Good roads and circuit court have conspired this week to brighten the business outlook somewhat.
Some have begun to despair of an ice crop. Perhaps along in March the same parties will be wondering if a thaw will ever come.

Ed. C. Pickler, as Ko-Ko in Mikado last Friday made a number of happy hits. He was greeted with applause at each appearance.
Among the attorneys from a distance this week are H. E. Puette, of Quincy, E. Higbee and S. A. Dysart, of Lancaster, and Jos. Park, of LaPlata.

A more serene and lovely New Year's day than the last has perhaps never been known in this part of the country. There was almost a suggestion of the spring-time in the air.
Remember that the Graphic and Inter-Ocean will cost you, for both papers, only $1.25. Send in your orders. There is a beautifully colored supplement with each issue of the Inter-Ocean.

You can get artesian well water each evening after 4 o'clock. Every one now has a chance to test its properties. The electric light plant is using this water, and it is pronounced admirable for steam purposes.
The construction of water works and sewerage system, new side walks, and a continuation of street improvement, next spring and summer, will give every laboring man plenty of work and bring a return of prosperity to Kirksville.

T. M. Furnish, of Polk township, while handling wood a few days ago, had his little son, six years old, on the wagon with him. Both were thrown off by a sudden lurch, and a wheel ran over both of the boy's legs, but fortunately the ground was soft, and the little fellow escaped with a fracture of one bone of the right.

The only case of any consequence concluded in Circuit Court this week up to the hour of going to press was that of Willis vs. W. J. Eckert. The jury returned a verdict of $1175 for plaintiff. M. D. Campbell represented the plaintiff, and P. F. Greenwood and H. F. Millan the defendant. The case has attracted considerable attention.

Monday, as Justice Gibbons was coming down the stairway leading to his office, he stumbled and fell sheer to the pavement from near the top, sustaining serious injuries about the head, which it was feared for a time might terminate fatally. He is getting along finely, however, and may well congratulate himself on escaping so well.

The Mikado presented at the Opera House last Friday night under the supervision of Prof. Gordon, was one of the best entertainments by home talent ever given in the city. The play will be repeated this evening for the benefit of the poor of the city, and should draw a crowded house.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Adair County Sunday School Association at the M. E. Church in this city at 10 o'clock a. m., January 10, to arrange for a Sunday school institute in the near future. The township presidents are especially invited to be present.

Mr. J. Beets is moving his brick making machinery to Marcelline. We hate to make the announcement, because we are sorry to lose Mr. Beets, and don't like to see him move his business from our city. But he probably knows what he is doing, and sees a good opening where he goes. We wish him well.

Rev. S. M. Brown, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church of Kansas City, will conduct revival services at the last Baptist church in Kirksville, beginning next Monday morning. Mr. Brown is widely known and much beloved by his denomination. Let all hear him who can, and assist in the meetings. On Sunday the pastor will preach, administering the Lord's supper after the morning service.

Prof. J. T. Muir left Thursday morning for Moberly, where he has accepted the position of Superintendent of city schools at a salary of $1600 per year, with the promise of an advance. Prof. Muir for a number of years has been vice-president of the normal faculty, and is one of the ablest educators in the State. His loss to the Kirksville normal is a great one, and Moberly is to be congratulated on being so fortunate as to secure him as the head of her educational system.

Tuesday afternoon the western part of town was given a free colored jamboree. There was no fighting to speak of, but the air was full of rent and mangled dialect for a time, which was worse than any species of camp-meeting exuberance. There were soprano shrieks, contralto screeches, tenor wails and bass imprecations, all rounded out at last with a rich but heart-broken baritone in the sentimental remark: "I doan go down on my knees no moah to dun git a black nigger woman to smile at me like a sugar loaf."

Let the city dads turn out and vote, and take all their boys along, though the opposition pulls it coat and swears all the world is wrong. The kicker lives wherever he may, and some of him flourish here, but we'll know him under without delay in the glorious glad new year. He'll bob up again beyond a doubt, for so he must do for aye, and perhaps, alas! he will sink and pout on the final judgment day; but with our water-works once secured, when he is disposed to frown, to some standpoint to huge tasks insured we'll take him and cool him down.

Sam Lee, our whilom Chinaman, recently occupied a Quincy lock-up for a short time. It seems that absence made his heart grow fonder, and while in Trenton he yearned for Mrs. Sam unceasingly in his weak and stammering way. Sam learned she had left Kirksville and gone to Quincy with a negro, and this was too much for his jealous make up. Going to Quincy, he besought the authorities to aid him in reclaiming his prettier half, but she filed a counter plea for protection. An ugly knife was found in Sam's pocket, and he was locked up on suspicion. Later his wife borrowed money and had him shipped back to Trenton, and the matrimonial chasm is still unbridged.

New Year's night Kirksville had the privilege of hearing the Ovide Musin Concert company and notwithstanding the gilt edge prices a liberal number turned out. Musin having "blazed the comet of a season" elsewhere, the company came highly endorsed, and expectation was high. It is safe to say that our city has never enjoyed a performance more highly artistic or severely methodical. It is a solar walk combination, the bright particular star of which is Musin. In mechanical execution upon the violin, perhaps he has no living superior, and his consummate mastery of the bow is akin to magic. He is undoubtedly a wizard in expression, but does not create a musical elysium and shed shimmering raptures over the soul, like Ole Bail or Wilhelm. Martial blast or elfin gurgling yields to his ducal touch, yet there is a conscious preponderance of art over sentiment. The soprano, contralto and tenor, whether in solo, duet or trio, acquitted themselves as artists worthy of the name. Each rendition was heartily endorsed, and it may be said that Kirksville will long have pleasant memories of New Year's night.

Parties hauling in marriage notices and the like are requested to be particular and not omit the dates, as such carelessness the general reader is not disposed to condone.

Doneghy Bros. have been engaged for several days in the work of remodeling their store building, and the work is now nearly completed. For convenience, light and arrangement of stock it is well nigh perfect. The entire lower story, 108 feet in depth, will be devoted to dry goods, boots and shoes, while the second store will contain the most complete stock of clothing ever seen in the city.

S. M. Pickler is closing out his stock to enable him to devote his entire time and attention to other business. As a consequence his immense stock of clothing, dry goods, boots and shoes, and in fact everything in his establishment will be sold at greatly reduced prices. This closing out sale will afford an excellent opportunity for residents of neighboring towns to secure goods at prices they never heard of before. Everything goes, and well posted buyers are taking advantage of his offering, as his store is constantly crowded with customers.

PICKLERS FAMOUS

After mature deliberation I have decided to close out my mercantile business in Kirksville. I have always had too much outside business to give my personal attention to the store, and having Tie and Timber contracts that will engage all my time, I have determined to give up the mercantile business.

AT COST AND BELOW COST.
I am having a great CLOSING OUT SALE of my entire stock, consisting of the largest line of clothing, largest stock of boots and shoes, largest line of cloaks, best line of carpets, most complete line of dry goods, including fine dress goods, staples of all kinds, domestics, hosiery, gloves, furnishing goods, and in fact, the largest and most select stock of merchandise in Kirksville, much of which has been bought within the last three months at

PANIC PRICES.
The choicest goods will be sold at their exact cost in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Boston, where they were purchased, while portions of the stock will be marked at from 10 to 25 per cent

LESS THAN COST.
I am determined to close the goods out, and I know that prices will have to be made so low that customers cannot help buying.

The great sale is now in progress and will continue until the stock is closed out.
Cash or bankable note will be taken in payment. Credit of six months on all sums over $20.00 will be given, if desired, on good note with approved security, at 8 per cent interest. Merchants and others buying over $100.00 worth will be offered "special discounts."

I also offer for sale: Three good dwelling houses in Kirksville; several vacant lots; 44 acres of land inside the corporate limits of Kirksville; livery barn one block south of the square; 20 acres with house and fruit, half mile west of the square. 2000 acres of unimproved land in Adair county; and several farms at low prices. All real estate will be sold at a little less than it is worth, and on easy terms to suit purchaser. Long time if desired.

Remember the Big Goods stock is now on sale and everything must be sold. This is an opportunity not often enjoyed, of procuring very choicest goods at wholesale cost prices, and many articles at less than cost.
