Mr. WRIGHT a business man of La. Bell, and a former student of our Normal was in town yesterday.

Mr. B. F. MATTHEWS of Shibley's Point, called in a business way this week. Mr. M. was so unfortunate as to have an arm dislocated this spring and is still in a crippled condition from the same.

Dr. W. T. MEYERS, of Floyd's Creek paid the GRAPHIC a friendly visit Wednesday morning. We are glad to learn that the doctor is meeting with excellent success as a physician in northeast Adair.

Misses ELLA & MINNIE WRIGHT and Nettie and Mattie Coulter of Jacksonville spent their fourth in Kirkville, the guests of Mrs. Borne-man and Mrs. McNamee.

H. F. MILLAN has put down a new side walk in front of his residence. Like the republican platform there is not a shaky plank in it and when a man sets foot upon it he feels he is treading on something solid.

J. M. KIMSEY, the Osborne self-binder expert, started yesterday morning for Minneapolis in answer to a telegram from head quarters. He is a live man and understands his business thoroughly.

Mrs. T. B. CHEESMAN, of Walnut township, accompanied by her son, started Tuesday night for Charleston Ill. She goes on a visit to her aged mother and several brothers and sisters who live in that vicinity.

Mrs. GUY CHANDLER and her daughter Miss Eugie and Miss Alice favored the GRAPHIC with a call Saturday. Thanks for those beautiful home plants intended for our sanctum window.

W. R. HOLLOWAY, returned from Shelbyville, Wednesday evening. Where he has been the past two years. He has been elected principal of Shelbyville schools for the third year. This speaks well for Mr. Holloway.

GRAPHICS.

Re-opening of the Parrell's Gallery today. Call in and see the new furniture, pictures and artistic accessories.

Mrs. L. J. Edmondson will occupy the bakery on the North east corner after Monday and will keep everything found in a first class establishment of that kind, including a full line of confectionery.

A grand reunion of the survivors of both armies engaged in the Battle of Wilson creek will be held at or near the battle ground near Springfield, Mo., August 8th, 9th and 10th.

The walls of Smith's Business College are about completed and the framework of the roof is being erected. The building fills the promise of its builder and already presents an imposing appearance, which will be still further heightened when it is completed.

A petition quite largely signed by citizens in the west part of town was presented the town Board on Tuesday night asking that an under-ground passage be opened near the Walsh depot, that travel and traffic from the west side may not be interrupted so much by trains. The matter was taken under advisement by the Board.

The other day while passing along the west side of the square, I heard the following conversation:

Say! Adams, where did you get that new suit of clothes?

"At the New York Store. There is where I do all my trading. It only cost me $12.50. They asked me every other place $18.00 for exactly the same goods. You can get an all wool suit for $5.00 and boy's suits for $3.00."

"Well, John, I am going to try them. I always heard they sold goods very cheap."

He is right, you bet.

Conundrum.

How can "The headwaters of a river which is a creek," pass otherwise than on the west of a town situated on its east bank?

We pass.

Wanted.

500 Dozen old hens at $2.40 per dozen to be delivered on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next. H. FELKER, At Holtbrook's stand.

The Osborne.

Monday morning we went out to the I. B. Dodson farm 7 miles east of town to witness the workings of a New Osborne Twine Binder furnished by Messrs Carothers & Greene. Our party consisted of two or three newspaper men, J. C. Carothers, John Shaver, and last but not least the lightning machine man, Mr. I. M. Kinzey, known better hereabouts by the name of the "Wild Texan." Although the grain was in poor condition and the machine had been put together and set to work by a novice, when we arrived on the ground it was already in the field at work. A few touches and slight adjustments by the "expert" while the machine was in motion were all that was necessary. Here is not the "Osborne's" first season this, and it has established a fine reputation by its previous record. Its principal points are its self-adjustment of its cutter bar, so that it can cut grain six inches high and yet bind up every stalk, its light draft and the fact that its binder contains thirteen pieces less than any other machine and its consequent simplicity and less liability get out of repair. Messrs Carothers & Greene are agents for the sale of this machine in this county. If you think of purchasing anything in the line of Agricultural Machinery give them a call. Repairs and parts of all kinds kept in stock.

Narrow Escape.

Miss Nettie Willard of this place was one of the passengers on the train that was blown from the track last Thursday near Browning. We give the following extracts from a letter written to her father Dr. A. P. Willard, dated Kansas City, July 16th. Speaking of the wrecking of the train she says: "I had just changed my seat, before the train turned over, or I would have been badly hurt. The conductor was standing talking to me when it happened, and his arm was broken and hand severely mashed. There were twenty-five on board and only six escaped being hurt, and when I stood there among the bleeding and groaning and saw how fortunate I had been, I never felt so thankful to God in my life before. One gentleman, who was in the baggage car was hurt very badly. I wonder he was not killed as the trunks fell on him." Miss Willard only sustained a few minor bruises, and was able to proceed on her journey to Kansas City the next day. It was a very narrow escape indeed.

Sunday School Statistics.

It is the urgent request of State Association—which request is emphasized by the importance of the work—that an earnest effort be made in July to gather correct statistics from every Sunday school in the state. In order that county and township organizations may do this work, the co-operation of every Superintendent must be had. Now, friends of the cause in Adair Co., will you not assist in this? Suitable blanks for the required reports are in my possession, but I do not know where to whom to send them. Let each Superintendent in Polk, Pettis, Liberty, Walnut, Morrow, and Nineveh townships send me his address at once and I will forward blanks with return postage. Will you do that? Then we may have before us full statistics of our county. I name these townships because township Secretaries will do the work in Benton and Salt River and arrangements are made by which it will be done in Clay and Wilson.

Town Talk.

Go to the New York Store if you want bargains in clothing, carpets, boots, shoes, slippers, hats, (straw and wool), silks, prints, dress, and summer goods of all kinds.

Paragon of Animals.

Some idea of the enormous fortunes that are tied up in W. W. Cole's New Colossal Shows Consolidated in one overwhelming aggregation, may be gained from the one trifling fact that a single act can be truthfully called a fifty thousand dollar advertisement; for such indeed is the one afforded by W. W. Cole's marvelous, almost humanly intelligent trick stallions. They are in very truth (to once more quote Shakespeare) "the paragon of animals, the quintessence of dust."

Reception.

Parrells Gallery which has been closed several days while undergoing repairs and being refurnished opens again to-day, and the public is invited to call and look at the rooms. No finer or better appointed art-rooms can be found in North Missouri. Drop in and see him.

Fine Potatoes.

Mr. Wm. Avey placed upon our table this week five sample potatoes which weighed four pounds. They are the Early Beauty of Hebron variety, and are the best potatoes we have seen so far in the present season.

Painting and Graining.

Messrs Chase & Fusselman, of this city, painters, have secured the services of Mr. Hart, formerly in the Pullman Palace Car works, and one of the finest grainers in the west. Parties wishing first class work in this line should give them a call.

A grand Procession.

In W. W. Cole's street procession—a truly colossal and majestic pageant—are five brass bands, and golden music chariots of the pattern of old Rome, elephants in harness, a caravan of those docile animals of the desert—the gentle camels, clowns, donkeys, ponies, performing animals of all kinds, and more golden glitter and bewildering brilliancy than is seen in the starry heavens on a cloudless night.

What We Must Do.

We must and will close out in the next thirty days $3,000 worth of clothing, $1,000 worth of carpets, $1,500 worth of shoes and slippers, and over $3,000 worth of summer goods, at actual cost. Now if you do not believe it come and see for yourself. If you do not want to buy come and get prices it will do you good, at the
