The hay barn located near the Wabash depot in this place owned by Messrs. Eliza and John Bowen, together with its contents, was destroyed by fire last night. The fire was first discovered between eleven and twelve o'clock and spread with such rapidity that it was impossible to check it. There was a large amount of hay stored in the barn, which was a total loss to the owners. Also the wheat granaries located near the hay barn were burned. There were several hundred bushels of wheat in them owned by the Messrs. Bowen, which was also destroyed.

For a time it was thought that the Queen City Roller Mills were doomed, but the heroic effort of the citizens saved it from igniting. A freight car standing on the side track took fire, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done to it. A shed in the rear of the livery stable was also destroyed. Sparks and tufts of hay on fire were carried a distance of fully half a mile by the wind, which was blowing at a brisk rate from the southeast. However the fire was kept from spreading further. The loss to the proprietors of the barn, granaries and their contents will probably reach $1,200 to $1,500, and is total loss, as there was no insurance. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought that a spark from a passing locomotive lit in the loose hay and caused the conflagration.—Queen City Transcript.
