

French engineers propose ascending the Jungfrau by a succession of slanting roads, forming a zigzag to the height of some 12,000 feet, landing nearly at the summit of the mountain.

Cure is Cure

However it may be effected; but unjust prejudice often prevents people from trying a "proprietary medicine," until other remedies prove unavailing.

J. H. Ritchie, Commission Agent, Kingston, Australia, writes:

"For years a confirmed sceptic as to the merits of proprietary medicines, I was at last converted by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For months a bottle of this medicine, of which I had come into possession through the kindness of a friend, remained unopened in my closet, till one night I was seized with a violent cold accompanied by a rattling cough. Having none of my usual remedies at hand, I thought of the Cherry Pectoral, and determined to give it a trial. The result was truly magical. Relief came almost instantly, and after repeating the dose, certainly not more than half a dozen times, I found myself thoroughly cured. Subsequently my daughter was cured of a severe cough, and I have since used the Cherry Pectoral. I recommend this preparation to all sufferers from throat and lung troubles."

The Burlington Route.

Reaching in all directions, radiates from the Missouri River like the arms from the body of an Octopus. One of these arms touches Chicago, one St. Louis, St. Paul, one Denver, one Cheyenne and so on. It is at the Missouri River that the passenger traffic, drawn from the surrounding states, is consolidated to be redivided into large solid trains running between the principal cities.

The Burlington's Chicago train, the "El," is probably the best known and the best liked of any train running East of the Mo. River. It is composed of Palace sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and smoker, vestibuled throughout, making a magnificent whole. This train leaves Kansas City, Atchison or St. Joseph in the early evening and lands the passenger in Chicago in time for business, having served both supper and breakfast in its famous dining car.

Denver, Colorado, Cheyenne, Wyoming, and New Castle, Wyo., and Deadwood, S. D. are reached by the straight arm of the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad, the great thoroughfare to the west and southwest. Along this line in Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, and Northwestern Kansas, particularly its new extensions in that territory, where there is still some Government Land awaiting settlement. Those lands are among the best to be had anywhere in the country for agricultural and grazing purposes and in the comparatively new districts are many farms which can be had at a very low rate from that class of restless settlers who are always ready to move "farther west." Particular attention is called to the extension of the B. & M. line to Merino, Wyo., and which will in a very short time be completed to Buffalo, Wyoming, and Deadwood S. D. This opens up a large extent of country in South Dakota and Northern Wyoming rich in all the more valuable minerals. Coal deposits in immense quantities and of the best quality have been discovered at New Castle, Wyo., and large mining operations are now being carried on and will be greatly increased when the coking ovens, now under construction, begin to turn out coke for smelting purposes. Daily trains composed of sleepers and chair cars run to this country from all the Missouri river points. For further information call on or address H. C. Orr, G. S. W. P. A. Kansas City, Mo., or A. How to Break up a Severe Cold.

From the Virginia City, Mont. Mailman.
When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit, we consider it a duty, and we take pleasure in telling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. By the use of this syrup we have relieved, in a few hours, severe colds, and in the course of two or three days, entirely broken them up as has several of our friends to whom we have recommended it. It is all it is represented to be by the manufacturer. If you have a cough and want to stop it Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will do the work. For sale by Smith & Dunkin.

One often meets persons who, if they are not especially brilliant, are vastly deceived in their estimate of themselves.
