T. Artlip, 2017 Dewey avenue, St. Joseph, Mo. Miss Dugger is the niece of Rev. Dugger, a former pastor of the Laclede M. E. church, while Mr. Artlip is also well known in Laclede being a brother of Mrs. J. W. Lomax.

Grand Concert

A concert will be given in the Methodist church Tuesday night of next week, April 28, by the 125 singers of the musical convention at the close of its two weeks session. The program will be composed of duets, quartets, double quartets, ladies chorus, songs by the children and grand chorus by the 80 adult singers, supported by two pianos with two players at each piano. The convention has been very interesting from the very beginning and the people of Laclede will have the privilege of hearing a treat in the musical line on next Tuesday night. There will be an admission of 25 cents charged to those who are not members of the school or convention. The money will be used to buy new books for the church and choir. It is hoped that everybody will take an interest to get their friends to come.

A Dramatic Treat

The Mayhall Stock Company will open a four nights engagement at the M. W. A. hall Monday, April 27. This company comes highly recommended, carries nine acting people and a band and orchestra. Their opening play will be "The Quaker Girl," a beautiful four act comedy drama. Strong feature musical and vaudeville specialties will be introduced between the acts. The soloists with the company are Miss Maud Hawthorn, saxophone; Mr. Allen Hall, cornet; Miss Viola Wills, soprano and Harry Mayhall, tenor. A stage and scenery will be erected in the hall and seats placed to accommodate the crowds. This is a guaranteed attraction. Remember the date.

ON LOCAL SUBJECTS

Local Items and Interesting Bits of News of All Sorts

Two more automobiles were added to Laclede's number last week. E. R. Barton bought an Overland and the editor of THE BLADE a Studebaker. Both are five passenger touring cars.

The Mayhall Stock Company will appear at M. W. A. hall four nights next week, beginning Monday. This company has a splendid repertoire of dramatic and musical numbers and are favorites wherever known.

Jas. A. Wood and his brother-in-law, Henry M. Anderson, have bought 60 acres of land of J. L. Wood. It is located on the west side of Locust creek and takes in the improvements just west of the old mill. They paid $75 per acre and are to get possession next March.

The farmers of this vicinity not only do scientific and intensive farming but are preparing to do big farming as well. T. D. Mouser this week unloaded a new three gang traction plow that has a guaranteed capacity of turning over one acre per hour. It has a four cylinder forty horse power gasoline engine, constructed on principles similar to the automobile engines and the machine can be handled almost as easily as an automobile.

Anyone interested in fine stock should make a visit to Fairview Stock farm. Besides some of the best draft horses in Linn county you will find a very fine saddle stallion, one that has saddle gaites combined with plenty of good breeding, size, style and action. The draft stallion Honolulu is still at the head of the herd and is given up to be the best stock horse that has ever been in the county. You will also see a very choice lot of White-faced cattle. A. W. Walker, proprietor.

Mrs. F. F. Pratt delightfully entertained Chapter R of P. E. O. on Wednesday evening at 7:30. A most enjoyable evening was spent by those present. A very well prepared and interesting lesson had been arranged by Mrs. Lenora Caywood who was unable to attend on account of illness and the lesson was pleasingly given by Mrs. Ida Benson, the subject being, "Brass, Famous Urns and Vases." At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. J. E. Welsh. Guests of the evening were Miss Laura Love, Mrs. J. E. Welsh and Mrs. J. B. Patrick.

The formal opening of the Rest Room as a place for public entertainments occurred last Friday night when Rev. E. P. Reed of Brookfield, assisted by two of his boy scouts, displayed Hoffman pictures of the Life of Christ. Before explaining the pictures which were much admired, Mr. Reed commended the Rest Room enterprise and spoke of its possibilities for comfort and for holding wholesome entertainments. All who heard him were especially fortunate, as Mr. Reed is this week transferred to St. Louis in another conference. In its capacity of Rest Room the place will be in readiness probably next Wednesday, and a dainty lunch will be served by Ira Duckworth.

School Parade

An appeal will be made to the voters of Laclede district Saturday to vote the special levy, by a street parade of the student body. The students with colors and banners will parade the streets in the morning at 10:30 o'clock. We are sure that a large majority of the voters of this district will vote for the special levy, and we think all will vote for it that have seen the interior conditions of the school building, but we should be sorry to see even one dissenting vote against a proposition that involves such an immediate need as the proposition that now confronts the voters of this district.

Methodist Church Notes

All the regular services at this church next Sunday.

At a board meeting held Wednesday morning it was found that the budget fund of the church was running short and after due consideration of the subject a resolution was passed asking the treasurer to send to each member now in arrears a notice showing their apportionment and the amount paid to date, with a request for each one to bring in the funds due and needed.

Attend both services next Sunday. Prof. Howey will lead the music and it will be fine.

Remember the big concert to be given at the church Tuesday evening, April 28. Prof. Howey has given great attention to the training of more than one hundred and twenty-five singers for this concert.

Motor Spirits

The Standard Oil Co. says motor spirits are better for automobiles than gasoline, will reduce your fuel expense 25 per cent. Gives more power and less trouble. For sale at 17 cents per gallon by J. B. Patrick.
