Before June 30 of the present year, when the United States government shall have completed its extension of the sea wall at Galveston, that unlucky city will rest secure behind six miles of solid concrete sea wall and be forever immune from a repetition of the frightful disaster of September, 1900.

The transmission of power by electricity has become so ordinary a thing that electrical engineers are now confidently considering what a few years ago was deemed impossible—the transmission of 100,000 volts over an electric wire. There are numerous installations, carrying over 40,000 volts, and in Montana one built to transmit 80,000 volts.

Pennsylvania, with a soft-coal area but slightly greater than that of West Virginia, has been mining 4,000,000 tons of soft coal a year, and 60,000,000 tons of anthracite, and has for many years produced far in excess of any other state. She has now reached the limit of her productive capacity, and coal men estimate that her coal-beds will be exhausted with a period of 50 or even 40 years hence.

The market for foreign goods in the republic of Honduras, Central America, is necessarily restricted, as the country is small, but the region is comparatively near at hand and the market, such as it is, ought to be controlled by American manufacturers. Implements and tools of all kinds used in manufactures of agriculture should find a ready market sale, if properly brought to public notice—that is, by practical demonstration of their usefulness.

The greatest oil well in the world is the Drogba of Baku. When this Russian well began to yield it gave forth from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 gallons of oil a day—an output worth $35,000. The oil soared up to a height of over 200 feet, a dark-hued fountain that hissed and roared like a Niagara. With the oil so much sand was mingled that a number of houses and workshops in the vicinity were buried—vanished out of sight under a mass of grease-soaked sand.

The British Isles are credited with 12,000 square miles of coal. Russia has 20,000 and New South Wales, Australia, 24,000. India is believed to contain 35,000 square miles of coal measures, and Canada 65,000. From that point up to the United States is a great gap, for this republic has 200,000 square miles of coal. Highest of all stands the Chinese empire, with 222,000 square miles of coal veins, much of it known to be of the best quality.

California is to-day, with the exception of Russia, the largest producer of crude petroleum in the world. Its total for 1904, according to estimates of the California Petroleum Miners' Association, was more than 28,000,000 barrels, which is more than double that of New York and Pennsylvania together, a little less than Ohio and Indiana combined and more than twice as much as that of West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. The actual production is no index to the possibilities of the Golden State's oil fields.

Mrs. Charlemagne Tower enjoys the distinction of having represented her country at three great European capitals in succession—Vienna, St. Petersburg and Berlin. Last season Mrs. Tower gave the most brilliant social representation the United States has ever had in the German court. She appreciated early in her husband's diplomatic career the powerful adjunct to diplomacy which hospitality constitutes. It is said that she was provided with $200,000 a year by her husband to "keep America's end up" in the cap's realm.

THE TEAMSTERS' WAR CONTINUES

Both Sides to the Chicago Strike Claim Advantage.

ACCESSIONS TO THE STRIKERS

The Employers Sending Out More Wagons Than Last Week—Three Men Fatally Injured in Day's Rioting.

Chicago, May 9.—Both employers and strikers claim gains Monday in the teamsters' strike. The employers declare that they have gained a decided advantage in the number of wagons sent out and the amount of business transacted. The strikers' claim is based on the fact that 250 drivers for the various furniture dealers in the city will strike this morning, and also 150 paint workers employed by the Heath & Milligan company. The strike of the furniture dealers' drivers was foreshadowed on Saturday, when at a convention of the Furniture Dealers' association it was declared that their men must make deliveries, irrespective of strike conditions. Monday they ordered their men to carry goods to the boycotted houses, and the strike will be the result.

Why They Walked Out. The paint workers of Heath & Milligan are the first members any union not a member of the teamsters' organization to go on strike in support of the teamsters. They have walked out because of the delivery of goods by non-union teamsters.

The State street department stores and large dry goods houses sent out nearly their complement of delivery wagons Monday morning, and throughout the day transacted business on almost a normal basis.

More Wagons Manned. Fifteen hundred wagons manned by non-union men were operated from State street Monday, and the number will be materially increased to-day. No more colored men are being hired either by the State street stores or by the Employers' Teaming Co. and as rapidly as possible those now at work are being supplanted by white men. At the office of the Employers' Teaming Co. it was announced that 125 white men had been imported during the day from Cincinnati and Kansas City, and 75 more had been secured in Chicago. Individual contracts were made with all of these men, and they will be given permanent employment.

Three Fatally Injured. The rioting, Monday, was of a sharper character than that of Saturday. Three men were fatally injured and a number of others badly hurt, although the number of the wounded is not, as a whole, nearly so large as in some of the days the middle of last week. The majority of the affrays occurred during the early part of the afternoon.

The Civic Commission. The civic commission appointed by Mayor Dunne to investigate the strike commenced operation Monday. It did little but organize for future work, however, and the promise for the successful performance of its mission does not seem to be bright. It has no power to summon witnesses, and must therefore rely upon volunteer testimony. The members of the Employers' association declare that they had received no official notice of the creation of the commission, and would have no dealings with it until they had been properly notified of its existence.

A FINANCIAL PHENOMENON.

Pittsburg Surprised at the Estate of Henry W. Oliver, Who Was a Bankrupt 15 Years Ago.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 9.—The executors of the estate of the late Henry W. Oliver of Pittsburg, have filed a partial accounting here. The figures proved a surprise, as they show that Mr. Oliver was one of the wealthiest of Pittsburg's men. The statement filed deals only with his personal property, and does not touch his immense real estate holdings in this city and in the east, an item which in itself is expected to amount to more than his bonds, stocks and cash accounts. It is now thought that his estate will reach $1,000,000. Fifteen years ago he was a bankrupt.

ANOTHER STRIKE AT ZEIGLER

Workmen Engaged in Clearing the Letter Mine of Debris Strike Against a Cut.

Duquoin, Ill., May 9.—Joseph Leiter's mine at Zeigler is the scene of another strike. Most of the men engaged in clearing the coal workings of the debris of the recent explosion in which 50 lives were lost, are out now. The workmen quit on account of reductions in wages. Scarcely one hundred stayed at their posts, and the task of putting the mine again in condition for operation is progressing but slowly.

Bandit Bill Rudolph Hanged at Union, Missouri.

The Sheriff Sprung the Trap, and the Doctors Pronounced Him Dead in a Few Minutes.

Union, Mo., May 9.—"Bill" Rudolph, bank robber and bandit, was hanged for the murder of Pinkerton Detective Schumacher. The trap was sprung by Sheriff Louis H. Gehlert.

"BILL" RUDOLPH.

About 150 persons witnessed the execution, while a large crowd stood without the inclosure. At 9:20 the sheriff notified Rudolph to prepare. "I am ready any time you are, sheriff," was the answer. Rudolph maintained his nerve till the last. A few minutes after the drop the physicians pronounced him dead. Rudolph's body was conveyed to an undertaking establishment adjoining the jail.

Father McErlane took charge of the body and ordered that it be shipped to St. Louis, there to be interred in Calvary cemetery.

William Rudolph and George Collins robbed the safe of the Union bank. Detective Schumacher trailed them down, and in a fight he was killed. Collins was hanged a year ago.

Mrs. Hanna, a midwife, made request that she be allowed to see the execution of Rudolph.

"I was present when he came into the world, and I think I should have the right to see him go out," she said. Her request was refused.

THE MISSOURI LED THEM ALL

Race Between Seven United States Battleships, in Which the Missouri Led at the Finish.

New York, May 9.—News of the 8-hour ocean race, in which seven big United States battleships participated, was brought here by the battleship Alabama, which arrived in command of Rear-Admiral Charles H. Davis, and will go to the navy yard to be overhauled because of the poor showing which she made in the contests. The ships were coming up the coast last Saturday, and were about 200 miles south of Cape Henry when the word was given for a speed test. For two hours it was nip and tuck. By that time excitement was running high on board the battleships, and the speed contest had developed into a race. Finally the Massachusetts and the Alabama began to fall behind, and when the signal ending the race was flashed both these ships were far in the rear. The Alabama, which has the record of being the fastest battleship in the navy, was fully a mile behind the Massachusetts.

At the finish the battleship Missouri, which had drawn from the others, was only 3 1/2 miles south of Cape Henry, having covered 124 1/2 miles in the eight hours.

NAN PATTERSON'S FUTURE.

It is Still Uncertain, as Mr. Jerome is in No Hurry to Settle the Question of Bail.

New York, May 9.—Nan Patterson's future is still uncertain. Bail has been provided for her, but District Attorney Jerome has not yet decided what action he will take in her case.

Monday afternoon, after a long conference with Mr. Jerome and his assistant, Mr. Rand, Miss Patterson's counsel was compelled to bear to the girl in the Tombs the disappointing news that she may have to remain in prison for at least a week longer.

The prisoner here the announcement with fortitude, although she had been led to believe that she might be granted her freedom immediately.

At least two bondsmen are said to be ready to give bail in any reasonable amount, and counsel for Miss Patterson say the surety will be provided without delay as soon as the district attorney expresses a willingness to accept it.

Mr. Jerome is in no hurry to take action in the matter.

DISCIPLE OF SOCIALISM.

Mike Was Willing to Share with His Fellow Anything He Didn't Have.

Once, as the story goes, two Irishmen were engaged in a discussion, when "I'll ask Mike what socialism was, relates the Louisville Courier-Journal. 'Well, socialism is sort of an equal division of property,' declared Mike. 'What's yours and what's mine is mine. That's the idea. 'If you had $2,000,000, asked Pat, 'would you give me $1,000,000?' 'I would that,' said Mike. 'That's according to my principles.' 'If you had two horses would you give me one of them?' was Pat's next question. Mike insisted that he would. 'And if you had two fine horses would you give me one?' 'Mike declared that he would follow his principles. 'And if you had two goats would you give me one of them?' finally asked Pat. 'I would not,' I have them,' declared the socialist disciple. And there is not in the books, be it remembered in these days when so many men are pretending to be socialists, a better definition of socialism than that.

A Tale of Suffering.

Oakley, Mich., May 8th.—(Special)—"I could not sleep or rest in any place," says Florence Capen of this place, in a recent interview. "I had a pain in my back and hips. If I sat down I could not get up out of my chair. I was in pain all the time. I got poor, for I did not eat enough to keep a small child. I could not rest nights. Then I sent for a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and started to take them, and what do you think, that very night I went to bed and I slept till morning. I got up and thanked God for the night's rest, and Dodd's Kidney Pills. I know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are all that is claimed for them." This is only one of the numerous experiences that show the way to health, up run down people is to cure the kidneys. Thousands of people in every state bear witness to the fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure the kidneys.
