at the inquest showed that the murder was committed in a lonely wood on the edge of a swamp a half mile from the Steller home.

The killing followed an argument regarding the use of the Steller automobile.

Steller will be up for arraignment in justice court tomorrow morning. County Attorney Paul Ahles stated this afternoon. He will then be taken before Judge Koeser, judge of juvenile court, where the charge will be read. He will be arraigned and if preliminary hearing is waived will be bound over to the district court.

The trial will not come up before the December term in district court. Because of his youth, Attorney Ahles said, he will be sent to the reformatory if found guilty.

SHOULD VOTE YOUR PARTY BALLOT

OPEN TO PERJURY CHARGE UNLESS PARTY AFFILIATION HAS BEEN CHANGED

Although voters who cast ballots at the delegate election March 14, may vote another party ticket at the June primaries, they are liable in some instances to prosecution for perjury, according to an opinion issued Tuesday by Attorney General C. L. Hilton to Henry N. Knott, Minneapolis city clerk.

The opinion was written by Rollin L. Smith, assistant attorney general, in reply to Mr. Knott's inquiry whether or not a person voting at the June 19 primary election, must vote the ballot of the same political party he voted at the March 14 delegate election.

"Categorically, this inquiry is answered in the negative," the opinion reads: "The situation is the same as it was at the 1920 primary election except that the election boards will have before them a register on which some of the registered electors are recorded as having voted the ballot of the party designated at the preceding delegate election," the opinion continues.

"In the light of this information, the judges may question a person seeking to vote more intelligently. If, for instance, it appears that a person voted a Republican ballot at the primary election he may be reminded by the judges that he voted the ballot of a different party at the delegate election and he may be asked, if, in fact, he has changed his party affiliations and when the change took place.

Voter Must Take Oath
"If, after being questioned, he takes the oath required, he is entitled to the ballot of the party named by him, regardless of how he voted at the delegate election."

The information recorded on the register as to the party voted by in some instances, furnish evidence on which a prosecution for perjury could be successfully maintained the opinion concludes.

Fourth St. Sewer in Bad Shape

Three blocks of sewer on Fourth street northeast may have to be relaid and the size of the sewer enlarged, it was brought out at the council meeting Monday evening. The present sewer, put in about 30 years ago, has been causing trouble ever since and lately the condition of the sewer has reached the point where it is endangering the health of the people, sewage backing up into basements.

B. L. Nichols and H. Chelling complained about the sewer frequently clogging up. They were told that an effort had been made to remedy the condition but on account of the sewer being used heavily, little could be accomplished. The street commissioner was instructed to stop service along the route of the sewer long enough to fix it. Mr. Nichols inquired whether any permanent relief could be obtained. Engineer Kelly stated that evidently the sewer was not laid right and the only permanent remedy would be a new sewer. He advised replacing the present 8-inch sewer with a 10-inch sewer from Broadway to Fourth avenue.

The engineer was instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost of relaying this sewer, and the city clerk was asked to circulate a petition for same.

Jos. Moelein appeared and asked the council to put a roof on the down town band stand. He explained that at present if a shower comes up during a concert the band has to stop. The building committee was instructed to get an estimate of the cost of putting on a roof on the stand and screening it and report at the next meeting.

A new petition was presented asking for a sewer on Fourth street southeast from Broadway to Fourth avenue to connect with the trunk sewer on Third street southwest. The petition was referred to the city clerk to be checked as to form, he to report at the next meeting.

Engineer Kelly submitted an estimate of the cost of a block of 15-inch sewer on Broadway west from Fourth to Third street. The total estimated cost was $913.60, or $24.00 per running foot.

Council adjourned to June 19.

LITTLE FALLS WILL CELEBRATE FOURTH

PROGRAM OF PATRIOTIC EXERCISES, SPORTS AND FIREWORKS IS PLANNED

Little Falls is going to celebrate July Fourth with a patriotic program in the morning, a program of sports in the afternoon and a pavement dance and fireworks in the evening. At a mass meeting held in the city hall last Friday evening all favored a celebration and initial steps were taken to put it on.

Contingents of those present seemed to be that any program of sports that might be put on should be one for children under sixteen years to participate in, as this is one day of the year that the kiddies look forward to. It was decided to hold the patriotic program in Pine Grove park and the sports downtown.

On motion by Chas. Sylvester, it was voted to have the chairman, Mayor Berghelm, appoint a citizens' committee of three and to ask the American Legion commander and the exalted ruler of the Elks to appoint a committee of three each, these three committees to work out plans for a celebration and to appoint such sub-committees as they deemed necessary. O. I. Berlie, Chas. Sylvester and Julius Jetka were appointed on the citizen's committee; Frank Kiewel, Alvah Ashcraft and Chas. Moelein on the Elks committee and L. BOY DROWNED IN LITTLE ELK RIVER

FREDERICK OLANDER JOHNSON, 9 YEARS OLD, LOST LIFE WHILE FISHING

Frederick Olander Johnson, 9 years old, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Johnson of Pike Creek township, was drowned in the Little Elk river, two miles north of Little Falls, some time Monday, while fishing.

The young boy left home alone Monday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock to go fishing. His absence caused no concern to his parents during the day as they thought he was at a neighbor's but when he failed to return home at supper time they became anxious and a search was started. The boy's hat was found in an eddy in the Little Elk river a short distance below the bridge, also the fish pole, and a can of bait was found on the north shore, on a rock ledge. In about five feet of water, just off this ledge, the body was found, the boy evidently losing his balance and falling in. Del Batters of this city, who went up there with grappling hooks and poles, located the body at about 5 o'clock in the evening.

Efforts at resuscitation proved futile and it was believed the boy had been in the water for several hours.

The funeral was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from Bethel Lutheran church of this city. Rev. C. E. Sholander officiating. Interment was in Oakland cemetery.
