which is not as it should be.

State Superintendent Burt announces that the apportionment of the school fund will this fall amount to about $1.00 per scholar.

The latest news from the yellow fever districts is somewhat better, and it is believed that the epidemic has reached meridian and is on the retreat. The number of deaths up to date is estimated at nearly 7,000.

The Democratic legislature of Or-gon elected on the 17th inst. Hon.
J. H. Slater, United States Senator.
Mr. Slater is not in sympathy with the inflationists, and opposes fiat money.

Cohen, the labor agitator, and a crowd of about 300 men kept Washington in a state of excitement last week. The mob paraded the streets with clubs, and regular troops were ordered from Baltimore and Fort Mc-Henry to quell any disturbance which may be brought about.

P. C. Chamberlain was nominated for Congress by the Green-backers of this district at their convention in Northfield last week, Tuesday, but he declined the honor, and the convention adjourned without making any nomination.

The Inter State publishes a full account of the bloody tragedy enacted on the 14th inst. in the vicinity of Lake Kampeska, from which it appears that Balls followed the Owens with the avowed intention of killing Geo. Owens, and that Owens killed Balls in self defence.

Many pre-emptors on our frontier are under the impression that the law requires them to make final proof this fall, which is not the fact.
Mainly through the effort of Major Strait the time for making final proof, in localities where the '76 and '77 crops were destroyed by 'hoppers', has been extended to October 1879. An affidavit, attested by witnesses, must, however, be filed in the land office this fall, stating that their crops were so destroyed.
Major Strait has repeatedly exerted himself in the interests of our frontier settlers, and he made a trip to Washington almost exclusively for the purpose of securing the above named extension of time.

Butler captured the Democratic party of Massachusetts, at Worcester, on the 17th inst., body and soul, and despite the manifesto and opposition of the State Central committee carried off the nomination for Governor. The scene at the convention beggars description. When the Democrats opposed to Butler saw that they were out-generated they left the hall, and endeavored to hold a convention in another hall, but even in this they were worsted, as Butler had taken time by the forelock and rented every public hall in town, and they finally adjourned their regular convention to Faneuil Hall, Boston, where it will be held to-day.

NEW INDIAN WAR.

Three Hundred Cheyennes in Southwest Texas.

Determined Fighters, They Whip Regulars and Rangers.

From the Chicago Times.

DODGE CITY, Kan., Sept. 18.— The most intense excitement prevails here. Three hundred Indians attacked the cattle camp of Chapman & Tuttle, twenty miles from here, and killed George Simmonds and a man whose name is unknown. Simmonds was in a wagon and was literally riddled with arrows and bullets.
The balance of the men fled in the direction of Dodge City, and were hotly pursued by the Indians. A few of them only reached here. The horses of some of them were killed and they were left on foot. Their fate is not known. The horses of those who came in are nearly all wounded.

A detachment of the 19th infantry from Fort Dodge are now boarding the train to scout south from the small station west and to endeavor to prevent the Indians journeying north. The number of Indians in the vicinity of the depredations is estimated from three to eight hundred.

Lieut. C. Gardener of the 19th infantry, reports that official information by courier has just arrived stating that Capt. Renderbrack, with two companies of the Fourth cavalry, had an engagement with the Indians on the Cimarron, south about forty miles, in which three men were killed and three wounded. The soldiers were surrounded and lost many men.
The fight was sharp, and the Indian loss is unknown. The same courier says two men and a child were killed near Sun City yesterday.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock the Cheyennes burned a farm house within two miles of town. The farmer and family saw them coming and fled.
The burning building could be seen distinctly and the Indians were plainly visible with the aid of a glass.
The greatest excitement prevailed, and women and childrens left their homes to gather in the streets for protection. Guns and horses were hurriedly gathered together and pursuit given, but the Indians soon disappeared over the hills. Engines at once started east and west to notify settlers of the danger, and many have come in for protection.

The Driskell party, who left on Monday, have just returned. They, with a company of the 4th cavalry, under Capt. Hemphill, together seventy-seven strong, engaged with 300 Indians thirty miles from here at 12 to-day. The Indians showed a degree of bravery never before displayed, and after a sharp fight of two hours the Indians drove the whites from the field. One soldier was mortally wounded. The Indian loss is unknown, but the scalp of one was brought in. The Indians are well armed and mounted, and it is said by experienced fighters that their bravery was remarkable. They report all the cattle camps abandoned and several men missing, who, it is feared, have been killed.

A man named Evans has been killed since this morning's report.
Troops are on the way from Forts Elliott, Riley and Lyon to Camp Supply. The running of night trains is discontinued until the danger is over.

BEN. HILL, OF GEORGIA.

What the Senator Says of the Wild Freaks of Financial Relief Quacks.

Senator Benjamin H. Hill lately received an invitation to speak on the pending political issues especially on the money question, at Barnesville, Ga., previous to the 11th inst., but he has declined, pleading that as the Democratic congressional convention is to be held there on the 12th he fears a speech from him would be construed by some as an attempt to influence the choice of a candidate. He adds these observations:

"Allow me to say that the financial issues which now seem to divide us will soon be settled and we shall be agreed. They will be settled as they have been always settled under like circumstances, and as they only can be settled, by a return to the plain constitutional standard of coin as money, and to a safe paper currency, always equal to, because always convertible into, coin. We shall reach this result by industry, by economy, by consequent reviving business, and by the good common sense of our honest people. Men will then be astonished that they allowed themselves to be deluded by the wild theories of relief quacks who are going to make everybody rich by "fiat-money," instead of by honest labor and economy. These quacks have always appeared in times of severe trials like those through which our people have been and are now passing, and have always disappeared when the trials were over.
We have had an unusual number of them, because ours is a popular form of government and there is a great number of offices to be filled, and a great many voters who are fit subjects for delusion. Twelve months ago I did seriously fear that our country's return to a sound currency and a healthy condition would be seriously retarded by these noisy teachers of doctrines which no wise man ever believed, and no prosperous people ever adopted. But the crisis of danger has passed and my fears have ceased. We shall soon laugh at the extreme eccentricities of these financial teachers and at every man who was so thoughtless as to listen to them. 'What a fool I was to believe it,' will be the jocular self-reproach of many an honest man. Two things may now be safely predicted of the future: The American people, without sectional divisions or exceptions, will return to a sound currency like other sensible nations, and will pay their national obligations like other honest nations. We shall have first good money, and next a plenty of it.
Money is good when every dollar of it that is in circulation, whether of silver or gold or paper currency, is equal in purchasing power to any other dollar in circulation."

Burnstown Items.

The water melon season is fast coming to an end.

The weather the past few days has been remarkably fine and cool.

All those who attended the State Fair from this vicinity are highly satisfied with their trip.

Our Mr. Fay has quite a menagerie in the way of birds, wild animals, etc.
Call in and see them, it will only cost you a quarter.

Our friend Dr. Wellcome is about leaving us for the purpose of attending college. We are sorry to see the doctor go as he has made many friends among us, and professionally we appreciate him. We understand that a Mr.
Hitchcock will succeed him.

The farmers are busy threshing, plowing and corn cutting. Several samples of this seasons corn was shown us and it actually surpasses anything we ever saw in the shape of corn. The crop is a success in quantity as well as quality. The potatoe crop is also excellent.

OBITUARY—The child of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Anderson of this place died on the 20th inst., at the tender age of 15 months, and was followed last Sabbath to the cemetery by a large concourse of sympathizing friends. But yet, how sweet and consoling are the words of Christ alone when he calls his little children to come to him.

As we are about to change the name of our little burg and post office, would it not be well to call it Sanborn? Mr.
Sanborn has done much towards the progress of the place and a more appropriate name could not be found.
What do you all say?

What about building the Catholic church in this place? Is it not time for us to put our shoulders to the wheel?
The church is much needed and should be built this fall. Devine service will be held at this place by Rev. Bernhard Sandmeyer on Sunday, Sept. 29th. All are requested to attend.

The lightning rod fraternity has at last lighted down among us, and secured us from all danger arising from the many thunder storms by ornamenting every house, large and small, with the mighty rod that shields us from all harm from the God of lightning.

The colliers are progressing favorably. They have put on more help and are working night and day, and at this writing have the shaft down some thirty feet. A description of their route, as handed the writer by the principal, Mr. Hemmangray, is as follows: The surface ground was of a black murcky character and extended down 5 feet, next 5 feet blue clay, next 4 feet hard ground mixed with iron ore, next 3 feet blue clay, then they encountered 1 foot of blue slate, or by some called coal and very much resembling it; and the balance of the way a mixture of quick sand. They are in good cheer and bound to give the matter a thorough test.

Burns Station, Sept. 20, '78.

Editor Review:

Permit me through the valued columns of your journal to make a few remarks about the christening of town 108, range 33, which is causing so much discussion through the channels of the papers. Call a town meeting according to law, as per town manual, have your town organized, if not already done so, and then submit the name decided upon, may it be Georgetown, Eurika or Atkinson, to the county commissioners. I don't think it very gentlemanly for the intelligent of the to be town to be so few in applying the application "Little Taxes" to the first settlers, who in no way are deserving of any such nicknames. If the intelligent would only devote more of their time in their own vineyard at home, and meddle less with others it would be more profitable to themselves and pleasing to all. READER.

Sleepy Eye Gleanings.

Local news items are scarce.

The round-house is progressing finely.

W. M. Murfin and Wm. Robinson are in town trying to collect some of their old accounts, but they report slow progress.

Politics is beginning to be a theme for conversation, and we already begin to miss Smith. Who will be our next Clerk of the Court? [Blanchard.—Ed.]

It is rumored that Dr. J. W. B.
Wellcome contemplates leaving this place. We would be sorry to lose the worthy and esteemed doctor.

Sleepy Eye continues to grow numerically despite the hard times. This time it is T. J. Murfin that is the happy daddy of a little girl. It all happened last Saturday morning.

Horse thieves are operating in this vicinity. They stole a horse and a few other things from J. W. Kramer, the other night. Everyone should be on the lookout for the roving spalpeens.

L. George, living about ten miles west of this place, had his stable, hay and machinery burned by lightning, Sept. 19th. The loss to Mr. George is a severe one.

We took a trip to Golden Gate the other day and saw your correspondent "Scrobs." We saw him standing by a post, with a slip of paper in his hand and a pencil behind his ear, sighing for a telephone to send the news to the REVIEW, so that the D. A. M. D. postmaster would not know it.

Have you not heard of the new mode of raising the wind? I suppose not, as none of your correspondents mention it. Well, they invite certain parties to town and then arrest them as vagrants and send them to jail. They say it works to a charm.

Can't the Republicans of Sleepy Eye and vicinity trot out some good man for sheriff? We understand that a good man from this section of the county could easily secure the nomination next Saturday, and as present appearances indicate that the opposition party will be hopelessly divided on that question, the Republican candidate would stand a good chance of being elected.
