

ST. CHARLES WOMAN WAS FORTUNATE

It Was a Lucky Day for Mrs. Wietheoelter When She Read About Doan's

"I had such awful cutting pains in the small of my back and hips, I often had to cry out," says Mrs. Ernest Wietheoelter, 550 Madison St., St. Charles, Mo. "The pain was knife-like and I couldn't turn in bed, in fact I was almost helpless. My feet and ankles swelled badly, my hands were puffed up and there were swellings under my eyes. I often got so dizzy I had to sit down to keep from falling and my health was completely broken down. The kidney secretions poured terribly in passage and in spite of all the medicine I took, I kept getting worse until I was a wreck."

"By chance I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some. After I had used half a box there was a change and I continued to improve; the pains, aches and swellings left and my health returned."

Sworn to before me, WM. F. WOLTER, Notary Public. ALMOST TWO YEARS LATER, Mrs. Wietheoelter said: "I think as highly of Doan's as ever. Whenever I have used them, they have benefited me."

SENATE REJECTS PEACE TREATY; QUILTS SINE DIE

Pact Is Dead Unless Resubmitted by President at Next Session.

BITTER BATTLE IS WAGED

Should It Be Sent Back to Body on December 1 There Would Be Great Delay, as Other Legislation Would Hold Precedence.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The treaty of peace with Germany was rejected by the senate. On the final vote taken on the Lodge resolution ratification was refused by the vote of 43 to 51.

The senate then adjourned sine die and, the house having taken similar action earlier in the day, the extra session called by President Wilson to consider the treaty came to an end.

Under the parliamentary maneuvering of the Republican majority the treaty was forced into such a situation that it cannot be again considered unless the president should choose to re-submit it to the senate at the session which opens December 1.

If re-submitted, it will again go to the foreign relations committee, where in all probability it will be held for a long time while railroad legislation and other matters are being considered.

Peace Resolution introduced.

In the meantime, to meet the situation brought about by rejection of the treaty, Senator Lodge introduced just before adjournment a concurrent resolution declaring the war with Germany at an end.

This resolution will be taken up at the beginning of the new session and probably passed.

The defeat of the treaty was brought about by the votes of 38 Democratic and 13 Republican senators. The Republicans who voted against ratification were senators who have been from the very outset of the treaty fight against the document. All of the Democrats except Senator Reed of Missouri were friends of the treaty, but yielded to the request of President Wilson for rejection of the Lodge resolution because of the reservations which it contained.

The Republicans who voted against Senators Borah, Brandegee, Fernald, France, Gronna, John of California, Knox, La Follette, McCormick, Moses, Norris, Poindexter and Sherman.

Democrats who declined to obey the instructions of the president and voted for ratification were Senators Gore, Myers, Owen and Pomerene.

During the long debate that followed, Senators Hitchcock, Swanson and others in the administration following made frantic but fruitless efforts to effect a compromise on the Lodge reservations. They conferred with Senators Lodge, Watson, Lenroot and others, but made no progress, the Lodge forces standing firmly against any attempt to swerve them from the program to which they were committed.

Efforts to Place Blame.

In the speeches that were made while the final vote on the Lodge resolution was pending, senators on both sides made efforts to place the blame for failure to ratify the treaty. Some of the mild reservationists blamed the administration men for not having arrived at the conclusion earlier in the fight that ratification without reservations was impossible and asserted that if they had done so a compromise might have been affected.

In a final effort at conciliation Senator Pomerene at 9:15 p. m. moved to refer the treaty to a "committee on conciliation" consisting of six senators, including Senators Lodge and Hitchcock. This motion was defeated by means of a motion by Senator La Follette to lay it on the table.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia then sought to avert the impending rejection of the treaty by suggesting that the senate adjourn over night so that both sides might get together. This motion was defeated by the vote of 42 to 48.

Original Pact Defeated.

After the second vote on the Lodge resolution showed that the treaty stood no possible chance of ratification, Senator Lodge yielded to a request made by Senator Underwood for a vote on ratification without reservations. This was defeated, 38 to 53.

By making a motion to reconsider this vote and then lay that motion on the table, which was carried, Senator Lodge placed the last barrier against any attempt to bring the treaty again before the senate without action by the president.

The great feature of the day's debate was a speech by Senator Borah of Idaho, which was made at a time when it appeared as though ratification might be accomplished. In his speech the senator warned the senate of the results that would follow departure from the policies of Washington and other founders of the republic. His speech, stirring in its eloquence and forceful in its logic, made a profound impression upon the senate.

Result of First Vote. Ratification of the peace treaty, with the reservations framed by the Republican majority and objected to by President Wilson, was voted down in the senate earlier in the evening, with the administration senators lining up solidly against it.

The ratification resolution, which would have required a two-thirds majority for adoption, mustered only 39 votes to 55 against it. Its supporters were 35 Republicans, 4 Democrats, and its opponents 13 Republicans and 42 Democrats.

A Democratic move to have the treaty referred to a conciliation committee composed of Democrats and Republicans was defeated.

Way Clear for Compromise. The vote cleared the way for the consideration of possible compromise proposals acceptable to the majority of the Democrats and the mild reservation group of Republicans.

Republicans against adoption were: Borah, Brandegee, Fernald, France, Gronna, John of California, Knox, La Follette, McCormick, Moses, Norris, Poindexter and Sherman.

In order to put the treaty into a parliamentary situation where another vote could be had after efforts at compromise the senate then voted to reconsider its action. The motion was made by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, and was adopted by the vote of the Democrats and mild reservation Republicans.

The vote on the motion to reconsider was 62 to 30. The effect of the reconsideration was merely to bring the committee resolution back to the same status it occupied before the ratification roll call.

An effort by Democratic Leader Hitchcock to have the senate adjourn at this stage failed, the mild reservationists lining up with the other Republicans against the adjournment motion, which was defeated, 51 to 42.

Lodge Blocks Hitchcock. Senator Hitchcock sought to offer a set of compromise reservations, but a point of order by Republican Leader Lodge blocked him.

Vice President Marshall ruled that the reservations were in order and that the treaty, by the reconsideration, had been brought back into committee of the whole. Senator Lodge appealed from the ruling.

By a party vote of 51 to 42 the decision of the chair was overruled. The vote having established that the treaty was in the senate itself and not in a committee of the whole Senator Hitchcock offered a resolution of unreserved ratification, against which Senator Poindexter (Rep.) of Washington made a point of order. The vice president overruled the objection and an appeal again was taken.

The senate again overruled the vice president.

Amendments Are Passed. By a vote of 50 to 43 the senate a third time overruled the chair's ruling that amendments to the Lodge reservation might be presented. Senator McCumber (Rep.) North Dakota, voted with the Democrats to sustain the vice president, and Senators Gore, Reed and Shields voted with the Republicans against it.

Senator McCumber moved to strike out the requirement that the reservations must be accepted by other powers. Senator Lodge made a point of order, which Vice President Marshall overruled, and another appeal to the senate was taken.

With the same lineup as before the senate again overruled the vice president's ruling, thus cutting off the McCumber motion. The vote was 50 to 43.

Still Alive, Says Hitchcock. Senator Hitchcock said, following the senate's adjournment, that the action of that body on the treaty has not killed it, and that he expects it will be re-submitted to congress by the president at the next session.

"The president can send it back," declared Senator Hitchcock. "I do not, however, know what course he will follow. I have not discussed that with him, and have not been in communication with the president since the action taken by the senate."

Senator Lodge considers the treaty dead, as was shown by his reply when asked his opinion of the present status of the treaty. He said: "It is dead in this senate. They killed it, just as I told them they would if they voted against it."

Senator Lodge did not deny, however, that the president has the power to re-submit the covenant.

Knew What He Was About. A member of a national medical association tells the following story at the expense of a physician:

"Are you sure," an anxious patient once asked, "are you sure that I shall recover? I have heard that doctors have sometimes given wrong diagnoses and treated a patient for pneumonia who afterward died of typhoid fever."

"You have been woefully misinformed," replied the physician, indignantly. "If I treat a man for pneumonia, he dies of pneumonia."—Harper's.

Russian Villages Prey of Fire. The Russian village is built principally of wood and roofed with wood, or with straw and stones. This seems improbable, but it is reliable information.

SAVED HER LIFE

Morrison, Iowa.—"Dr. Pierce's remedies and the professional advice received from the specialists at Dr. F. J. P. H. Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. (which I followed to the letter) saved my life when I was a girl and I have had cause to feel grateful for more than forty years. When I was about sixteen years of age I fell from my horse and was terribly injured internally. A short time after this an immense bunch formed to lance and consequently my entire system was poisoned. I not only became terribly emaciated but my body was a mass of running sores and my right limb drew up under me and became helpless. I was in bed for more than six months and all hope for my recovery had been given up when someone told me of Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, where they not only manufactured some wonderful remedies but also gave advice free, so he wrote for advice, and in a very short time we were very thankful that he did, because the first half bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' helped me so much that I was able to raise my head from the pillow, my appetite returned and I was able to sleep. Then the sores commenced to heal and I knew that I had started on the right track.

"It took five years to bring me back to my original good health but I took no remedies but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets'—with the approval of my doctor all the time. This was forty years ago and I am still in the best of health. I have never had any ailment due to impurity left in my system, and I feel quite confident in recommending Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a blood purifier. The 'Favorite Prescription' I found equally as good in toning up the womanly organs, and I could not have kept house without the 'Pleasant Pellets'. Every member of my family has found them to be unequalled as a purgative and liver tonic, and we have often had to drive a good many miles from home to get them."—Mrs. N. P. Jensen, P. O. Box 100.
