Scranton, Pa., probably fatally burned Andrew Nichols, the superintendent; Richard Mason, the inside foreman, and John Lavern, Samuel Williams and John Jones. A mad dog ran amuck on the thoroughfares of Waseca, Wis., snapping at pedestrians, and bitting several unlucky curs whom he "met by-the-way." The rabid dog, as well as those he bit, were slaughtered.

Albert Johnson, a Swede laborer, employed in Breene's East side quarries, at St. Cloud, Minn., was horribly mangled by the premature explosion of a dynamite blast. His wrists were broken, and a heavy stone fell on his breast, and it is thought that he is internally injured. His wounds may prove fatal

The supposed stranger who lost his life on the railroad between Willmar and Kandiyo hi recently, has been identified as Erick Eastlund, a retired farmer living with his son in the eastern portion of the county. The old man took the westbound freight train at Atwater on the same evening, and must have fallen from the caboose platform. The matter remains a mystery, It is said that the deceased was subject to spells of temporary insanity.

A party consisting of nine people, supped at the residence of Rev. J. B. Thomas in Dubuque, Iowa, and shortly afterward six of thenine were taken violently ill. Among the stricken were W. R. Bascom, general fieight agent of the Illinois Central, and his wife, Mr. Thomas and his family were also taken down at the same time. Physicians worked all night with their patients and they are still very ill. The sickness was caused by dried beef of which all partook.

Atatal accident occurred near Eldora, Iowa While out hunting Banker L. F. Wisner was accidentally shot and killed by his only son George, aged twenty-three. Mr. Wisner was president and principal owner of the Hardon county Bank, owned several thousand acres of land and was the wealthiest man in Cen-tral Iowa, being very popular and widely known. His wife and young son are almost crazed over the tragedy.

Criminal Doings.

War is being waged against the gamblers at Saratoga. and it looks as though every form of gambling had to go. Many arrests have been made.

Mrs. C. V. Woodward was found in an un conscious state at her home in Oshkosh, Wis. Wounds in her skull and face gave evidence of attempted murder.

The town of Hampton, Iowa, was thrown into quite a state of excitement, by the discovery that the widow Kosanko had committed suicide by hanging over a screen door with her feet resting upon the floor. The cause, as yet, is unknown.

sentenced to one year at Waupun for stealing from patrons at the River side house. His thefts extend over a long period, and he was finally caught with a marked coin.

Quite a sensation was caused at Milwaukee by the filing of a suit for $25,000 damages for breach of promise against George Hiles, a millionaire lumberman of that city, by Miss Elizabeth Carter. The plaintiff alleges Miss Edizabeth Carter. The plaintiff alleges that under promise of marriage she had lived with Mr. Hiles, who is a married man with a large family, for several years, and that he had failed to keep good his agreement.

A man who gave his name as Henry Scheffler, from Anoka, Minn., attempted to rob a stranger at Moorhead, Minn. He drew a knife and demanded money. When about accomplishing his purpose a team came up and the highwayman fled. The two men in the wagon pursued and overtook him. He drew his knife and would not be arrested, Chief Sullivan pursued and arrested him He is said to be the same party who robbed a man in Fargo of $100.

Mat Nelson and a friend named Miller were stopped by a highwayman three miles south of Baldwin, Wis. They were driving in a buggy when the robber sprang from the side of the road, caught the horse by the head and ordered a halt. One of the men in

The wife of Attorney W. H. Tupper of Fresno, knocked at the door of her servant girl, Elizabeth Verner, to ask her to bring in breakfast. Receiving no response, she opened the door and saw on the bed the girl and her lover, Andrus Olsen, clasped in each other's arms. The girl was dead and Olsen died in a few minutes. On the table near was found an empty bottle that had contained noison. The most plausible reason for the poison. The most plausible reason for the supposed suicide seem to be that the couple desired to be married, but their love affairs were interfered with by another party who was a constant visitor to the house.

A bold attempt to assassinate Deputy United States Marshal Sam Hughes took place at Whitewill, Tenn. The deputy marshal had arrested John Tipton for moon-shining, and had left bim with an accompany-ing officer, and had gone further down the mountain to arrest some of his colleagues. when he suddenly ran upon two men with shotguns. They told the officer to skip, and upon his refusing to do so, one of them, John Hobs, fired at him at a space of thirty yards, eight buckshot taking effect. The officer pulled his revolver as the would-be assassin and off but as it refused to work he can'd ran off, but as it refused to work he could not shoot. He was not fatally wounded.

The friends of Mr. Conybeare, the imprisoned member of the British parliament, are furious at his treatment by the prison authorities. On the second day of his confinement he caught the itch, but was not permitted to communicate the fact to his friends outside. He is only now enabled to make his condition known through a clever strategy. He says the Deery jail, in which he is confined, is a perfect pest house.

Capt. Algar, of the sealer Allie Algar, just arrived at Victoria from Deep bay, reports as follows: "On July 30 we were boarded by officers from the cutter Rush in Behring sea, fifty miles from St. Paul. The captain searched us, but, though we had skins aboard, found none. He told us that on July 29 he had seized the schooner Pathfinder, of this port, put a prize crew aboard her and sent her to Sitka, taking out 800 skins He also told us that he had seized the schooner Minnie, also of Victoria, Capt. Jacobs, the owner, aboard, with 850 skins. He also put a crew aboard ner, and sent her Sister. to Sitka. He also told us that he had over-hauled the schooners Ariel and Therese, and, although he found skins aboard them, had left them go out of the sea without molestation. He did not give his reason for this."
On the trip down Capt. Algar sighted first the Minnie and then the Pathfinder, each with one man as a prize crew aboard. Both signalled their intention of not going to Sitka, but of coming to Victoria.

The Fourth Annual Exposition had a very satisfactory opening at Minneapolis. To be sure, there was the usual tardiness of exhibitors in getting their exhibits in place, and the sound of eloquence had occasionally to complete with the hammer and saw, but on the whole, the preparations were as forward as could be expected, and enough was seen to convince everyone that there is a great treat in store for them, when, in a day or two, all the displays shall be in proper form. The day was a perfect one for the parade, and it was a success. ## North Dakota Politics.

Miller Nominated for Governor of North Dakota by Acclamation.

The Republican State Convention of North Dakota met at Fargo. The first session was devoted to preliminars. An adjournment was taken until 1:30 o'clock, and during this interval the supporters of both candidates left nothing within the range of human possibilities that could either strengthen their own posibion or weaken the other fellows. At 2 p'clock the committee on credentials came into the hall with two reports, a majority and a minority report. The majority report recommended that one-half of each of the contesting delerations from Cavalier county be seated. The Griggs county case was decided in favor of David Bartlett. Ramsey county was given to Hansbrough. The Ransom contest was given to the Goodwin delegation. This re-CONSIDERABLE DISCUSSION and filibustering, was adopted. Those who felt inclined to oppose it yielded for the sake of saying time. The vote on this report showed the superior strength of the Miller combine and it at once appeared evident that they proposed to push the advantage and carry their point on the permanent organization. The committee on permanent organization reported the name of N. M. Johnson of Nelson for chairman, and the Tyler men nominated E. A. Williams. After a great deal of filibustering the vote was a great deal of filibustering the vote was taken amidst the greatest excitement, and resulted in the election of Johnson by a vote of 131 to 136. This was the first decisive victory for the Miller men. It was followed by a report of the committee on the order of business, after which the Tyler faction, seeing their danger, endeavored to get an adjournment, but falled. The Miller leader, flushed with victory and finding their forces standing together, insisted on proceeding with the nomination for governor, and carried their victory and finding their forces standing together, insisted on proceeding with the nomination for governor, and carried their point by an increased majority. The opposing candidates were then placed in nomination and the ballot taken. As the roll call progressed, Traill and Morton counties, which had before stood with the Tyler forces, went over bodily to Miller, increasing his strength by twenty votes. This settled the contest, and before the roll was completed Col. Plummer, of the Cass county delegation, moved to suspend the call and to make the nomination unanimous. This was received with indescribable enthusiasm. It was then after 7 o'clock and the convention adjourned until 8:30. Before reconvening the nominations were resumed in the following order: For secretary of state, John Flittle of Trail, by acclamation: supreme court judges, G. C. H. Corliss of Grand Forks, L. C. Johnson of Cass, Johnson Rickeus of Stutsman, A. B. Levisee of Trail, Alfred Wallin of Cass, Bartholemew of La Moure. The vote stood as follows: Corliss, 230; Bartholemew, 141; Wallin, 192; Nickeus, 115; Levisee, 61; Johnson, 45; Corliss, Wallin and Bartholomew were accordingly declared the nominees. For member of congress, L. C. Hansbrough of Ramsey, C. A. M. Spencer of Walsh, Col. C. A. Lounsberry of Ramsey and Charles A. Van Warner of Batness. Before the roll call was completed Hansbrough had shown such overwhelming strength that his nomination nomination WAS MADE UNANIMOUS, and after a brief speech he was carried out of the hall on the shoulders of his friends. Here a motion to adjourn was lost and the nominations for lieutenant governor was next taken up. Alfred Dickey and F. B. Fancher, both of Stutsman, were piaced in nomination, the latter by a delegate from another county. The Stutsman delegation made a vigorous fight against Fancher, Dickey being the unanimous choice of the delegation. The vote as the roll progressed was so one-sided that it was not completed and Dickey's nomination was made unanimous. John O. Bray of Grand Forks was nominated for auditor without opposition. H. R. WAS MADE UNANIMOUS. for auditor without opposition. H. R. Lyon of Morton and L. D. Booker of Pembina were brought out for treasurer, and Booker got the nomination by a vote of 145 to 116. The candidates for atand Booker got the nomination by a vote of 145 to 116. The candidates for attorney general were J. W. Scott of Barnes and Gen. F. Goodwin of Ransom. The latter secured the nomination. Leonard A. Rose, the present superintendent of schools, and Judge William Mitchell, county superintendent for Cass county, were the candidates for state superintendent. Judge Mitchell was nominated. intendent. Judge Mitchell was nominated.

A Soldiers' Monument.

The corner stone of then Idiana soldiers and sailors' monument was laid as Indian apolis, Ind., with imposing ceremonies in the presence of the president of the United States. Many men of prominence of the United States and thousands of veteran soldiers and sailors were present.
The city was aflame with color in honor of the occasion. The exercises of the day began at 2 o'clock, when the parade formed and began its march through the principal streets. It was made up of various posts of the G. A. R. throughout the state, and the state militia and local civic organizations state militia and local civic organizations. It is estimated that 8,000 were in line. It was nearly 3 o'clock when the head of the procession reached the monument. All the streets surrounding it were packed with people, all anxious to catch a glimpse of the president and other prominent personages who appeared on the speakers' stand, and to witness the ceremonies. As the president was recognized on the stand he was greeted with a cheer which he As the president was recognized on the stand he was greeted with a cheer, which he acknowledged with a slight bow. The crowd watched in silence the laying of the corner stone by Charles M. Travis, deputy commander of the Indiana department, G. A. R. Hovey, as presiding officer of the occasion, made a brief address, and he was followed by Gen. M. D. Munson of Crawfordsville and Gen. John Coburn of Indianapolis.

Indianapolis. THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS. At the conclusion of the latter's address President Harrison was introduced to the assemblage, and after the applause which greeted him had ended, he spoke as follows: resident harms was indeduced to the assemblage, and after the applause which are have been few occasions in the history of our state so full of interest, so manificent, so inspiring, as that which we now witness. The suggestion that a monument should be builded to commemorate the valor and heroism of those soldiers of Indiana who gave their lives for the fing attracted my interest from the beginning. Five years ago last January, when the people assembled in the opera house yonder to unveil the statue which had been worthly set up to our feet war governor, I ventured to express the hope that near by it, as a twin expression of one great sentiment, there might be builded a noble shaft, not to say man, not to bear on any of its majestic faces the name of a man, but a monument about which the Sons of Veterans, the mothers of our dead, the widows that are yet with us might pather and pointing to the stately shaft say: There is his monument. The hope expressed that day is realized now. My countrymen, $200,000 has never passed and that will give a better return than the expenditure for the erection of this monument. This is a monument of Indiana to Indiana to Indiana until the enistment of which was taken; that from that hour until they came back to the generous state that and sent them forth they were soldiers of the Union. to come, who will not feel that it is good for all of our people that victory crowned the cause which this monument commemorates. I do seriously believe that if we can measure among the states the benefits resulting from the preservation of the Union, that the rebellious states have the larker share, It destroyed an institution that was their destruction. It opened the way for a commercial life that if they will only embrace it and face the light means to them a development that shall rival the best attainments of the greatest of our states. I have felt lifted up by this locasion. It seems to me that our spirite have been borne up to meet those of the dead and glorified, and that from this place we shall go to our homes more resolutely set in our purposes as citizens to conserve the peace and welfare of our neighborhoods, to hold up the dignity and honor of our free institutions, and to see that no harm shall come to our country, whether from international dissensions or from the aggressions of a foreign foe.

The address was interrupted by frequent applause. Following the president, Gen. Rusk, Attorney General Miller and Private Secretary Halford delivered short addresses.

Mahone for Governor,

NORFOLK, Va., Special: The Republican state convention to nominate candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general convened here to-day. The entrance of W. C. Elam, George E. Bowden and other notables was greeted with cheers, which became tumultuous when Gen. Mahone apeame tumultuous when Gen. Mahone appeared, After the audience became silent, Rev. Vernon L Anson advanced to the footlights and offered a prayer. Then Gen. Mahone commenced his address amidst loud cheers. He accused the Democrats of overtaxing the masses, swindling the voters, driving capital out of the state, taking away the cheatity of tomake in insense asylume. the chastity of females in insane asylums, and being utterly unable to deal with the in 'lic debt question. Among the utterances in Gen. Mahone's address were these:

In Gen. Mahone's address were these:

In ten years the party has grown in numbers from $4,000 votes cast for Gen. Garfield in 1880 to 151,000 grudgingly conceded by our Democratic friends for Gen. Harrison in 1888. There is no fair-minded man in the state who does not believe that you polled a majority of the votes cast at the late presidential election. It is of record that even in two of our ten congressional districts of the state there were in line when the polls closed more than twice as many Republican voters as the beggarly majority by which the electoral vote of the state was taken, who by the discieputable conduct of the Democratic managers had not been allowed to deposit their bailots.

Touching the negro question, he said.

Touching the negro question, he said: Touching the negro question, he said:
The unmanly cover under which the Democratio managers have misled public thought and have incited ungovernable apprehension has been a pretended concern for the safety of our civilization—the fear of domination of our affairs by the colored man—and under that cover they have led too many honest and honorable men to acquiesce in the most shameful outrages upon popular government.

After this speech a recess was taken until 3 o'clock to allow the districts to name men

3 o'clock to allow the districts to name men for the committees. When the convention met again the committees were announced, and another recess was taken until 7 o'clock to allow them to report. At to-night's session Hon. George E. Bowden of Norfolk was made permanent chairman, and Col. Asa was made permanent chairman, and Col. Asa Rogers permanent secretary. The Mahone delegates in cases where there were contests were seated in three out of four cases, and in the fourth the vote was divided between the two delegations. The platform was read by Col. W. C. Elam of Louisa. It pledges the Republican party, if given power, to settle the state debt permanently, satisfactorily and without increasing the state tax. Gen. Mahone was nominated for goveraor by Col.
William Lamb of Norfolk, who made a brilliaat speech, S. Brown Allen, R. A. Paul, A.
W. Harris and others seconded the nomination. Gen. Mahone was unanimously nomition. Gen. Mahone was unanimously nomi-nated for governor, and Col. Campbell G Slemp for lieutenant governor.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Special: Christian Wil helm Luca, a well-to-do German groceryman, was literally backed to pieces with s man, was literally hacked to pieces with s bowie knife in the hands of Charles McElwain, who had burg!ariously entered his store early this morning. McElwain had two accomplices. McElwain entered the second story window by means of a ladder. As he reached the passage-way the poise awakened Luca, who got up to see what was the matter. He saw McElwain and grappled with him at once. The noise of the tussic aroused of Mrs. Luca, who rushed into the room. Luca was then down on one knee, and his assailant was striking him repeatedly with a big knife. Mrs. Luca caught the murderer by the arm, but McElwain pushed her off and jumped out of the window. Luca died about ten minutes afterward. As McElwain ran down the street he was caught with the bloody knife in his possession and taken to the station house. McElwain confessed he stabbed Luca and told where he lived. Martin Dinen, one of the two men who waited outside the house, was arrested to-day in New York. He confessed he was implicated in the attempted burglary, but says he knows nothing of the murder. To-night Tom Quinlan, the third of the murderers, surrendered himself to the police in Brooklyn.
