Unaccountable Disappearance of a Bag of Gold From a Northern Pacific Express Office.

Suicide in Chicago of a Probable Relative of Walter, Editor of the London Times.

Brainerd, Special Telegram, April 18.— This city was thrown into a state of excitement early this morning by the announce-ment that the Northern Pacific express office in this city had been robbed of $15,000 in Inquiry at the office of the company revealed the fact that a bag of gold containing $15,000 was missing, but Agent Ruess hoped at that time that it might yet be found. To-day is pay day, and it is customary to send up the night before sufficient money to pay the employes. Last night the First National bank at St. Paul shipped $31,-500 in gold consigned to the First Naitonal bank in this city. The gold was in four bags-two large ones containing $15,000 each and two small ones containing $1,000 and $500 respectively. The express messenger on the train delivered the four bags to the night clerk here, Louis Hohman, who, according to his story, placed the bags on a truck and wheeled them to the express office and carried them in two at a time and placed them in the vault. He is positive that there were four bags, because he remembers making two trips in placing the money in the vauits, taking a bag in each hand each trip. He then locked the vault door, he says, and left the office, locking the office door after him, and was absent from the office about half an hour attending to the three passenger trains. On returning he found the office locked and also the safe, which he opened to put other articles in. STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE.

On opening the door he was horrified to find one of the bags containing $15.000 missing. He immediately sent a messenger to awaken Agent Ruess. Thinking there might have been a mistake in the number of bags delivered by the messenger on the train, Mr. Ruess telegraphed him at Wadena, and was informed that there had been four bags, as stated by the clerk. Mr. Ruess then telegraphed to St. Paul, and learned that the amount above-named had been sent. So it must have been taken in some manner from the safe in this office, or it was taken before the clerk put the bags in the safe. This the clerk denies, as he says he distinctly remembers placing the four bags in the safe. The disappearance of the money is mysterious, indeed, and the company's officials claim they have no clue, or no idea how it could have been taken. Agent Ruess has the utmost confidence in the night clerk, and says he is confident that he is perfectly innocent. As a result of the robbery only a part of the company's employes could be paid to-day.

Suicide in Chicago of a Man Who Had a Fondness for Actresses and Whose Life Was a Mystery.

CHICAGO, April 18.—A gentleman who has been stopping at the Hotel Richelieu since April 10, and was registered as Sidney Walters, committed suicide with morphine in his room last night. There is considerable mystery about the case. Mr. Walters has spent money freely and made many friends since arriving at the hotel. and there has been nothing in his behavior at any time to indicate an intention of suicide. The suicide was attired in a new and expensive full evening dress suit, including the regulation swallow-tail coat, white tie, boutonnierre, kid gloves and patent leather shoes. He had evidently intended to die in good form, and he succeeded. Why he committed suicide is not yet thoroughly developed. That he had two or more wives and was engaged in several gallantries is believed to have had something to do with it. Morris Greenburg of this city says that Walters boarded with him in this city in 1887, together with his wife, an actress, whose name is Malvina Renner. He seemed to have plenty of money, and lived in good style. After residing with Mr. Greenburg for seven months the two moved to the North side, where they started housekeeping at 208 La Salle avenue. They lived in the height of style, went in the best of society, had a grand turnout, and were much sought after by the swell people of the North side. The suicide was attired in a new and expensive out, and were much sought after by the swell people of the North side. An adventure of gallanty in which Mrs. Walters discovered her husband to have been the principal, led to a senaration, and the wife returned to the stage. She is said to be playing in a variety theater in Minneapolis at present. Her brother, George Renner, is treasurer of the Olympic theater in this city. To a reporter he said: "Walters came to this country eight years ago, and seven years ago he married my sister. His past life was always

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

A great many people who knew him in the old country said that he had been a deserter from the English army, had been tried and convicted, and was just about to be transported as a convict when he escaped and came to America. He was a fearfully wild tellow and never supported my sister and she was coming to Chicago this week to institute divorce proceedings. He was continually in scrapes with other women, and several months ago, for weeks, he had three or four and sometimes half a dozen women at the Lasaile avenue house, where they carried on scandalously. He was a gambler and spent all he could get hold of in card playing. How many other wives he had I don't know." Walters must have notified a woman at Pittsburg of his intended self-destruction, as a telegram was received to-day signed by Mrs. Nora Ermann asking if he had committed suicide. A special dispatch from Pittsburg says that Mrs. Ermann asserts that Walters was the husband of Estelle Clayton, the actress. A telegram was received at the hotel last night from Waiters' wife, duted from Cleveland. She was immediately notified of her husband's death. At the inquest to-day Mrs. Walters said that she had been married to Mr. Walters about six months. He was an Englishman and a London newspaper man of considerable prominence. She did not know whether or not he was related to John Walters, the well-known London newspaper man. Since he had been in Chicago she had received three letters from her husband, in one of which he said he was tired of living and wanted to die.

CLEVELAND, April 18.—J. Sidney Walters came to this city from Plusburg about two months ago, where he was engaged as advertising solicitor for a historical publishing company. Here he has been engaged in the same business until about a week ago, when he left the city for Chicago. Some years ago he was employed in Chicago in canvas-ing for portraits and the sale of the history of Chicago, and previous to that time he was connected with Reid, Murdock & Fisher and with the Grocers' Regulator, a local publication. His wife was formerly Malvina Renner, a vocalist who was lately singing at St. Paul. For the past week the alleged wife of Sidney Walters has been residing with Rose Belmont, a notorious woman on Johnson street. She claimed that he would have married her, but he could not obtain a divorce from his lawful wife, who he alleged was Estelle Cayton, the actress. KNOWN IN CLEVELAND.

Malvina Renner is at present with a troupe which is engaged by G. Deisting at his concert hall, 114 Hennepin avenue, Minneapoiis. She received a telegram vesterday in rezard to Walters' having committed suicide, and was very much affected. She immediately telegraphed to her brother in Chicago to attend to his burial, and said she would leave for Chicago as soon as possible. She said that Walters was her husband, and that the woman in Chicago who claimed to be his wife was an impostor,

Woodson, of the Fifth cavalry, says he will search every outfit to make sure that there is no liquor of any description taken in Okiahoma. If he does he will prevent no less than a dozen men, who are camped here with all the way from a ten-gallon keg to ten barrels of whisky, who intend opening saloons in Okiahoma. A bank was organized here today by prominent capitalists, which will open for business on the 22d at Lisbon.

HOMESTEADS IN OKLAHOMA.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Commissioner Stockslager has made public a letter concerning homestead entries in Okiahoma, addressed to Mr. D. D. Halstead, Purcell, Indian Territory. It runs thus: In reference to a memorandum of five questions received from you under date of the 15th inst, I have to state that it is not usual to answer hypothetical questions, but in view of the anomalous conditions affecting the public lands in Oklahoma, I will state as follows, viz.

First—A person desiring to become an actual settler under the homestead law may initiate his claim by entry at the district land office, after properly selecting and examining the land desired, in which case he is allowed six months from date of entry within which to establish his actual residence on the land, or, if he so elect, he may initiate his claim by actual settlement on the land which may consist of some act or acts connecting him-elf with the particular tract claimed, said act or acts to be equivalent to an announcement of his nintention, and from which the public generally may have notice

Fourth—The act of March 2. 1889 enacts that until said lands are opened for settlement by proclamation of the president no person shall be permitted to enter upon and occupy the same; and any person violating this provision shall never be permitted to enter any of said lands or acquire any right thereto. The president's proc-lamation of March 23, 1889, calls attention ex-pressly to this provision and directs that it be strictly enforced. See circular of April 1, 1889, convincinged.

That Offer of $5,000.

Our readers will doubtless call to mind the offer so widely advertised for the past ten years by H. H. Warner & Co., the proprietors of Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Log Cabin Remedies, that they would pay $5,000 to any person who would prove to an impartial referee that they had ever published a testimonial that was not genuine so far as they knew.

This offer had the ring of honesty about it, and as the matter has an especial interest just now we give a copy of the offer as it appears in the Messrs. H. H. Warner & Co.'s pamphlet:

23 AN OFFER 0$ $5,000,. 35 Every Testimonial published by us is Bona Fide, and, so far as we know, is absolutely true. To any one who will prove the contrary to an impartial referee we will give $5,000, H. H. WARNER & CO. Rochester, N. Y., January 2, 1888.

We ask the reader's careful attention to the following testimonials, as bearing on the offer, and their un-biased opinion of the same with reference to the $5,000.
