

THE L. F., M. L. & S. L. S. R. R.

A Surveying Party to be Put in the Field Next Week.

Hon. J. C. Flynn, president of the Little Falls, Mill Lake & Lake Superior Railroad company, informs us that the survey of that proposed line of road will begin in a few days. A party of engineers from St. Paul will have charge of the work. Parties in St. Paul who are interested in the railroad development of the northwest will be interested with Mr. Flynn and the other local officers in the survey, and the plan of a new road from this section of country to the head of Lake Superior is looked upon very favorably. An excellent farming country for 30 miles east of Little Falls would be supplied with railroad facilities by this line, and it would also penetrate the extensive pine and hard wood timber districts in the country beyond Rich Prairie. It will be attempted to get a practical route for this line by running near Gravelville on the south, through Rich Prairie's business settlement, around the southern point of Mill Lake, and thence as direct as possible to the head of Lake Superior. While there is but little doubt that the above road will be built some time, its early construction will depend on the commercial needs of the country tributary. The improvement of the water power at this place will not only hasten the construction of this road, but will insure beyond a doubt that it will be built in a few years—possibly sooner than any one now expects.

St. Cloud Times: Bridgeman's boom.

Just below the dam, gave away Saturday evening about 10 o'clock, owing to the pressure of the logs and everything passed through. About 1,000,000 feet of logs were in the boom at the time it broke.

EFFECT ON TAXATION.

How the County Bonds Will Effect Your Taxes.

The valuation of the county last year was $2,078,232. The annual interest on the $25,000 county bonds will be $1,250. At the above valuation it will be a tax of six-tenths of one mill on a dollar, 6 cents on a valuation of $100, or 60 cents on an assessed valuation of $1,000. Figure on that and see how small will be the annual cost of your bonds. For every $1,000 you are assessed you will pay a tax of 60 cents. These figures about the last assessed valuation of the county. It is certain that the improvements will greatly increase the valuation of all real estate for a long distance from the water power, thus adding a large amount to the assessed valuation of the county. Of course the larger the assessed valuation the smaller will be the rate of taxation necessary to raise the $1,250 interest. It is very likely that the improvements will cause such an increase in valuation that the assessment in 1888 will reach $3,000,000. At such a valuation the rate necessary to raise the interest would be about four-tenths of a mill, or 40 cents on $1,000. Not only would the tax rate for the bond interest grow less, but so would the rate for all county taxes, as is always the case with a county whose assessed valuation is large.

Property that is situated a long distance from Little Falls, and receives the least benefit from the improvements would have a much smaller proportion of all county expenses to bear than at present, and this decrease would more than overbalance the tax for county bond interest. So if your land is not increased in value you will be relieved of a considerable part of the county tax you now pay. But a large part of the county will be directly and largely increased in value and owners of this property will certainly not feel the slight tax imposed by the county bonds that provided for the improvements which caused the increase. In no light that it can be viewed is there any reason to believe that the county bonds can prove a burden to any taxpayer. Giving the $25,000 by county for the dam is making an investment which will more than repay the cost in increased taxable valuation.

Carry the taxation figures into the not distant future, say six years ahead, when the result will be many saw mills, factories, flour mills and other manufactures at this place, and railroads from the south, east and west traversing the county to reach Little Falls, and then consider how much the benefits to be realized overbalance the taxing cost.

Work on the Dam to Commence as Soon as the Bonds are Voted.

Thos. P. Shanks, C. E., of Leaside, Ky., the engineer who arrived in town to represent the Louisville capitalists, is now making surveys of the Water Power property at this place and getting ready for active operations. It is the agreement to begin work on the improvements within 10 days after the bonds are voted and it is possible with good workmanship. All the plans and preparations will be ready for immediate action. Mr. Shanks says that at least 500 men will be employed this summer and fall on the work on the dam, canal, etc. He is greatly pleased with the advantageous site for improvements of the best and most substantial character. It is the desire of his employers, who furnish the Water Power Co. with the large amount of money to make improvements, to have the work pushed with the utmost energy.

Fair Words from Royalton on the Bond Question.

From the Royalton Banner.

It may surprise our local readers a good deal, and we are confident it will surprise our Little Falls readers a great deal more, to understand that the BANNER is unqualifiedly in favor of the County bonding itself in the sum of $25,000 or any other sum or sums whatsoever, to aid in constructing a great water power at Little Falls. It is nevertheless true. We are heartily in favor of it. We are sorry that certain Little Falls gentlemen have deemed it proper to make certain suggestions to us concerning our action on this matter. To our mind there is but one course for any man who has the welfare of the entire County at heart to take, and that is one of hearty support to the scheme, the main body of which has a wonderfully charming appearance, in all its naked glory. The taxation incident to the issuance of the bonds will be so nearly nominal, and the advantages to be derived from an enormous contribution to the prosperity of Little Falls and her property-holders, so many and so great, that we really expect to see at the least but a few hundred votes against their issuance. As for the local interests involved here at Royalton, we can only say that we think it will put those parties most largely interested a little more on their metal to have a little town at Little Falls than we now have, and will only awaken certain public spirited citizens to a speedier action on local enterprises, a consummation devoutly to be wished.

Since the above was put into type we are pleased to state that almost complete revolution has taken place in Royalton sentiment upon this question. In a discussion at a public meeting held in front of Brannan's blacksmith shop yesterday morning, the argument was advanced that if the water power were built Little Falls would be a different town, "more better" in its style of thought, and more potent. There was no answering this argument, and in consequence the BANNER itself in full accord with the sentiment of Bellevue town.

The President has returned to Washington from his fishing trip, but he will not remain there long. He will soon take another pleasure trip; possibly to the West and Northwest.

Gen. T. L. Rosser, the cranky Southerner who has been abusing Gen. Phil Sheridan for doing his duty during the Rebellion, is now in Minneapolis, where he owns a large amount of property.

The wealthy business men of Winona have organized a railroad company and begun building a road southwest from that city.

A man was robbed while riding in a street-car on Fourth street, St. Paul, at 6 o'clock in the evening, the other day. One of the robbers was captured on the spot, and his two accomplices escaped.

The striking carpenters of St. Paul are still out and they were reinforced this week by the other building trades of the city. The brick layers, plasterers, painters, plumbers and gas fitters have struck to compel the employers to accede to the demands of the carpenters.

A HOME MARKET.

The Farmers Will Soon Have Their Prosperity Assured by a Home Market.

No locality in the country is better adapted for diversified farming than Morrison county. The soil readily raises the largest crops of all kinds of cereals, vegetables, abundant meadow land covered with the best of wild grasses, and large tracts of superior grazing lands make it the intelligent farmer's paradise. Why is it, then, that the efforts of the tillers of the soil do not meet with greater financial returns? Simply because there is no adequate home market for the products of the field, the garden and the dairy. What should go to the producer's profits goes to the transportation companies for conveying these products to a market. Of course there are some things that farmers can raise and ship for a long distance at a profit, but they are few indeed compared with the numerous products that cannot be shipped with advantage to market 100 and more miles distant. Wheat yields a small profit to the farmer after paying the expense of shipping thousands of miles, but all our farmers know how little profit there is in that. At present the farmers of Morrison county have no reasonably profitable market for their cattle, hogs, potatoes, corn, oats, vegetables, butter, cheese, poultry, eggs, etc., and from these products would come their largest profits and the foundation for their greatest prosperity if there was an adequate home market to consume them. It is such a market, that every farming community needs, and it is only the more fortunate ones that can hope to have it. Other industries besides farming must be built up in Morrison county to make the farmers as prosperous as they should be, and the farmers themselves should be willing to give reasonable assistance in building up such industries, as they will be the greatest gainers thereby. A manufacturing point anywhere in the county employing a thousand or more men would provide a market for the products of hundreds of farms and such a manufacturing point would increase the profits on every farm within a marketable distance to a wonderful extent. For years every farmer within many miles of Little Falls has looked longingly forward to the time when the great water power in the Mississippi river at this place would be developed, and they have waited and watched in vain—knowing always that its development would add greatly to their prosperity. They knew that the establishing of a great manufacturing center here would provide a home market for all their products; but year after year has passed by without the realization of their hopes. At last the time has arrived when capitalists are ready to make the improvements and build the mills and factories if a reasonable bonus is given by the people who it will assist so much and who have been for years so anxious for it to be done. Bonds to the amount of $100,000 are asked, $25,000 of which the county has authority to give. The tax on each farmer will be so light, compared with the benefits he will receive, that there should be no opposition to the granting of these bonds. It will increase the market value of everything the farmer raises, and the best posted men in the county maintain (we think truthfully) that the county bonds will lessen instead of increase the share of county taxes to be paid by the farming community. If the farmers now desire to see realized what they have hoped for for many years they must vote for the bonds. If the people of this locality let this chance go by the present condition of affairs will exist for years to come. The price for farm products will depend on what some local merchant can afford to pay in goods and then ship to St. Paul, Minneapolis or Duluth, and there profitably compete with the products of nearer farmers. Or if our farmers may haul their products to Brainerd and peddle it out among the citizens of that place, as has been necessary in the past. The certain result of the defeat of the bonds will be no great manufacturing point in the county; no profitable market for the products of the farmers, and consequently none of the otherwise possible great prosperity of the hundreds of farmers of Morrison county. The farmers have their future in their own hands, and can blame no one but themselves if they fail to take advantage of the glorious opportunity offered to insure their welfare and success. Vote for the bonds.

The Pure and the Impure.

The merry little mountain brook, as lightly dances over the rocks and sparkles in the sunshine on its way down to the river, is pure and clean. It is active therefore it is healthy. It is vigorous therefore it resists impurity. But the sluggish pool, where the current is no strong enough to keep the water in motion, is stagnant and foul. Dirt and rubbish are thrown into it, and stay there. Impurities and vile odors make it a breeder of disease and an object to be avoided. When the blood is strong and rich and red, and vigorously courses its accustomed rounds through arteries and veins, the system is hearty and healthy. When the blood is thin and poor and weak, impurities and defilements creep into it, and it has no strength to cast them out. Then the system runs down.
