W. W. EDWARDS,
of St. Charles County.
For Congressman—First District,
R. D. CRAMER, of Scotland County.

A certain Normal regent told a certain newspaper man that, if a certain Normal professor was not watched a certain newspaper of Kirksville would get all the Normal printing. Is there a "coon in the woodpile?" We guess so.

The GRAPHIC has no apology to make for any statements that may have appeared in the Globe-Democrat or Republic in regard to the Normal school. Those papers are abundantly able to take care of themselves and will do so should it become necessary.

The Stewart bill for the free coinage of silver was passed by the Senate last Friday. Eleven Republicans, the representatives of the silver states of the Northwest, voted for the bill. Senator Hill made his first speech in the Senate and followed it up by casting his vote for free silver.

The People's Convention at Omaha, the evening of July 4th, nominated Gen. James B. Weaver, of Iowa, for President, and Gen. James G. Field, of Virginia, for Vice President. The nomination of Gen. Weaver has not aroused any enthusiasm, and in fact seems to be a disappointment. Judge Gresham had been spoken of as the probable nominee, and his failure to accept the nomination destroyed the hope his name inspired.

The general business situation looks more favorable. At most distributing centers there is an improvement in collections, a freer movement in building materials, with an active demand and steady prices for live cattle and hogs. The canned meat industry was never so lively as now in both foreign and domestic orders. The increased volume of trade for this branch reported from Chicago sources is double as compared with 1891, with the best part of the season yet to hear from.

The State Road Improvement convention will be held in Chillicothe, August 16, 17, 18 and 19. The interest now being manifested in road improvement is an encouraging sign that we are soon to be delivered from the thralldom of impassable roads. It has become one of the leading questions of the day, and men, women and children are alike interested. This convention will be one of the greatest road conventions ever held, and Adair county should appoint a delegation to attend. A prominent feature of the convention will be the construction of roads by experts in which work a full line of road machinery, plows, scrapers, graders, rollers and rock crushers will be used.

Two weeks ago the GRAPHIC re-published an item taken from the Trenton Tribune, in regard to awarding the contract for publishing the Normal catalogues, and devoted a small space to comment on the same. The Kirksville Journal became considerably exercised over the matter, and came out with the old stereotyped wall that is ever dinned in the ears of the public when its chief source of revenue is assailed. The Journal claims that, if the GRAPHIC had gone to the records in the office of the Secretary of the Board, an error would have been discovered in the item taken from the Trenton Tribune. For the information of the editor of the Journal, the GRAPHIC will state that the item in question was given to the Secretary of the Board with the request that he explain it. His only explanation was that the contract was not let by the page. If the Trenton Tribune was in error, would not that have been an excellent time to produce the records and prove it? The records were not produced, and the GRAPHIC has no apology to make for publishing the item or commenting thereon.

The collision between the Pinkerton men and Carnegie's striking workmen at Homestead, Pa., in which twenty-eight men lost their lives, is an occurrence to be deeply deplored. The trouble arose on account of a proposed reduction in the wages of 3,000 men. This proposed reduction led to a strike, and the Carnegie company, believing that its property was in danger, attempted to place a guard in the works. This was resented by the strikers, who believed that if the works were placed under guard outsiders would be permitted to work, and this they sought to prevent. The attempt to place men inside the stockade led to the fight which has caused such loss of life. It may be that Carnegie is oppressive, but the men who are oppressed have the right and the privilege to cease their labors for him. Labor has the right to organize, but organized labor has no right to declare that unorganized labor must remain idle. Whenever it does this, the oppressed becomes the oppressor, and public sympathy is lost. It becomes a case of might against right. When organized labor recognizes the fact that it has not absorbed all the rights and privileges of mankind, difficulties like the present one will be adjusted without destruction of property or loss of life.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 4, '92
The President goes on in the even tenor of his way, just as if the passage of the Stewart free coinage bill by the Senate had not thrown Congress into what might almost be called a panic. If he is worried even a little bit over the situation he does not show it. The situation in the house at present is chaotic, owing to the absence of so many members and the uncertainty of getting them here. The telegraph wires have been kept hot since Saturday by both friends and opponents of free coinage, and a good many members have probably had their Fourth of July plans sadly disarranged by an imperative summons to come to Washington at once.

The free coinage bill will be taken from the Speaker's table tomorrow and be referred to the committee on coinage, which will hold a meeting on Wednesday, and will, it is expected, immediately report the bill favorably. Then the music will begin, and if the republican members are all in their seats it is believed that they can easily become masters of the situation and dictate the action of the House. Both silver and anti-silver men are threatening to win. Mr. Cleveland has been appealed to by the anti-silver democrats to bring his influence to their aid, but it is doubtful whether he will dare to do it.

The situation is such that the President may have to abandon the idea of accompanying Mrs. Harrison to the Adirondacks the last of this week, as he had intended doing. Only one of the regular appropriation bills has been sent to the White House yet, and if the silver fight begins before the others are disposed of no one can say when the rest of them will get there. Congress is not in session today, and the breathing spell is a very welcome one to the contestants; it gives them a chance to maneuver for position.

So many contradictory stories have been told about the attitude of ex-Chairman Clarkson, of the republican national committee, towards the organization of that committee, that it is a pleasure to give his real position in his own words. "I came to Washington," he says, "fully determined not to accept the chairmanship of the committee, and I so informed the forty members of the committee who voluntarily tendered me their support. Mr. Campbell, the new chairman, has been my personal friend and colleague on the national committee for years, and knowing him to be a master in political details and thoroughly competent to make a successful chairman, I joined with other friends in urging him to accept the place, after he had several times declined it, and at last he did accept. No man has ever assumed the chairmanship of the republican national committee with larger or better qualifications than he possesses, and the party can have implicit confidence in his ability, his judgment and discretion, his fidelity and his power to do his part to command success. Mr. Carter, the Secretary, is qualified for either chairmanship or secretary. He is a discoverer in politics, and the best politician in the United States of his age. The combination of Campbell and Carter is as strong as the party could provide, and they are worthy of the enthusiastic and constant support of all good republicans. The ticket this year is worthy the support of every man who has a trace of republican blood in his veins. Mr. Blaine was the first man to speak to the country after the ticket was nominated to urge all republicans to join in its support. The party in all its factions can do so with honor and self respect, and I shall cheerfully do my part in whatever way I can bear a hand." There is no uncertainty about this, nor is it the language of a sulker. Mr. Clarkson has agreed to serve as a member of the executive committee, and it is probable that he will have control of the campaign in New York.

The President sent another message to Congress on the Canadian waterway question, in which he tells of the failure of the Canadian Government to befriend the question and insists that prompt retaliation is necessary. Senator Davis' joint resolution authorizing the President to retaliate, has been favorably reported to the Senate and will probably be taken up and passed this week.

Senator Dubois, of Idaho, was an anti-Harrison man previous to the nomination, therefore his view of the situation is not a prejudiced one. He says: "The third party cannot carry Idaho, and I think their inability extends to Colorado, Nevada, the new States and the Pacific coast. It is true that there was a strong tendency towards a third party before the Chicago convention nominated Cleveland, but it vanished when that ballot was taken. Our people know that if the third party carries any of the republican States it would throw the election of President into the House, which is two-thirds democratic, and Cleveland would be elected. People who live in that section will not take any chances on the election of Cleveland. No one ever injured the West more than he did."

Beyond the River.

Cool.
Nice rains.
The Chariton is full.
J. A. Truitt is on the sick list.
Independence Day is past again.
Fruit, except grapes, is almost a failure.
Rev. Doyle talks of resigning his pastorate soon.
John Reed has bought a new McCormick mowing machine.
Rev. Bruner of Brashear recently passed through here on a business trip.
We learn the new C. P. church near E. Wimbush is to be dedicated next Sunday.
J. A. Truitt lost a fine cow last week. It is suspected that she was poisoned.
It is now in order to designate things as transpiring before or since the flood.
Center is badly in need of a new school house. The old one during the summer season looks like a deserted barn.
Sherman Sprang was seen taking a nice, new top buggy home from Kirksville last Saturday. We congratulate the girls and would say that Sherman is a prosperous farmer and representative young man.

The Republicans of Liberty selected Geo. Eitel, Emert Zeigler and Hiram Snyder as delegates to the county convention next Saturday. We trust that the convention may make no mistakes and put out a live ticket and one that will sweep the cob-webs from the sky of old Adair, and make her star shine with renewed brightness. We would like to see the Hon. S. M. Pickler head the list and have Hon. J. B. Dodson prosecuting attorney, Geo. Ripe, sheriff, Adam Shoop and Hiram Snyder, county judges, Joseph S. Matter, county treasurer, etc., Liberty will be pleased to have at least one of the nominees.

J. O. TRUETT.

Republican Club at Sperry.

The Republicans of Sperry met Thursday evening, June 30, and organized a Republican Club with a membership of sixty-one. Short instructive speeches were made by T. Bell, Otis Miller and others. Much enthusiasm was manifested and this club can be relied upon to do effective work in Clay township during the campaign. Next meeting will be held at Sperry, Thursday, July 14, at 8 p. m., to ratify the Republican county ticket. All are requested to be present.

LEWIS M. AINSWORTH, President.
GRANT BERRY, Secretary.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Schuyler County, Celebrates In Masse at Queen City.

By our regular Correspondent.
At an early hour July Fourth, a salute of 116 guns was fired, symbolic of this as the one hundred and sixteenth anniversary of our national independence. While this was going on, the 4 o'clock a. m. train from the south arrived bringing a large delegation from Greenport, Sublette and other southern points. By 8 o'clock all the roads leading into town were blocked with incoming wagons, loaded with pleasure-seeking families.

At 9:30 o'clock about 2,000 people separated from the crowd and, with the Green City cornet band, marched to the depot to welcome the northern delegation, who were expected on the incoming train. About 500 arrived on the train and joining the procession, marched to the park, headed by the Queen City and Lancaster brass bands.

On arriving at the beautifully shaded park in the center of our city, the regular programme of the day was carried out.

The address of welcome was delivered by the president of the day, Mr. Lucius Sanderson, after which followed music by the brass bands, singing of national airs by the choir, the reading of the Declaration of Independence, and speeches by T. C. Tadlock and Hon. C. C. Fogle.

In the afternoon, an oration was delivered by Rev. E. B. Lytle, which was followed by music by the brass bands and choir, and a speech by E. Higbee.

The exercises closed with races and balloon ascensions in the afternoon and a magnificent display of fireworks at night.

NOTES.

An Edison phonograph was one of the many attractions on the grounds.
Two brass bands and a martial band furnished music to enliven the occasion.
Not a drunk man was seen at the celebration this year, consequently there were no disturbances of any kind.

The rain early Sunday morning sufficiently laid the dust so that none annoyed the crowd Monday.
The crowd was pretty accurately estimated at between 5,000 and 6,000 people.

As large a crowd as ever assembled at any former celebration in Schuyler county remained to witness the fireworks at night in Queen City this year.

The ladies of the Christian church cleared nearly one hundred dollars from their candy and lunch booth. All the others did equally well.

Several compliments were heard on the singing by the choir. They are indebted to Miss Mattie McMain for a large part of their excellent training.

A Gordon job press, from the Transcript office, attracted a wondering crowd of ruralists, who had "never seen such a riggin' before."

The beautiful manner in which the show windows at Perin & Miller's store were decorated attracted particular comment. The principal decoration consisted of a beautiful Goddess of Liberty surrounded by the national colors.

Many were the praises bestowed upon the display of fireworks. The people have been so used to attending celebrations, and when the fireworks part of the programme was carried out seeing nothing but a half-way "fizzle," the magnificent display this year completely overcame their most sanguine expectations.

Taken altogether, partly, or one thing at a time, the celebration was a grand success, the people declared it so and were unanimous in their praise of Queen City and Queen City's enterprise. The band boys deserve a large share of the praise, as they superintended the matter from the beginning, and were instrumental in securing its successful completion. The crowd's motto for the day was: "Long live our nation and let it always be blessed with such enterprising towns and people as Queen City and her citizens."

East Salt River Convention.

The Republican voters of east Salt River township met in the Academy on Saturday, July 2d, at 2 p. m. The meeting was called to order by Chas. Callison. Squire Davidson was elected chairman of the meeting and M. F. Strook, secretary, after which the convention proceeded to elect delegates to the county convention which resulted in the election of M. F. Strook, Job Rainer and U. S. G. Keller; alternates, D. Sees, D. Tuttle and J. S. McIntyre. The convention then elected U. S. G. Keller as Central Committeeman, after which the convention organized a Warner club with a membership of eighty-six. All were enthusiastic for Harrison, Warner and protection. Speeches were made by O. C. Sands, M. F. Strook, Squire Davidson, D. Tuttle and others, and if we can judge by the enthusiasm you will hear a good report from us in November.
