

Wednesday, March 10, 1886.

The Senate passed the educational bill last Friday by a vote of 36 to 11. By many this bill is regarded as a huge steal from the public treasury.

"If republican partisans are not to be turned out and democratic partisans put in their places," says Representative Curtin of Pennsylvania, in the house of Representatives, "then what do we have elections for?"

Commissioner Coleman has about concluded that the government tea farm at Summerville, S. C., is a failure and that it had better be abandoned. It took the commissioner a long time to find out what a good many people knew before the experiment was undertaken.

Labor controversies appear to be getting epidemic. 9,000 employes on the Gould system of railways are out on a strike, and over 10,000 Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia coal miners are on a strike. At least 25,000 men are on a strike, representing three industries.

Petitions have been presented in congress asking for the abolition of the office of president of the United States. There are a number of men in New Ulm of that way of thinking, their plan of government being patterned after that of the Swiss confederation.

There is death in the electric wire. At Evansville, Ind., on the 28th ult., Hugh Oliver, an employee of the electric light company, accidentally touched the wires in such a manner as to make the electric connection, and the full force of the current passed through his body, killing him instantly.

The Washington Democracy is up in arms, and all because President Cleveland has appointed a colored man from Albany, N. Y., to the office of recorder of deeds for the district of Columbia. 'Tis truly sad. The President ought to know better than to shock his chivalric supporters in such a manner.

President Cleveland last Wednesday nominated Brig. Gen. Alfred H. Terry to be major general, vice Hancock, deceased. General Terry has been stationed at Fort Snelling and St. Paul some fifteen years as department commander, and his very large circle of friends rejoice at his deserved promotion.

A bill has been introduced in the House, which provides that all postal notes hereafter issued, shall be made payable to the bearer, and that such notes shall be paid upon presentation to the postmaster of any money order office. The Postmaster General may deposit notes for sale with any postmaster.

The Marshall News-Messenger thinks we are biased in our opinion of Wakefield's strength in this county because of our having held a public office. There you are slightly off, Bro. Whitney. In the election of 1884 Wakefield carried Brown county by a majority of 435, although the county went Democratic on the Presidential ticket, and nothing has occurred since then to change the sentiments of the people.

Messrs. Wakefield, Strait, Nelson and Gillman made a general attack on the river and harbor committee and argued in behalf of all improvements in which Minnesota is interested—the Mississippi, Red River of the North, Falls of St. Anthony, Two Harbors, Duluth, the reservoir system, etc., but, apparently, not a word was said about our creek commonly called the "Minnesota river."

Senator Sewell, from the committee on military affairs, reported favorably the House bill for the relief of Fitz John Porter. Two Republicans—Sewell and Cameron—voted with the four Democrats to recommend passage of the bill. Four Republicans on the committee are opposed to the bill and Gen. Logan will bring in a minority report. The vote in the Senate will be exceedingly close, with the chances in favor of the passage of the bill.

Mexico has a band of highwaymen who are not content with robbing their victims of their valuables, but they also strip them completely naked and then send them on their journey in that condition. Women fare no better than men, and it is a common occurrence to see a stage load of nude passengers alight at one of the isolated stations in the State of Jalisco, often called the "Robber State," from the frequency with which lawless exploits occur in it.

You are not old, yet your hair is getting thin. Your friends remark it, your wife regrets it. Parker's Hair Balsam will stop this waste, save your hair and restore the original gloss and color. Exceptionally clean, prevents dandruff, perfect dressing. [April 1]

Congressman Strait has introduced a bill making the present army pension laws apply to postal route clerks, but only in case of death or crippling. The boys are hard worked and their salary is beggarly enough. They brave many dangers and certainly it would be an act of justice to place them on the pension rolls in case of injury incapacitating them for future service. The widows of postal clerks killed in service should be put on an equal footing with widows of soldiers.

Congressman Wakefield has submitted to the committee on postoffices a plan to simplify and economize the collection and management of postal revenues. His proposition is:

"The postmaster general be directed to select from the first and second-class postoffices such a number as he may deem adequate for the purpose, to be designated as 'depositories and depots,' for the depositing of postal funds and supplying postage stamps to other postoffices. He will then arrange the postoffices into districts convenient to said depositories, and they shall thereafter deposit all postal funds with and obtain all supplies from said depots. Postoffice supplies are to be furnished by the department to these depositories only. All postmasters shall thereafter be paid a fixed yearly compensation, and the salaries of postmasters of the fourth class shall range from $12 to $1,000."

Pioneer Press:—Some anxious advocates of high protective duties have recently revived the old battle cry of "untaxed tobacco for the poor man," but they are especially desirous of keeping the poor man taxed exorbitantly upon a large number of manufactured articles which he is absolutely compelled to purchase. The Washington Republican advances the following unique proposition: "Let congress keep its hands off the duties which protect labor, and, if taxes can be reduced, let this burden be lifted from agriculture." Beautiful logic! If the burden is to be lifted from agriculture, there must of necessity be a lifting of a considerable weight of excessive taxation on agricultural implements and household furniture, which handicaps and harasses the farmer.

Mankato Free Press:—The recent State Alliance meeting at Minneapolis was pretty thoroughly Donnellyed. The Alliance organization is a good thing, but when the body will surrender so completely to one political schemer as was the case at Minneapolis last week, it is evident to all rational minds that it is being "hoist by its own petard." It is a characteristic of Donnelly that whatever he identifies himself with, must become subservient to his fiat, and rally at his bugle call or otherwise he has neither love nor respect for the movement. It is funny, very, very humorous, but when that is said of him all is said of him. The sooner the farmer will expunge him and a few similar characters from their midst, the sooner will they realize their fondest hopes.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

The following, from the Hastings News-Era speaks our sentiments: "No subject should rest so near the heart of the American people, as the welfare of those who fought, that our nation might live, and our institutions be preserved. Among the great citizen army of soldiers are many whose abilities have placed them above the reach of want, and settled them in affluence. But there are very many whose lamp of life and hope went out in that dark period of rebellion and carnage. There were young men crippled for life. There were middle aged men who sacrificed all they had, and have never been able to recover their lost ground. It is not asking too much for these gallant men, to ask that the thorns be removed, as far as possible, from their pathway down the afternoon of life. It should be far from the American heart to think of allowing a soldier to fill a pauper's grave, or to permit the unfeeling hand of charity to cover forms of those whose brows were once encircled with the laurels of victory. Every homeless soldier should be provided with a home. Means should be provided whereby they may be protected against poverty, and in sickness and death receive the treatment and honors justly their due. And these provisions should not be made in charity, but by a public fund created by law and given them as a reward for services rendered. Not only do the people of Minnesota owe this to the soldier, but they owe it to themselves, lest they be charged with carrying an obligation which they have never endeavored to satisfy."

STATE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

An Institute for the County of Brown will be held at
NEW ULM,
During the week commencing Monday, May 17th, 1886.

The institutes for the coming season will, according to the advancement of teachers in the several counties, be organized for both elementary and advanced methods. The general plan will be to give instruction in two classes, for a part of each half day, and for the rest of the day to discuss with the entire institute subjects of general application, as school management, drawing, penmanship and general lessons. A social, a literary or author's recital and a lecture will occupy two or three evenings. Teachers will need the usual outfit of note book, stationery and institute syllabus. The latter will be supplied for use during the institute to those who have none of their own.

BE PUNCTUAL.
Those who are on hand at the opening are the most interested, and are most likely to remain the entire week.

ACCOMMODATIONS.
The usual assistance will be afforded teachers by the County Superintendent in securing board during the week.

D. L. KIEHL, Supt. Public Instruction.
J. B. VELIKANJE, County Superintendent.
