Court week.

Chicken-pie at the Congregational Church to-night.

R. Pfeifferle sold seventy-one barrels of apples in one day last week, and still going at $2 per barrel.

Chas. Brust has purchased Mark Cane's saloon business in Sleepy Eye, and he moved thither with his family the first of this week. We wish him success in his new location.

If any of our city subscribers fail to receive their papers regularly we would consider it a favor if they notified this office of the fact, as that is the only means of ascertaining neglect on the part of our carrier.

Game is very plenty in Dakota and large numbers of geese and ducks are shipped to eastern markets over the Chicago & Northwestern road. Last Friday evening the express car was nearly filled with game.

Anton Forster, an assistant to the blacksmith in Courtland village, a few days ago had one of his legs broken while testing his strength with another man in a pulling match. Dr. Muller of this city was called and reduced the fracture.

Superior City, Wis., is evidently not a paradise. Several of our New Ulm folks who settled there last spring have been stricken with typhoid fever, and we understand that Mr. Stuebe's family will to-day return to their former home in this city.

At company A's last practice shoot, Musician Bevier captured the gold medal and Private Luetjen the silver medal. The former scored 26 and the latter 25 out of a possible 50. Another shoot occurs next Sunday morning, weather permitting.

Considerable noise is made over the fact that Dakota county has held an agricultural fair without the usual accompaniment of horse racing. Come to think on't, horse racing never was a feature of our Brown county fairs, and yet they terminated in nearly all cases successfully.

The Pioneer Press says: Bishop Ireland wishes to warn Minnesota Catholics against encouraging a man named John J. Roe, who is collecting money for a deaf and dumb institution in Ireland, or any other person who is asking contributions without written permission from the bishop.

The fine weather holds out remarkably well.

WANTED!—All the cooks at the Congregational Church to-night.

Smoke Wd. Eibner's special brands of cigars: The "Last Edition," and the "Eibner's Beauty."

A party of hunters from this city bagged a very nice little "jag" of wild geese and ducks last week, near Bala-ton.

An effort is making to have a post-office established at Siding No. 1, the new station established in the town of Milford.

Something new under the sun! An intelligence office has been opened in this city by Fr. Schubert and Aug. Hellmann.

Wild geese, brants and ducks are very plenty in portions of Murray and Lyon counties and a number of our hunters are talking of making a raid on them.

This evening, at the Congregational Church, the ladies will give a Pink Tea. Refreshments will be served from 6 to 10 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Company A's social hop in Union Hall last Sunday evening was a quite pleasant affair, though the rain kept many at home that would have gone in more pleasant weather.

By the amendment to the tax law of 1884 the September settlement is postponed a month, consequently the various towns will have to wait four weeks longer than usual for their money.

The Lafayette correspondent of the St. Peter Herald says that Alonis Hills-camp lost a valuable horse, "worth $1.50." It was indeed a valuable piece of horse flesh.

Mr. A. Preuss, recently of Minneapolis, has opened a bakery in Melges' building. Mr. Preuss is an A No. 1 baker and turns out an excellent quality of bread, etc.

Senator Peterson has sold his machinery business at Lamberton to Jacob Dahl, a former employe of his. Mr. Dahl is a good business man and will be a valuable acquisition to Lamberton.

- "Pink tea!"
- "What's that?"
- "Go and see!"
- "Where?"
- "At the Congregational Church."
- "When?"
- "To-night."

O
 This is an apple large and round, At the top of the barrel always found.

Frank H. Behnke comes before the REVIEW readers this week in a new advertisement. His store is in the new brick building on the corner of Minn. and Centre streets. He has opened out a fine stock of goods and announces rock-bottom prices. Look in on him when out shopping.

Wd. Eibner, who has purchased the stock and fixtures of A.G. Seiter, comes before the REVIEW readers this week in a new ad. Mr. Eibner will keep on hand all the delicacies of the season, and he calls special attention to his special brands of cigars. When in want of a good oyster stew or a cup of hot coffee, don't forget Eibner's.

Three bakeries are now serving out bread, cakes, pies, etc., to the hungry natives of this city, and if the St. Peter Herald is correctly informed, another bakery is about being started here. The Herald of last Friday says: "Mr. Wm. Eibner, who for the past two years has been the gentlemanly manager of the Commercial House in this place, has decided to go into the bakery and confectionery business at New Ulm."

During the wedding festivities in Turner Hall on Tuesday evening of last week a pleasant little episode occurred which was not down on the programme. It leaked out that Judge Webber had that day reached the ripe age of 51 years, and, when in the centre of the hall, he was suddenly surrounded by the Silver Cornet Band and given a happy serenade. At the conclusion of the serenade the Judge was heartily congratulated by his numerous friends present.

A gunning party of Scotchmen, all the way from Scotland, passed up the road Thursday. They occupied a special sleeping and dining car, and had any number of waiters and fancy cooks. They were loaded for bear we judge from the number of bottles and things lying about the car. Before returning, the party will visit the Yellowstone park.—Waseca Radical.

We met a man last Friday who ran across the party in Dakota and he says they were having a huge time, but the local hunters had to keep them supplied in meats.

Mr. Fr. Kuetzing sells Stark A grain bags at 25 cts. each.

To regale the inner man go to the Congregational church to-night."

Dr. Muller informs us that Fr. Meyer-ling, the man so severely injured on the 3rd inst., is now out of danger, the internal injuries fortunately not having been so severe as it was at first feared.

In the town of Norfolk, near Bird Island, last Saturday afternoon, a sixteen-year-old boy named Peter Butterly shot and instantly killed a man named Joseph Hogan. The shooting was done in self-defense.

Mankato Journal:—We were told today by a gentleman of this city who was informed of the fact by a gentleman who claimed to know whereof he affirmed, that the Northwestern has under consideration the early extension of their line on this side of the Minnesota river to some prominent western point. We must say that everything connected with recent operations at this point by the company tends to substantiate the correctness of the report.

From deputy sheriff Galles, who made a flying trip to Springfield last Monday morning, we learn that John Richland of that place met with a severe accident last Sunday evening. He was driving out into the country, with some others, to attend a social gathering, and when about a half mile from the starting point they ran into a ditch and upset the wagon Mr. Richland being violently thrown to the ground and breaking one of his legs.

Mr. Galles also reports the accidental shooting of a member of Winona gunning party near Springfield, last Sunday. The members of the party approached a duck slough in opposite directions, and when the ducks flew up one of the men fired and hit his partner on the opposite side of the slough. One shot entered the right eye, and the wounded man at last accounts was at Springfield suffering intense pain.

The State Railroad and Warehouse commissioners again visited Redwood Falls last week and this time several days notice of their coming was given. The Gazette says: "The commissioners were waited upon by a very respectable delegation of farmers and citizens, who went away in general well pleased with the interview. The chief cause of satisfaction was the announcement early in the meeting of the action of the commissioners in putting a stop to the compulsory transit rate. By this single act, if no other, the commission has attested its right to live. In regard to dockage, the remedy suggested was first, the thorough cleaning of grain before sending to market; and second, the direct shipment of grain to the State inspectors. The latter step was also recommended as the readiest solution of all disputes about grades and prices.

The commissioners explained that they had no legal power to regulate local warehouses, but with reasonable straight rates for carrying once secured, every community and every individual could sell grain subject to State inspection only, on an equality with the elevator men."

We visited Tracy last week for the first time in two years, and though our stay in the thriving little city was brief, with quite agreeable surprise we noted the improvements that have been made since our last visit. The railroad company erected large and substantial machine shops, engine house and coal sheds, and numerous sidetracks have been put down in the yard. The supply of water is brought from Lake Sigel, two and a half miles distant, in a large pipe, the pumping station at the lake being connected with roundhouse office by telegraph wire. In the business portion of the town several fine, substantial business blocks have been erected and are now filled with stacks of goods. We also noticed several fine residences of recent construction. Two churches are now in course of construction, and everything about the place shows thrift and prosperity. There are two live newspapers in the place, but the unseasonable hour of our visit prevented us from making either of the editors a call. Our New Ulm boys, H. F. Seiter, Adolph Schell and Martin Hose are all seemingly doing well. The former is the senior member of the firm of Seiter & Jackson, tonsorial artists, and is also proprietor of a well stocked dry goods and notion store, which is presided over by Mr. Seiter's estimable wife, ably assisted by her sister, Miss Ida Swanson. Adolph Schell is wholesale dealer in beer and carbonated waters and has built up a large and lucrative business. Martin Hose is in the saloon business and enjoys a good run of custom. It was our pleasure during our stay in the village to partake of the hospitalities of Mr. and Mrs. Seiter. On our hunting excursion from Tracy we were accompanied by H. F. Seiter and Ed. Woodruff of Tracy, and E. E. Seiter of New Ulm, and a jollier crowd never traversed the prairies or waded the sloughs of Murray and Lyon counties.

For pink tea go to the Congregational Church to-night.

WEDDING BELLS.

Another Double Wedding.

Four more loving souls will be made happy to-day at Hymen's altar. We refer to the double wedding of Mr. Casimir Ochs and Miss Mary Epple, both of New Ulm, and Mr. Em. Schotzko of St. Paul and Miss Mary Ochs of New Ulm, which will be solemnized in the Catholic church in this city this a. m. The holy knot will be tied by the Rev. Alex. Berghold, in the presence of the numerous friends of the contracting parties. At the conclusion of the services the party will repair to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Ochs where a sumptuous dinner will be served. No cards have been issued and the wedding festivities will be purely a family affair. Three of the contracting parties are well known to our people and need no introduction at our hands. Em. Schotzko is a brother of Wenzel Schotzko, the proprietor of the Union Hotel, and is engaged in the restaurant business in St. Paul, where he has prepared a nice home for his young bride. Mr. Casimir Ochs and bride will continue to make their home in this city. The REVIEW wishes the contracting parties a long and happy journey over the path which they are to-day entering.

IMPROVE YOUR POULTRY.

It is a well known fact that a flock of common fowls is immensely improved by placing with the hens a pure bred male. Those who never have tried the experiment will be astonished at the wonderful improvement they can affect in this way at a trifling cost.
 To increase the size of your fowls, introduce a male bird of one of the large breeds; to increase egg production, a male of the smaller, non-sitting varieties will work marvels. It is claimed by many who have tried it, that half breeds are equal to thoroughbreds as egg producers, for which Houdans and Leghorns are at the head.
 Mowery & Heidemann of New Ulm have a limited number of pure bred cockerels to be disposed of this fall at low figures. They must sell to make room for the winter.
 Farmers will do well to call or correspond at once. Those who come first will get the best.
