If Chas. Wagner cannot suit you in wall paper and carpets, nobody else can.

The prescription department of the City Drug Store is in charge of G. Kiesel and O. Seiter, both pharmacists of long experience.

Go to Chas. Wagner's and take a look at his line of carpets and wall paper.

BOY WANTED.

Boy wanted to learn barber's trade. Fred Peuser.

Chas. Wagner can this spring furnish you with wall paper and carpets to your satisfaction.

The City Drug Store is the place to buy your base ball goods. Henningsen & Kiesel carry a complete stock at lowest prices.

MILLINERY EXCLUSIVELY.

As we handle absolutely nothing but our millinery, stock is naturally larger than any other in the city and we are better able to suit your tastes than all competitors. We sell ladies and children's trimmed hats for 25 cents and up. Remember too that these are in the very latest styles.

Mrs. B. FOLLMANN.

THE JEWEL GASOLINE STOVE.

With the opening of spring it is time that you will be looking around for a gasoline stove. In doing so, do not forget that J. B. Arnold carries the Jewel, the best gasoline stove in the market. He also handles the Quick Meal.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having purchased the City Drug Store of C. L. Roos, we desire to say that we have this week taken full charge, and now solicit a share of the public patronage. We expect to replenish our stock, and to merit, if possible, a continuance of the favors that have been accorded our predecessor. Henningsen & Kiesel.

Ordinance No. 35.

An ordinance amending Ordinance No. 5, being an ordinance relating to animals running at large.

The City Council of the City of New Ulm do ordain:

Sec. 1. That Section No. 2 of Ordinance No. 5 of said city, being an ordinance relating to animals running at large, approved June 30th, 1887, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "geese", where the same first occurs therein, the word "chickens". Said section is hereby further amended by striking out the following words at the end thereof, to-wit: "Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to prevent cows running at large from 5 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening, except during the period from November 1st to April 1st."

Sec. 2. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than fifty dollars and costs, to be recovered summarily before one of the city justices, and be imprisoned until the fine and costs are paid not exceeding sixty days.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall take effect from and after its approval and publication.

Passed April 10th, A. D. 1891.

E. G. KOCH,
President of Council.

LOUIS SCHILLING,
City Clerk.

Approved April 11th, A. D. 1891.

CHARLES WAGNER,

On Monday Sheriff Schmelz informed Clifton Holden that the governor had again fixed the day for execution. The announcement did not seem to trouble him any, and the only thing he said was that he knew of no law that could hang a man twice. For the benefit of Mr. Holden it might be said that ignorance of the law don't excuse a man.

At Turner Hall on Sunday afternoon a good-sized audience gathered to hear Prof. Rhombert's lecture on Culture and Advancement in Liberal Thought. To carry his point the lecturer cited instances of religious persecution in former days, and showed how, step by step, growth in liberality had made such intolerance impossible at the present time. The lecturer is a fluent and pleasing speaker, and did not fail to make many friends by his discourse. He lectured again on Monday evening.

The town is being worked by insurance men. Some there are who think they have been taken in, and before the week is over it is quite likely that something will have dropped.

The contract for carrying the mail over the Sleepy Eye-Madelia route by way of Hanska and Albin, a distance of thirty-two miles and back twice a week, has been awarded to G. D. Jackson at $365. The term extends from July 10, 1891, to June 3, 1895.

While Dietrich Boese was engaged in painting his wind mill last Saturday, a bullet was fired from a gun in the hands of some boy near by and struck the wall within six inches of Boese's head. The young fellow who fired the bullet, should in the future find some other target than a human being. Still better would it be, if he ceased to handle such dangerous weapons altogether.

August Hellmann informs us that on Sunday morning, Mr. Backer, who rents Hellmann's farm, noticed a man walking up the railroad track, and that about the same time his daughter saw that railroad ties had been thrown across the track between the crossing and the graveyard. She went and removed them, of course, and also noticed that a broken coupling pin had been fastened onto one of the rails, so that had a train come down the steep grade before the obstruction had been removed, it would certainly have been wrecked. The man who plotted all this meanness was probably a tramp.

At a meeting of the school board on Friday evening, the matter of gymnastics in the public schools was brought up and thoroughly discussed. When the question was finally put to a vote, the opposition developed the most strength and succeeded in defeating the scheme. Their objection to the introduction of gymnastics in the schools was that it would give rise to much opposition from certain factions in town, which might result injuriously to the school. They also set forth that a good gymnastic school existed in town at present, and that an unnecessary expense would ensue if taught in the schools as it should be taught.

The Minneapolis Journal of Monday contained the latest news in the Holden case. It says: Gov. Merriam was seen this morning with regard to the Holden matter. "Have you reason to believe that new evidence will be forthcoming of a character to justify a further stay?" was asked. "No. So far as any evidence before me now is concerned, the law will take its course." "Has any effort been made since the reprieve to submit evidence bearing on the condemned man's case?" "Well, none has reached me. I really expect nothing of sufficient import can be presented to justify my interference with the execution of the sentence. As matters stand at present Holden will be executed on the date set."

LAST OF THE OLD COUNCIL.

It finishes the Business of the Year and Gives Place to the New One.

Cows Are Deprived of the Liberty of Ranging at Large.

The old council crowded two meetings into last week, the first one being held on Tuesday evening. At this meeting all members were present excepting Stuebe. President Koch occupied the chair, and the first business to command the attention of the council was the canvas of the city election returns. This showed that C. L. Roos had been elected council or for the First ward, Franz Schubert for the Second and Wm. Pfaender for the Third, and that the bonds for $24,000 in aid of the St. Paul New Ulm & Southwestern Railway Company had carried by a vote of 569 to 58. Thereupon the council authorized their issuance, and instructed the clerk to give proper notice to the new members of their election.

The financial statement of the clerk for the year ending April 1st, 1891, was accepted and ordered filed and published. The report of the finance committee to the effect that the books of the clerk and treasurer and also the financial statement had been examined and found correct, was also accepted and the committee discharged from further duty. The council then took up the much vexed cow question, and with no objections directed the city attorney to prepare an amendment to the present ordinance, preventing cows in the future from running at large unless attended by a herder. The attorney was also instructed to prepare an ordinance relating to the burying of the dead and to the cemeteries in this city.

The committee on streets was requested to report to the council at the next meeting what streets should be sprinkled this year, and also to procure proposals for such work.

George Siebenbrunner and Theo. Scheiderich were dropped from membership in the fire department, and after allowing a few small bills the council adjourned.

The second meeting was held Friday evening. All members were present and President Koch presided. The committee on streets recommended the sprinkling of Minnesota street from Second South to Second North, including all cross streets up to the alleys, and the report was accepted, the matter of desirability and assessment being referred to the Board of Public Works.

Pursuant to instructions received at the last meeting, the city attorney then presented a new ordinance in amendment to that existing heretofore, relative to animals running at large during certain seasons of the year. When put to a final vote, the ordinance was passed, those voting in favor of its adoption being Frank, Pfaender, Roos, Stuebe, Schmucker and Mr. President. No one voted in the negative, and it is a credit to the council that this step forward received its unanimous approval. Ordinance 36, providing for the burial of the dead of the city, was also presented and passed by unanimous consent. Those voting on the adoption of the ordinance were Frank, Pfaender, Stuebe, Roos, Schmucker and Mr. President. In further considering the two new ordinances, the clerk was instructed to file the same, and, if approved by the mayor, to have them properly published in the official paper.

The proceedings of the Board of Public Works of March 27th, concerning the assessment of damages in laying out Cemetery Avenue and of grading State Street were read, and after due consideration the assessment of damages was confirmed by the following vote: Ayes, Frank, Roos, Stuebe, Schmucker and the President; Nays, none. Alderman Pfaender was excused from voting for being an interested party. The final order for laying out the new street in question was entered. Quite a little feeling and discussion was aroused over the introduction of a petition of Joseph Flor and others, asking that in the proposed waterworks extension the mains be laid on Centre Street instead of on First Street North. This brought Mr. Schmucker to his feet, and in a forcible speech he moved to lay the petition on the table without considering it. This was lost, however, Frank and Schmucker voting for the motion, and Roos, Pfaender, Stuebe and the President voting against. Alderman Roos then followed up this step with a motion to refer the petition to the Board of Public Works for an opinion as to the necessity or advisability of such improvement and for recommendation as to what portion of the expense should be assessed to abutting property and how much should be borne by the city at large. This motion was carried by the same vote as the other was last.

Applications for liquor licenses from the following persons were then heard, and no objections being raised, the council granted all of them: Chas. Stengel, Anton J. Scherzler, Joseph Schnobrich, Mathias Siebenbrunner, Richard Geisinger, New Ulm Turnverein, New Ulm Brewing Company, John, Pechtel, John Gabriel, Andreas Amann,

Henry Seifert, Joseph Flor, Joseph F. Groebner, Fritz Metzke, Isidor Haas, Wilhelm Amme, Charles Brust, F. W. Baarsch, Weigand Hauenstein, Joseph Schmucker, Edward Maltzahn, John F. Neumann, Fred Klossner and Wenzel Schotzko. The bonds of all except the last named being present and approved, the council ordered the clerk to issue license to such, whose bonds stand approved, upon the payment of proper amount of license.

The city engineer was directed to prepare plans and specifications for the grading of State Street from Second Street South to Seventh North, and to have them filed with the city clerk on or before noon of April 14th next. In this connection the clerk was also instructed to give notice in the Review and Post, inviting bids for grading such part of said street according to plans and specifications, bids to be received at clerk's office up to 8 o'clock of the evening of April 23rd. A committee, consisting of Aldermen Roos and Pfaender and the city attorney was appointed by the chair to consider the advisability and selection of a location for the establishment of a general slaughtering house within the city limits.

A building permit was granted to Minna Haerberle.

Happy Hoosiers.
