Men, such as U. S. Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, are loud in their praise of St. Jacobs Oil as an instantaneous cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and other bodily pains.

A ragged looking tramp was inspecting the windows of a trunk shop. "Come in and buy a trunk," said a salesman. "Buy a trunk; what for?" "Put your clothes in." "Do you think this is the Garden of Eden?" was the quick retort.

Excitement in Texas.
Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds.

THE "HOODOOD" CLAIM.

A Piece of Mining Property that Brings Bad Luck for Those Who Work It.
There is a superstition prevailing among a number of the miners in that locality that a certain claim in Iowa gulch is an unlucky one. It got started in some way that a man who worked in that claim was sure to meet with bad luck of some kind. He would either get blown up by giant powder, or fall down a ladder, or the mine would cave in on him, or some other equally undesirable occurrence would take place. By degrees the belief became so prevalent that property was considered "hoodooed," to use a slang expression. The result is that nobody will work it at all, and the owners are at a loss to know what to do for men.

A Herald reporter having heard of the superstition, for, of course, it is nothing more or less than a superstition, boosted an old miner last night and asked him whether he was one of those who believed in "hoodooes" being circulated.

"Well, to tell the truth, I must confess I do believe some of them, strange as it may seem to you."

"What foundation have you for your belief?" asked the reporter.
The old miner took a fresh chew of tobacco and said: "The fact that so many who have worked it have had bad luck of some kind or other makes me think there is something in it. I know one man who had not been at work in that infernal hole more than two days before he was taken down with pneumonia, and he came very near dying. Another went to work there and his cabin was robbed before a week. A third one tried it, and he fell from a ladder and came near being killed; that satisfied him and he quit. Besides these there have been several other mishaps to men working the claim, and they followed each other in such close succession and with such unvarying certainty that the men at last came to the conclusion that there was bad luck in some way connected with the property."

"Is the claim worth anything?" asked the reporter.
"Yes, if it was developed I think it would turn out to be good property; but I, for one, would not work in it if it was given to me."

"Might it not be a job put up by some one who wants to buy it?" asked the news hunter.
"I don't know about that," replied the miner, "but I don't see how so many of the men could get to believe it if there wasn't something in it. No, sir, it's no job, that claim has bad luck for any man that works it. You may call it superstition or anything you like, but I don't go to work in it."

Seeing there was no chance to shake the old miner's belief that there was some supernatural agency that had cast a spell of bad luck over the ill-fated property, the reporter left him firm in his faith.—Leadville Herald.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W.D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters. Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at C. L. Roos Drug Store."

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. Chas. L. Roos, Druggist has made at thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, positively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and leaving it strong, vigorous and healthy he warrants it. It is a certain cure for all skin diseases. 1

During a serious run of whooping cough at Stillwater, N. Y., the physicians found that Acker's English Remedy was a positive cure, and prescribed it very freely. Chas. L. Roos, Druggist says that in all his experience he never has known any medicine to equal it. He guarantees it to cure all Coughs (especially chronic cases), Croup, Asthma and Consumption. 2

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them, Ch. L. Roos, Druggist, emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c., he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents.
