Casper Green of West Newton has sold his farm to Wenzel Frank. Consideration $4,100. The night engine in the depot yards has been taken off. The engineer and fireman go to Waseca. Chas. Heymann will take Mr. Frank's place as book-keeper in the hardware store of Jacob Klossner Jr.

Henry Oswald of Sleepy Eye has been granted a pension. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ross will take their departure for Minneapolis in a week from to-day. A daughter of Wenzel Dauer died last Thursday and was buried Saturday. She was twelve years old. Louis Bushard of West Newton has bought 160 acres of farm land from Xavier Brunner for $2,400. Otto Pless, head miller in the Empire Mill has been up in Meeker County the past week with the view of purchasing a mill. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hauenstein early Thursday morning, or just in time to make their Christmas unusually happy. In the district court at St. Peter last week a verdict for $600 damages was rendered against a man for accusing his son of stealing his hogs. The body of the great Indian chief, Sitting Bull, was carried through here a few days ago, billed for the war department at Washington. G. Fischer, a student at the college, has gone to Renville to take charge of his brother's church, while the latter goes to Europe to be married. August Schell and F. Grebe have the thanks of the Review composers, the former for an eighth of the "nutritious," and the latter for a case of the bottled liquid. We were in error last week in stating that the mother of J. Q. A. Current had died in Oshawa. The article should have referred to Mrs. Coffin, a sister of Mr. Current's mother. While the whole east is suffering from severe cold weather, people in New Ulm are enjoying themselves in rolling nine-pins with their coats off in the latter part of December. Co-morrow the carrier of the Review will visit his patrons with a neatly printed calendar gotten up by himself. Further explanation will no doubt be afforded by the carrier himself. A largely attended and enjoyable party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fritsche at their home in Lafayette Sunday evening. A number of New Ulm people were counted among the guests. The residence of Col. Bobleter, at 255 West Seventh street, was the scene of a conflagration last night. A Christmas tree laden with presents caught fire and burned. No other damage was done. Thursday's Globe. The marriage of Miss Ida Baarsch, of this city, and Mr. Edwin J. Richter, of St. Paul, has been announced for the 20th of January. The bride is a daughter of F. W. Baarsch, and the groom is a son of ex-Sheriff Richter, of Ramsey County. H. F. Pfeifer, formerly of this city, now employed on the Slayton Pioneer, received of the St. Paul Globe a lady's engraved gold-filled hunting case Elgin watch for the second nearest guess on the vote of S. M. Owen for governor. His guess was 58,645 while Mr. Owen received 58,513. The Spokane Falls Post tells of the departure of Carl Brauns, who, by the way, isn't altogether unknown in New Ulm, to San Francisco, and tops off its farewell notice by saying that there are many people in Spokane Falls who feel that Brauns is sater in the California town than he would be in Spokane Falls. County Auditor Bertrand remarked Saturday that he had traveled over railroads in Germany, Belgium, Austria, England and the United States and had never yet been on a train when a wreck occurred, or ever had a delay for a derailed car. He averages 125 trips a year between this place and New Ulm. Sleepy Eye Dispatch. State Treasurer Bobleter's bond for $400,000 has been filed with the secretary of state. The bondsmen are Gov. Merriam, A. H. Wilder, Wm. Dawson Jr., Robert A. Smith, R. L. Miller, W. Dawson, Joseph Lockey, F. Driscoll, J. H. Hulsick, J. H. Allen, A. Sternberg, Patrick Reigher, J. B. Sanborn, Ferdinand Willius and J. H. Weed. Will Holden left Tuesday in search of new evidence which he hopes will give a new turn to his brother's case. He received a telegram on Monday, which leads him to believe that the evidence will be forthcoming. He has the sympathy of the entire community in the gallant struggle he is making to save his brother's life and it is hoped he may be successful. Laverne News. Eriday night, an accident occurred at the home of E. G. Pahl, which was all but a fatal one. The little children were playing in a room upstairs around a Christmas tree that they had lighted without the knowledge of their parents, and in some way one of them, Alice, fell against the tree so that her dress caught fire. A cry for help brought the mother into the room, and with good presence of mind she soon extinguished the flames. Luckily the child wore a heavy woolen dress and the flames were thus prevented from making very rapid progress, but even as it was, the accident was sad enough, her face and arms being severely burned. Dr. Hirsch is the attending physician.

A girl was born to Isodor Haas Sunday. Sheriff Schmid was down from Springfield Monday. Twins—boys—arrived in the family of Emil Seiter last Saturday. H. G. Hays of the Dispatch and Geo. W. Somerville were here Monday. Clerk of Court George has issued 90 citizen's papers during the past year. The Bijou theatre in Minneapolis burned to the ground Sunday morning. Auditor-elect Krook will appoint as his deputy in the office, Ole Jorgeson of Linden. Casper Green of West Newton has purchased a half interest in the Gibbon flouring mill. It is rumored that a change will soon occur in the business management of T. Crone's stores. Within a week the Eagle Mill has received orders for 29 cars of flour from points in England, Scotland and Ireland. There have been seven patients sent to the insane asylum from this county during the year, of which number one has been discharged. During the past year the New Ulm Vinegar Works has manufactured and sold 5,000 barrels of vinegar. Every year is adding to the output of this paying industry. While crossing the railroad track last Saturday, the rear end of a wagon belonging to Herman Nagel was caught between two cars, that were being switched, and was smashed into splinters. Ole Jorgenson, Lars Frederickson, of Cobden, Jesse Palmer, of Home, Sam Bellig of Stark and Henry Scheibl, of Cottonwood, left Monday afternoon for St. Paul to attend the State Alliance convention. In the window of O. M. Olson's store for the past two or three days there has been an exhibition one of the most handsome organs we have ever seen. The organ is of the Estey make, of new style, and of antique oak finish, that is elegant enough to do grace to any home. In 1890, Clerk of Court George issued 140 licenses to wed. This is nine less than last year and eight less than in 1888. The number issued in each month is as follows: January, 8; February, 6; March, 7; April, 16; May, 11; June 13; July, 11; August, 7; September, 15; October, 15; November, 21; December, 7. There has been a raise of two cents on all freight within the past few days, and also an additional raise of 2 1/2 cents in transit freight. The latter makes the actual raise in most freight 4 1/2 cents. This, it is said, will effect the price of wheat to the extent of 2 1/2 cents per bushel, which must naturally come out of the farmer's pocket. On Saturday evening Miss Annie Marschner and Edgar Small were quietly married by Justice Baasen. The bride is a daughter of Bernhard Marschner of Cottonwood and the groom is at present manager of Mr. Marschner's woolen mill. He came here recently from Prince Edward's Island. The Review extends its congratulations. The Eagle Mill Company presented their patrons this year with some very fine calendars—calendars that would do credit to any establishment. We acknowledge the receipt of one, which we have assigned to the most prominent place in our sanctum. The Empire Mill also issued some very pretty cards and supplied their friends with tasty annuals. To-night, Wednesday, the Battery gives its ball at Turner Hall. Great preparations have been made to make of it a pleasant social affair and everybody should encourage the battery by their presence. In case of rough or inclement weather, busses will be run to and from the hall, and those desiring to ride to the hall, can leave orders with F. Burg, Peter Herian or Leonard Haberle. The St. Paul Dispatch of Saturday had the following bit of political news relating to C. H. Ross of this city: "The term of Railroad Commissioner John L. Gibbs will expire in January and there is some speculation concerning his successor. While it has been generally conceded that Mr. Gibbs, who has made an excellent and capable officer, would succeed himself, it is learned that Hon. C. H. Ross, of New Ulm, cashier of the Brown County bank, is a candidate for the position and his friends are very urgent in his behalf." Gustav Oetting, the young man, who was brought to his home in Courtland from the college at St. Peter a couple of weeks ago on account of sickness, died last Wednesday morning at about five o'clock. The complaint from which he died was typhoid fever, and while his illness was of short duration, it was severe while it lasted. He was a man of 21 years, and was just entering that period of knowledge and usefulness when it is most desirable to live and which makes death at that time particularly sad. He was also a person of good habits and one whom it was a pleasure to know. The funeral occurred Friday.

Be sure to attend the Alliance ball next Sunday. John N. Jones, government timber agent, was in the city Monday. H. Lohyde went to St. Peter Monday to receive treatment from Dr. James for an ear trouble. Jos. Epple was brought to his home in this city from Springfield last week on account of sickness. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Seiter entertained a number of friends in a very happy manner Monday evening. F. N. Stewart, division superintendent of the Northwestern road, paid New Ulm an official visit, Monday. W. Landwehr of Milwaukee spent a portion of the week with the family of his uncle, John Schapekahn. John Brunner was kicked in the shin of his right leg by a horse last week and will be laid up for two or three weeks in consequence. Lindsay, the little son of Ed. Gilley of Courtland, died last week and was taken to Stoughton, Wis., for burial. Mr. Gilley now talks of removing from this vicinity. Selah Chamberlain, the great railroad contractor of Cleveland, Ohio, is dead. People will remember that his name was prominently connected at one time with the famous Minnesota railroad bonds. The committee on arrangements for the grand masquerade ball to be given by the Turnverein, January 24th, held its first meeting Monday evening and planned an extensive programme. The Ladies' Society has also chosen a committee to co-operate with the Turnverein committee, and an old time masquerade may be looked for. The youngsters, who are constantly intruding upon the skating rink in spite of orders to keep off, will sooner or later come to trouble over their mischievous pranks. Up to this time the rink has not been ready for skating, but there are a certain lot of boys who seem to take delight in going on to the thin ice and breaking it up, thus causing extra trouble and expense to those who are laboring to place the rink in a first-class condition. An arrest or two seems to be the only thing that will cause them to desist, and something of that kind will surely be done unless the boys keep off the ice when they are told to. "A colony of beavers on the Little Cannon river above Cannon Falls," says the Janesville Argus, "is attracting much attention. Hon. W. E. Poe, who lives only about three-quarters of a mile distant, vouches to the Red Wing Republican for the statement that they recently cut off a poplar measuring fifty-two inches in circumference, dragging the severed portion into the river. The size of this colony has never been ascertained, as no one has been able to see them at work, but from the operations they have performed it is quite evident that there is a considerable number. In one place they have dammed the river so as to turn the water flow upon an adjoining marsh. The section around them is filled with tree stumps, the tops of which they have severed."

Aug. Hoffman, the Springfield miller, and Hugo Schleuder and August Koehler Sundayed in our city. The Verdict Unanimous. W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in very case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 2 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 25 years' experience, is Electric Bitter." Thousands of others, have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Chas. Miss Rila Laudenschlager was the fortunate possessor of ticket No. 113 which drew the silk spread made by Mrs. W. I. Carver, of Tracy. Alonzo H. Pickle has been appointed postmaster at Golden Gate to succeed Wm. Dey, whose term has expired. The appointment seems to meet with general favor. The Mankato Free Press of Wednesday contained the announcement that a marriage license has been granted to And. J. Domeier, of this county, and Miss Maggie Lees, of Mankato. The pony that was used by the late Sitting Bull passed through here recently on its way to San Francisco. The animal was shipped by express, and the express charges alone amounted to $150. J. L. Holst, the man who was sentenced from Redwood County to 90 days in our county jail for abuse of his wife, received a very nice gift on Christmas day in the shape of a pardon from Gov. Merriam. His sentence would have expired February 1st. Dr. J. W. B. Wellcome returned from his western tour last Thursday afternoon. The doctor claims to have enjoyed the trip immensely, but says that as far as embarking in business is concerned, he would advise no one to do so who did not have plenty of capital. At a meeting of the Sons of Hermann lodge on Friday evening the following officers were elected: President, Gustave Goetsch; vice-president, Jos. Galles; cor. secretary, Chas. Kroll; financial secretary, Gottlieb Dittmann; treas., John Bellm; trustee, Julius Berndt. Wm. G. Frank, who for five years has been the book-keeper in the store of Jacob Klossner Jr., will his position the first of the year. He has not yet decided upon engaging in any particular line of business, but his thorough competence ensures success in his future undertakings. A prairie fire started in the neighborhood of Chas. Engel's farm in Sigel Sunday afternoon and the heavy wind caused it to spread rapidly. A good deal of hay was burned and the house of Mr. Engel would also have been destroyed had it not been for the hard work of Mr. Engel and his neighbors. The story of the discovery of a cave near Le Sueur, purporting to have been the rendezvous of the Younger Brothers, was all a fake. The story was written by a newspaper man who was visiting near Le Sueur and who borrowed the idea from a similar tale that appeared in a Sioux City paper several years ago. Archbishop Ireland has appointed Rev. Bernhard Sandmeyer of Minneapolis, formerly of Sleepy Eye, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Bergbold. The Mianepolis Journal says of him: Father Sandmeyer's farewell sermon was preached last Sunday. The priest has worked industriously for years, and through his efforts the affairs of the parish are in excellent shape. There is general regret among the parishioners over the change. An effort is being made to have the decree by which Father Sandmeyer is sent to New Ulm rescinded. These spent Christmas with relatives in our city: Chas. Hauser and family of St. Paul, A. G.
