75 & 77 LAKE STREET - CHICAGO,

The French government is making great preparation for opening the Paris Exposition in a pompous manner, May 1st.

Hon. H. B. Strait will accept our thanks for a copy of the new tariff bill, introduced in the House of Representatives March 26th.

The pension of Gen. Shields, late candidate for Doorkeeper of the National House of Representatives, has been increased to $100 per month. So much for Buttler's bricks.

Specie resumption is an accomplished fact. Gold last week touched 100, and several National banks in Chicago, Cincinnati and other places commenced to redeem their notes with gold.

The new tax law passed at the late session of the Legislature provides a penalty of five per cent. on personal property taxes to attach on March 1st, but owing to the fact that the law was not approved until March 11th, State Auditor Whitcomb has decided that the penalty does not attach to 1877 taxes.

We learn from the Owatonna Review that a new German paper is soon to be started in that city by a Mr. John Hunger. The name of the paper is to be Minnesota Post, and will make its appearance in about three weeks. We hope that the people of Owatonna and vicinity will not "hunger out" the enterprising editor.

It has been rumored for some time that a new German paper would soon be started in St. Paul, in opposition to the Volkszeitung, and last Friday articles of incorporation of a new weekly German paper were signed by a number of prominent gentlemen, among which we notice the names of T. Sander, a veteran newspaper man, and Capt. Albert Scheffer.

The county treasurer of Winona Co. is alleged to have received in reply to one of his notices to delinquent personal tax payers, a postal reading as follows: "Mr. Bastford: I no can out make mein anglish talk for sprachen, so well vot on German I can mit. Dot caird vot jost voz got vot zay monisch you wants, I no ca give dat, gelt is speelt ons. By jenk I many dimes votes mit you on lection and many dimes trinks de Bier mit you, and mein gott on himel I no monisch haben."

Governor Pillsbury has appointed Henry M. Knox, of St. Paul, to the office of Public Examiner, created at the late session of the Legislature. Mr. Knox has had a great deal of experience in the banking business and for a long time held the position of national bank examiner for the government. Although the people in this part of the State desired the appointment of Mr. Hayden, of St. Peter, the appointment gives general satisfaction.

Col. Finch, president of the State Agricultural society, and his business secretary, Mr. R. C. Judson, are doing all in their power to make the coming State Fair a success, and from present indications it appears that the display will by far surpass any that has heretofore been made. The English colony in Martin and Faribault counties have signified their intention of being present with their entire hunting establishment, which will form one of the great attractions. The fair will be enlivened with trotting, running and hurdle races, and some owners of very fast horses have already signified their intentions of being present with their horses.

The Beecher scandal has once more been revived, and brought before the public. On the 13th Mrs. Tilton published a card alleging that the charge brought by her husband of adultery between herself and Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was true, and that the lie she had lived up to so well during the last four years had become intolerable to her. Mr.

Beecher was out of city when the card was published, but the New York Tribune telegraphed him a copy of the letter, and promptly received a dispatch in reply confronting Mrs. Tilton's confession with an explicit and absolute denial. He says: "The testimony to her own innocence and mine, which for four years she made in public and private to hundreds before the court, in writing and orally, I declare to be true, and the allegations now made in contradiction of her uniform, solemn and unvarying statement hitherto made, I utterly deny and declare her to be innocent of the great transgression."

Opportunely for Beecher, because it will serve to divide public attention, another prominent religious teacher is accused of sinful practices. Samuel Allen McCoskry, D. D., D. C. L., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan since 1836, a man who is seventy four years old, and who recently resigned his office of Bishop for the reputed reason that he was disabled by the infirmities of old age, is accused of having been several years lewdly intimate with a girl named Fanny Richards, now married to a man named Bannister. She is at this time but twenty years old and her intimate acquaintance with the aged Bishop, who educated her, began when she was employed by him as an amanuensis.

A diocesan committee has the matter in charge, who will give it a thorough ventilation.

New Disturbances on the Border.

SAN ANTONIO, April 19.—Reliable information just reached here from the interior of the Mexican border, which states that an insurrection against the Diaz government is steadily but surely ripening. It is understood there that Lerdo's party are arming the Mexican Indians to renew raiding in order to bring matters on the Rio Grande to their former unstable state, as regards the United States. The commanding officer of the sub-district of the Pecos telegraphs the department headquarters that the Mexican Indians are raiding in concert with Indians from the Fort Stanton reservation, who are now on an extensive raid in Texas.

Sleepy Eye Gleanings.

"Tramps" are not as plenty as they were a few days since.

Maj. Jos. Bobleter was in town last week and stayed at the Union House. Give us another call, Joe.

Immigrants are still coming as fast as ever. Some 50 covered wagons passed through town last week.

The amount of rain that fell during the past week is enormous, roads were almost impassable.

Now is time for people to make improvements on their farms and residences by planting shrubbery and fine trees.

If any one wants to know how it feels to receive a cold shower bath, just ask John White. He can tell you all about it. Hey, John.

Railroad men are making things lively on the Sleepy Eye and Redwood road. They have several miles graded along the line. I learn they have only 100 men at work.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson leave us this week. They are going east to visit friends. Mr. R. sold his store to J. P. Anderson which now is occupied by Kimm's boot and shoe store.

Sleepy Eye needs a first class barber. We are tired of having our faces scraped with dull razors. If some man who has been in the business would come, he would have all he could attend to.

Business is still on the increase. Merchants, doctors and lawyers are having their hands full. People must patronize merchants; doctors they can't dispense with, and lawyers are the life of any town.

F. A. Willson, from Plainview, has been here trying to start a paper. Sleepy Eye ought to support a paper, but some of the leading men gave him but little encouragement and he left town disgusted.

Dr. Marriam Putnam is giving a course of lectures at the school house. His subject is "The art of reading characters." The Dr. is also a Phrenologist and will examine any who wish to have their heads examined.

Talbot & Rinke have just received a large consignment of dry goods, notions, hats, caps, boots, shoes and groceries. Talbot & Rinke are men of known business qualities, and handle only first class goods. They always pay the highest market price for produce.

We note in our column this week the death of Mrs. Fohl. Heart disease, from which she suffered for years, was the main cause of her death. Also French Cap's daughter, who has had consumption for the past year, passed from our midst last week.

Some of the citizens of our village have purchased lots in the suburbs, in front of the school house. They intend to have a "private park" of their own, where they can live in peace and quietude. They are setting trees around their lots, which will add to their splendor muchly. We learn that they intend to build this summer.

Golden Gate Correspondence.

GOLDEN GATE, 7
APRIL 23rd, 1878.

Editor Review:

The bridge east of the village has been repaired, and the travel once more goes through town.

John H. Mead, has sold eighty acres of his farm, 3 miles west of here, to a German. Consideration, six hundred and fifty dollars.

Our district school officers have procured the services of Miss. Esther Bowen, an accomplished young lady of Blue Earth Co. Our school commenced last Monday, with an attendance of about 30 pupils.

"Aunt Sally" says, if you want no more of her you must not print any more lies about her, as she has turned over a new leaf. She says she has felt something of late, and she thinks it is religion, and hereafter she will strictly observe the Sabbath and will be in attendance at all of our Tuesday evening prayer meetings. So mote it be.

Two of our esteemed citizens got into a dispute one day last week. It seems that S. was hauling hay across the land of Uno Hoo, who requested S. to keep the old track, which aroused his ire, and he politely told Uno Hoo to go to h—ll, and find out who the Town Board was. And he started.

Tracy Correspondence.

TRACY, LYON CO., MINN.,
April 22, 1878.

Editor Review:

With genuine pleasure I read your last paper. I can plainly trace in it the embryo, of one of the leading papers of our State.

We seldom see Tracy in print, but there is such a place, and a right lively one too. A few months have made a great change. Speaking with a lady friend a few days ago, she said: "Five years ago, when I came here, there was but one or two houses within sight. The cars did not run all winter, and I often thought could I but hear my neighbor's rooster crow, or his dog bark, I would think it quite a treat. Now I can see a dog fight any time of day I wish." The town site then was unbroken prairie. Three years ago the side track was laid, and what little was done in the next two years was not much, as hoppers were plenty and no encouragement. Now, we have several trains every day, and a stream of Prairie Schooners passing all day long.

Our town contains several large stores, among which I might name

D. Stafford's Hardware store; E. O. Brauns, general store; M. H. Moline, dry goods and grocery store; A. Bates, variety store; J. P. Davis, general store; J. Craig, livery Stable and drug store. Two blacksmith shops, and J. Wardell's lumber yard and furniture shop.

Several large stores are nearly finished, but I think the above named gentlemen have built up a good trade, and their old patrons will bear in mind that "A faithful friend is hard to find; But when you find one just and true, change not the old one for a new."

I was sorry to see your message to "Aunt Sally," for she expressed my sentiments exactly, and my advice to the Golden Gate correspondent is to get inside the gate and stay until his ideas expand; they have become contracted like the place he lives in. As for "Lone Tree" he had better climb said tree and stay up there until he feels convinced he has been making a "lamb's tail" of himself. I think "Aunt Sally" is the best man of the three.
