

THE REVIEW

NEW ULM, MINN.

JOS. BOBLETER, Editor & Proprietor.

Wednesday, July 1, 1885.

Gen. Grant's doctor bill, up to July 1st amounted to $40,000.

Dorsey of political and star route fame has been quite ill at Chicago, but is now better.

The government of Morocco has ordered forty Moors to come to this country for the purpose of studying breach-loading guns.

St. Paul has 600 saloons and only receives $71,854 license money. Minneapolis rakes in $300,000 on the same number.

Sixty of the eighty-four internal revenue collectors have been removed by the Democratic administration. There is nothing slow about that.

Senator Sabin, who has been seriously ill with inflammation of the bowels, at Stillwater, is much better and his friends have hopes of his recovery.

At Baltimore, George A. Myers, convicted of wife beating, received fifteen lashes at the hands of Sheriff Airey, yesterday. He is the first white man whipped in Maryland for that offence.

The New York court of appeals decides the oleomargarine law of that State unconstitutional; and the Minnesota law is said to be a very similar one. Will our law be bursted.

Sixty days have been allowed for perfecting plans for putting the wires underground in New York. In Chicago the streets are torn up and the wires are actually undergoing burial.

Several hundred brakemen on the Baltimore & Ohio road are on a strike. The reason is because the management propose to send only two brakemen with a train, while the brakemen claim there should be one for every ten cars.

It is now known that 140 persons were killed by the explosion in the Pendlebury colliery near Manchester Wednesday June 25. The chamber in which the explosion occurred is so filled with debris that thus far only forty-five bodies have been recovered.

Lord Salisbury has organized his cabinet and taken up the reins of power. The Tories succeeded in downing Gladstone, but they will need to be careful or defeat will meet them in victory. Gladstone is still the master-spirit of English politics.—St. Peter Tribune.

The man who commanded the regiment by which Jeff. Davis was captured has been removed from the office of Collector of Internal Revenue at Madison, Wis. The Wisconsin Republican thinks Jeff. ought to take a more cheerful view of life and of the elasticity of the national constitution after this.

The Chicago Tribune rhapsodizes on 'Chicago as a Summer Resort,' and gives a rather strong list of attractions. But Chicago can never flourish as a warm weather resort until Minneapolis has been blotted off the map, and Lake Minnetonka has dried up. A hope for Chicago.

Mr. Blaine is at his home in Augusta. He has not the slightest intention of abandoning public life, so his friends say, but on the contrary, he is in the political harness and is likely to remain in for a number of years, as one of the great leaders of his party. He will stump Ohio next fall for Foraker.

W. J. Chamberlain, the Ohio statistician, in May estimated the general wheat crop at 300,000,000 bushels. His June estimate is 270,000,000, and he says further: "The wheat failure is the most disastrous for twenty years, and there is no use denying it, or letting the public down gently to the knowledge of it." With all these dismal estimates and predictions the markets do not seem to sympathize at present to any great extent, but higher prices must inevitably result from the diminished yield.

The marriage and divorce laws of Pennsylvania have come under clerical condemnation, Bishop Howe having denounced them in the severest terms at the recent meeting of the Central Diocesan Convocation in that State. In the course of his address he said it was time "that an organized attempt should be made by Christian men to abrogate these licentious laws which breed iniquities. The laws of church and State should be in harmony with the law of God. Have we not, in easy divorces and frequent remarriages," he added, "polygamy as bad in essence, though not so openly proclaimed, as that among the Mormons?" These laws, which the good bishop denounces, are not a whit worse than those in operation in most of the Western States. The evil is generally admitted but the way to secure their modification is beset with difficulties.

The Albert Lea Female College is expected to open September next.

Seventeen year locusts are doing a good deal of damage in Indiana and Michigan.

It seems to be conceded all round that Gen. Grant is again declining from his recent rally.

The entire Chinese collection at the New Orleans exposition has been presented to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

A thousand men are employed fixing up the new State fair grounds and buildings. Everything will be ready for the fair this fall.

Wheat prospects are so bad in Kansas officers dare not make a report of actual facts for fear of turning away immigration.

L. G. Dennis, of Gainesville, Florida, is dead. He laid a wager that he could drink all the whisky in town at one sitting, but the delirium tremens got him before he had won.

It has been decided by the directors of the Southwestern Minnesota Live Stock Association to hold their fair this fall on September 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th in Mankato.

Commodore Kittson's famous horse Ratanplan won at Sheephead Bay, New York on the 18th. The race was one and five eighths of a mile. Time 2:55 1-4 and purse $2,000.

Dispatches from the western part of the lower peninsula of Michigan report heavy frosts Sunday night, with considerable damage to corn and other growing crops.

Internal revenue collections in the United States for the first eleven months of the present fiscal year, amount to $103,697,164, which is a decrease of $8,620,414 over the same period last year. This great falling off is owing largely to the reduction in the tax on manufactured and raw tobacco, and the abolition of the tax on matches.

Confederate Memorial day was observed at Norfolk, Va., recently, by Pickett Buchanan camp of Confederate veterans. All places of business were closed, and the parade was one of the largest ever seen in the state, United States soldiers and marines, United Veterans of Richmond, Farragut post, Grand Army of the Republic Odd Fellows, and other organizations were in line.

Bartholdi, the sculptor, has given the following statement of the exact dimensions of the Statue of Liberty. "From bottom of plinth to the top of torch, 151.14 feet; height of bottom foundation of pedestal above low-water mark, 13 feet; height of foundation mass, 52.10 feet; height of pedestal proper, 89 feet; total height of top of torch above mean low-water mark 305.12 feet." He emphatically denies the story that the statue was originally intended for Egypt.

Mr. E. H. Gilbert of Mankato relates an interesting incident which he witnessed at Sioux Falls a few days since. A man entering the hotel where Mr. Gilbert was stopping inquired in rather an offensive tone how "old Grant" was getting along. A pleasant looking dignified appearing gentleman sitting there reading a paper replied quietly that "General Grant" was getting better. "Well," said the new-comer, "if he had got his just deserts he would have been shot long ago." At that the quiet old gentleman arose laid down the paper he had been reading, put away his spectacles, stepped deliberately up to the inquirer after old Grant's health and knocked him down flat and hard. The fellow scrambled up and "lit out," while the old gentleman put on his glasses again and quietly resumed his reading. There was not a word spoken, says Mr. Gilbert. It was an occasion where actions spoke louder than words.

Red Sunsets.

Professor Kiessling, of Hamburg, has given especial attention to the famous sunset question, and during the past year has devised a number of experiments for illustrating the action of minute solid or liquid particles on sunlight, by which sky colors are produced. He has lately summarized his result in a pamphlet, entitled "Die dämmerungserscheinungen in Jahre 1883 und ihre physikalische Erklärung." Diffraction is considered the most important optical process that contributes to the result, as the dull reddish ring around the noonday sun, the horizon colors at sunset, and the purple and other glows half an hour later, are all ascribed to this action. The explanation of the purple and pinkish glows is especially apt and ingenious, and more to the point than any other solution of the question that has been presented. An important supplement to his pamphlet describes the construction of an apparatus designed to illustrate his explanations experimentally. He is a strong supporter of the volcanic origin of the particles on which the diffracting water-particles have condensed.—Science.
