PERSONALS. Mr. G. W. McGovern, who has been since last June in Colorado, returned home last Wednesday morning looking better than he has for years.

Ira Elliott, of Saltriver, who has been quite sick for some time was able to get up to town this week. He is now away for change and recuperation.

Mrs. Eva Sullivan who has been quite ill for a couple of weeks is rapidly recovering again.

L. D. Lay was in town this week and declares his family can't do without the Graphic. All right. They shall have it.

W. H. Marine, of Sullivan county, accompanied by his family, spent last Wednesday, in this city while on their way to Eureka springs, where they expect to remain several months.

R. D. Ellison, of Wilmathsville was in town Wednesday last. He will continue to read the Graphic.

We learn that Porter R. Smith, the portly foreman of the Democrat is the papa of another boy. Monday night.

Mr. J. H. Foelt, special agent of the Phoenix insurance company at Brashear, dropped in to see us the fore part of this week. Come again when we get straightened up.

This time it is at G. B. Francisco's. He is somewhat disappointed as the name he had picked out was Hancock, and his wife objected to having her daughter named for the defeated democratic candidate.

John A. Deihl, living four miles east of town, had a terrible look of agony on his face last Wednesday morning, as he glanced from one to the other of the two little responsibilities which his wife had just presented him, one a boy the other a girl.

Mr. B. Pierce, of Saltriver township, called Monday and deposited two dollars for the Graphic. He says count on him in "as long as it continues to be up to its present standard." All right, we will make it still better.

Mr. C. B. Polley called Monday, paid his subscription for a year and left a notice of public sale of some choice stock, which appears in this week's issue. Farmers and stock men should attend the sale. See notice.

Mr. J. M. Swallow, and wife of Milan daughter of Judge Hooper, spent last Sunday in Kirksville.

Mr. C. Ricketts, of Walnut, was in last Saturday and gave us a pleasant call.

Ridley Hynds, of Pettis, one of the old stand by republicans was in town one day this week. Ridley has lots of confidence in the future of the Graphic.

Mr. A. Gormann, of Knox county was up Monday last. He is a republican of the old school, and likes the great family weekly.

George Cain, one of the oldest settlers having been born in this county forty seven years ago, accompanied by his son-in-law Mr. Isaac Novinger, gave us a pleasant call last Tuesday.

Mr. Cain owns and lives upon the old Cain farm six miles west of town, having taken his name from his father who opened the farm, it being one of the first settled in this county.

J. C. Carothers our popular County Clerk left last Monday night for Fulton to look after the interests of the insane in that institution from this county, we believe twelve in number.

W. C. Davidson, who has been sick with pneumonia, we are pleased to learn, recovering quite rapidly.

John R. Doyer, although a democrat came in Tuesday and handed us the cash for the boss paper, he says, the Graphic he must have. We like his judgment.

Mr. J. W. Herrell, formerly of this county, now of Ill., is here visiting the family of his brother-in-law, Judge Sands, and in company with the Judge gave us a pleasant call.

Beauty, health, and happiness for ladies in "WINE OF CARDUI." For Sale by J. G. Jamison.

Help me, Cain, or I sink, cried the drowning Caesar.

Winter Will soon be here, you must have stoves and now is the time to call at W. J. Wilkes and order them. A large and complete assortment now on exhibition. All the best grades and most approved styles both for wood and coal. Farmers desiring to fit out with first-class farm and spring wagons should also call at Wilkes. Do not buy elsewhere, but call and see him.

Henderson & Co. Merchant tailoring south side of square. Full line of first-class goods. Skilled workmen and prompt attention to customers. Call and examine goods at the sewing machine office of D. S. Guipe.

CONGRATULATIONS. The season of merry-making and social congratulations is here, and thrice blessed is that man who has made his calling and election sure by purchasing his supplies at the Quiney Store. A full line of Christmas goods have arrived. Something for all—candies, nuts, etc., for the youngsters, good things for the kitchen, with hand-some glass and gewgaws for the festal board. Call and see them.

Santa Claus headquarters at the Boston Store.

Some of the speeches delivered at the Milan Citizens' Meeting, called to stem the tide of intemperance, are amusing curiosities, and indicate what a powerful influence the saloon interest can wield when once it gets a foothold. One speaker was a temperance man and all that, but thought they should go very carefully or they might offend the saloon keepers and thus antagonize that element." We should think quite probable.

Going to Washington.

Graphic readers who may contemplate a visit to the national capitol this winter, and we know of several who think they will have urgent business there just now,—will be interested in knowing just where to find members of the Missouri delegation. "Senator Cockrell is at 920 Fifteenth street in a handsome brick house overlooking Lafayette square. He occupies the first floor of the house. Mrs. Cockrell receives on Thursdays. She is one of the most popular of the senators wives and is a prominent figure at every social gathering. Senator Vest has bachelor quarters at 670 Fourteenth street in the neighborhood of Foundry church. He takes his meals at Willard's hotel. Bland, of the silver bill fame, has quarters at 220 First street N. E. within a stone's throw of the capitol, Bukner's and Rothwell have rooms at the Metropolitan hotel. The favorite resort of southern members. Clearly is at 523 Thirteenth street. Gen. Clark, who has returned with his bride from their wedding trip, is at a private boarding house, No. 1825 F street. Davison occupies comfortable quarters at 821 Thirteenth street. Ford is nearer the central part of the city at 709 Eight street. Frost is at the same house with Gen. Clark. Hatch occupies rooms at Sanderson's Congressional hotel on Capitol Hill. Phillips is at the National. Sawyer lives in the unfashionable quarter of the east end of Pennsylvania avenue, No. 136. Waddill is in the northwestern and fashionable part of the city 901 sixteenth street. Mr. Wells is at Willard's hotel, where he has been a familiar figure for many years.

"WINE OF CARDUI" for Ladies only. For sale by J. G. Jamison.

Who is cash? You will find out by purchasing groceries at Halladay Bros.

Shooting Affray. At LaBelle on Monday last a shooting affray occurred which will probably result in the death of one of the participants. It seems that John Simpkins, and M. L. Connell were partners in a mill at LaBelle, and that some disagreement had arisen, and Simpkins had declared the mill should not be run more until he had so. Having been away when he got in sight of the mill on his way home he saw that the mill was running, and being somewhat under the influence of intoxicating drink he became furiously angry, and as soon as he could get to the mill attempted to stop it when Simpkins started to the house for his gun to shoot Connell, when the latter drew a pistol and shot the other three times in the back. Mr. Connell gave himself up and was to have his trial to-day. Simpkins was, when last heard from still alive, and there was hopes entertained of his recovery.

Married. At the residence of the bride's parents, in Knox county, Mo., by the Rev. Samuel Carothers, Mr. William H. Payne and Miss Rebecca E. Rice, both of Knox county.

Nasty's good on a "wink of an eye," but we know a man in Kirksville who can discount him just half and then take the cake.

There is no drag about the Graphic; the people won't allow that.

Take "BLACK-DRAUGHT" and you will never be bilious. For sale by J. G. Jamison.

The idea that a political position entitles any man to an entire monopoly of any kind of business he may choose to follow is an absurdity.

Who is it that threatens the republicans of Adair county because of competition in business?

Greentop Graphics. GREENTOP, Dec. 14, 1886.

The grain trade was never so lively in Greentop as this winter. In the hog trade there seems to be some excitement with our local dealers. We understand some of our dealers paid as high as $4.35 per cwt. Consequently: Happy farmers, which we are glad to note.

R. R. Wells and Reynolds shipped several car loads of hogs this week; S. B. Lind also shipped several car loads.

The festival last week at this place was well attended; and everything went off quietly. It was for the benefit of Rev. Mr. Green, and netted about $30.

Rev. Davis preached here on Sunday last.

Rev. Green, of Kirksville, is preaching here this week. We understand he will continue services all week.

R. N. Toler has recently bought the Daring farm.

R. R. Wells has sold his farm to Mr. Mullick.

W. Vaneleve was loading ties here last week.

The wife of one of our citizens living west of this place, one day last week gathered up her goods, left her husband and went to her father's house.

S. James recently returned from Kansas. He seems very much pleased with Kansas.

Mrs. J. W. Hutchison started to visit Mrs. R. N. Toler Wednesday last, and fell down on the railroad bridge north of the Greentop tank, severely cutting her hand.

Remember.

Plenty of new goods, and latest styles. Every-thing in our line for the Christmas trade. A new line of ladies' kid gloves. Also a fresh line of men's Christmas caps at the New York Store.

The finest display of choice confectionery, toys, etc., in the city, bought expressly for the holidays, at D. S. Guipe's, south side.

A CARD. To the citizens of Kirksville and vicinity: I take this opportunity to inform you I am well and hope you are enjoying the same blessing. Such being the case I ask you to come and see me at an offering special inducements in Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots & Shoes and notions, a full line of Ladies' cloaks and Dolmans, children's knit goods, women's hosiery, fans in endless variety all of which I will sell cheaper than any house in Kirksville. Come and see. I mean business, and will do as I say.

W. B. HARLAN.

Memorials.

There is a desire, says a writer, implanted in all human bosoms to be remembered by the living, when they shall sleep in the dust. It is to this universal feeling of remembrance that the art of the marble cutter pays tribute. The language of the heart is eloquently expressed by the shapely column, the urn, the broken shaft, the carved leaf, the cross and other emblems worked out in pure and snowy marble and erected by loving hearts over the departed. Looking through the marble works of Mr. Baird, this week we were struck with the vast advances made in the skill and good taste over what was thought to be good and appropriate a few years since. Here was a large variety of designs, each harmoniously proportioned, skillfully executed and strikingly appropriate. Some of the larger monuments and columns are exquisite works of art and yet come within the means of almost any family desirous of suitably perpetuating the memory of the dead. Mr. Baird has achieved, through the years of experience a perfect knowledge of the business in all its details, and purchasing materials directly from the quarries, employing no canvassers and giving personal attention to his business is enabled to sell at the very lowest prices, while giving at the same time first-class work to his customers. Call in and see him.

Fresh oranges, nuts, candies, etc. at the Boston Store.

NORMAL ITEMS.

The Normal is in a flourishing condition. More students are in attendance than were at this time last year. The young men and ladies both have organized a christian association with a good working membership and are doing a good work.

Last Thursday, under the direction of Miss Heath, five students gave a rhetorical entertainment which was very entertaining.

The students are organized into four literary and debating societies, viz: Zetosophian, Junior, Senior and Philomathian.

We attended the entertainment given by the last named society last Friday evening and was so well pleased that we think it will be interesting to the readers of the Graphic to give the programme of the entertainment.

Misses Nettie Willard and Ada Greenwood sang a beautiful duet; Title: Larboard Watch. Miss Willard playing an accompaniment on the organ. It was well rendered. Messrs Morgan, Brown, Hatch, Nelson, Sayers' Steele and Miss Carrie Wilson entertained the audience with select readings and extemporaneous speeches. Misses Lulu Sharp and Lizzie Carson, Messrs Louden and Holloway sang a beautiful quartet. Then followed the debate after which Miss Mary Myers read a paper of her own editing which was full of overflowing with wit and original jokes.

A. M. McGee, a former Normal student came up last Saturday and entered school Monday.

BRASHEAR NOTES.

Special to THE GRAPHIC. BRASHEAR, Dec. 17.—Business affairs are lively in town now. Our merchants and milliners are doing a first-class business buying and selling staple and holiday goods.

J. Hall's corn-sheller is humming merrily away owing to the great rush of corn to market.

The shipment of stock from this point recently has been and continues to be considerable.

A series of meetings are in progress at the M. E. church, presided over by Rev. A. V. Bayley and Rev. S. Carothers.

Little Willis Berland is suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia, fever; but is now considered out of danger and improving.

Preparations for a Christmas tree are in progress under the management of the Sunday School.

C. G. Cornell returned from Eureka Springs with a favorable impression of the medicinal properties of the water there.

Ed Barnhart is home on a visit from Avalon College, where he has been attending for some months. He expects to close his visit and return to school soon.

Miss Ora Paul is visiting friends at LaPlata.

The Brashear school for this term, under the supervision of Miss Flora Northrup is a decided success. Miss Flora is an efficient instructor as well as a progressive and energetic young lady. We predict for her success in any vocation. Reporter.

Clearance Sale.

The following goods will be sold at half price to close and reduce stock: Gloves and mittens of every every description, all kinds of underwear, overcoats, boys' and children's clothing. Solid facts B. F. LAMKIN.

Habeas Corpus. Last week, after several hung juries and after the costs in the case had amounted to about $150.00, Abe Selby was found guilty and fined $150 for breach of the peace and sent to jail to pay the costs and the fine. But his lawyers Cooper & Mendell assisted by Harrington & Musick had the prisoner brought before Judge Rainier on a writ of habeas corpus, and springing a certain deficiency in the commitment, a question of which it is said, had never been sprung here before, nor brought before the supreme court of this state, succeeded in getting the prisoner discharged. Lawyers are knotty fellows.

Happily Disappointed. Disappointments are frequently grievous to bear, but having received letters almost daily from parties who have been "happily disappointed" we relate their experience which will be profitable for every one to remember. Thousands have written to the proprietors of Kendall's Spavin Cure, stating that they began using it without any faith that it would cure spavins, but had been happily disappointed as it had completely cured the spavin and removed the bunch without blistering, and after using it for various purposes, all state freely that they find it the very best liniment ever used for any lameness on beast or man. Please read the advertisement for Kendall's Spavin Cure.

60 Days. I will sell for sixty days as cheap as any one in town will sell for, except Miss SEE BAIN, Milliner.
