Alaska's gold produce for 1905 would pay twice over the $7,000,000 which we gave for that province to Russia. And this is only one item in our annual income from that region.

Dr. Eiger, of Warsaw, a Jewish doctor in the Russian army, who is at present a prisoner of war in Japan, has been elected an honorary member of a scientific section of the University of Tokyo.

In 1880 North Carolina had only 49 mills, consuming 28,000 bales of cotton. Today she owns 1,100 mills consuming 450,000 bales. North Carolina shows an increase of 107 per cent. in the value of her manufactured product, as compared with Massachusetts' 11 per cent.

A unique part of the law passed by the last session of the Wisconsin legislature compelling agriculture to be taught in all country schools is that women teachers in rural districts will have to till the farmer's soil how to till the soil and what soil is the best for certain plants.

Every three years all Chinese domiciled in Siam have to pay a small poll tax. When this has been paid the collector ties a string around the man's left wrist and fastens the knot with a special official seal. The bracelet is the Chinaman's receipt and must be worn one month.

It is not generally known that recently there have been made on the German military railway between Berlin and Zossen some experiments which demonstrate the applicability of wireless telegraphy to the operation of railways, and its undoubted usefulness as a means of preventing disasters.

Whatever attitude congress may take toward the question of the holding of an exposition in Seattle in 1907 to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the annexation of Alaska, that project is calculated to arouse a good deal of popular interest. The object is to display the vast and varied resources of Alaska, to thus interest the people of the United States and the world in that region.

An ingenious Russian has invented an apparatus for destroying injurious insects by electricity. A dynamo is so placed upon a band that electricity is generated when the car is in motion. The current passes into the ground through the iron wheels upon one side and the points of brush on copper wire upon the other. All insects in the vicinity are killed, as if by lightning.

A unique idea in automobile transportation, the invention of Russell Thayer, of Philadelphia, is a machine which will run on the trolley car tracks, with electricity stored in its own storage battery, at the will of its operator. This device is entirely practical as evidenced by the fact that such a vehicle was successfully operated here as an experiment for one day recently by a special arrangement with the Rapid Transit company.

In 1904 only 656 immigrants went to Georgia, North and South Carolina while 58,411 went to Massachusetts. We can easily see a million human grants a year, but we can not use them all in one place. In fact too many remain in New York City. At but a trifling expense a bureau could be maintained at each of our immigration ports, equipped with full information, and in many cases with free transportation to places ready for the new workers.

In the opinion of several physicians eleven-year-old Leo Shields, of No. 115 West Maple avenue, Denver, Col., possesses the most wonderful throat and neck in Denver. While playing in Union park the little fellow ran into a three-inch iron pipe. The barrier caught him squarely on the throat. So great was the impact that the securely supported pipe broke squarely off as the lad crashed through. The boy lay groaning on the ground, and Denver university football players rushed to his aid. The cartilage, which was wrenched out of place, was fixed and the lad picked himself up and scampered home.

The citizens of Bessemer, Ala., are very much interested in what is claimed to be the oldest living couple in the United States. The husband, Elbert Gibson, says he was born in North Carolina in the year 1778, and has distinct recollection of events that took place in the war of 1812. Reliable authority corroborates his statements. Old citizens claim that he has been in Shelby and Jefferson counties for at least 100 years. His life has been principally that of a farmer. Mr. Gibson's wife, who claims to be 89 years old, and says she has been married to him for 65 years, is quite active for one so aged.

The greatest library building in the world, with a housing capacity for 4,500,000 volumes and costing approximately $2,000,000, is now entering the final stages of completion on Fifth Avenue, New York, between Fortieth and Forty-second streets, where the great reservoir for the city water formerly stood. This mammoth structure, which will be known as the "New York Public Library-Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations," is a combination of the Astor and Lenox libraries, and they will be strengthened by the Tilden trust.

The consumption of horse-flesh in Germany has, in consequence of the prohibitive price of beef and pork, increased by leaps and bounds. The Westphalian Mercur reports that in Essen, which is essentially a workman's town, the great demand for this delicacy has resulted in the price being raised from three to six pence per pound. In the neighboring industrial town of Gelsenkirchen there are two butchers who sell only horse-flesh. A butcher there sold the two together killed on the 12 to 13 horses weekly, now they sell from 16 to 18 horses.

DESPERATE BREAK BY FOUR CONVICTS

An Attempted Escape From the Missouri Penitentiary.

IT COST THREE HUMAN LIVES

Two Prison Officials and One of the Convicts Dead and the Deputy Warden, One Officer and One Convict Wounded.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 25.—A desperate attempt to escape from the state penitentiary was made by four convicts at 3:15 o'clock Friday afternoon, resulting in a terrific battle with weapons and nitroglycerin at the prison gate, a running fight through the streets of Jefferson City and the final capture of the four convicts, two of whom were shot and wounded, and two prison officers shot dead and a third seriously wounded.

The Dead.

John Clay, gatekeeper.
E. Allison, officer of the commissary department.

Convict Charles Blake, St. Louis.

Wounded.

Deputy Warden R. H. See, shot in arm and hip.
Officer John Young, shot in leg.
Harry Vaughn, convict, St. Louis; shot in arm.

Captured Unhurt.

George Ryan, from Kansas City.
Charles Raymond, from St. Louis.

A Sudden Outbreak.

There was not the slightest pronouncement of any trouble within the prison walls. Suddenly convicts Harry Vaughn, Charles Raymond, Hiram Blake, George Ryan and Ed Zeigler, who were working in close proximity to the prison gate, inside the inclosure, as if by a given signal, made a rush for the gate. From their pockets they drew pistols, and it is presumed that at least one of them carried a bottle of nitroglycerin. Where these weapons and the explosive were obtained has not yet been discovered. Rushing past the gate they entered Deputy Warden See's office and shot him as he sat in his chair. He sank back and was unable to resist them. Instantly they returned to the gate and met Gatekeeper John Clay, who had been alarmed by the shots, and whom they shot dead.

Used Their Nitroglycerin.

The outside gate was locked, but the desperate convicts were deterred but for a moment. Placing their nitroglycerin under the outside gate they blew an opening through the massive steel doors, and before the smoke had cleared the opening they had dashed through past a number of "trusty" convicts working in the street, and ran madly for 12 blocks.

A Human Shield.

Near the Missouri Pacific railway depot they came upon a wagon being driven by Orville Lane. Jumping into this wagon they seized Lane and held him to act as a shield from the bullets of the pursuers. One convict lashed the horse into a run. The wild ride was of short duration, however, as another posse, consisting of city police augmented by citizens, appeared in front of them, and seeing that further flight was out of the question they stopped the horse and made a desperate stand.

A Desperate Battle.

The prison officials shouted to them to surrender or they would be shot dead. Their only reply was a volley from their revolvers. Then followed one of the most desperate street battles that ever took place in the annals of escaping convicts in Jefferson City. The possemen jumped behind trees and shot with telling effect, splintering the wagon and finally putting a bullet through one of the convicts, who fell to the ground.

The Fugitives Surrender.

Thereupon, seeing that death was inevitable and further resistance useless the convicts surrendered. With a rush the officials closed around the wagon, prepared to shoot to the death if the surrender was a ruse. But no resistance was offered. It was found that Convicts Vaughn and Blake were suffering from bullet wounds. Driver Orville Lane and Convicts Ryan and Raymond were uninjured. The convicts were immediately taken back to the penitentiary, where the wounded were given medical attention, while the uninjured were placed in solitary confinement in dungeon cells.

A Rigid Investigation.

A rigid investigation was immediately started to ascertain from what source the mutineers obtained their weapons and the explosive.

Convict Blake Dead.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 25.—Convict Blake, who was wounded in the right thigh, died in the prison hospital. Convict Vaughn was shot through the right arm but not seriously wounded. Deputy Warden See's wounds are not serious.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 25.—Lewis De Paoli, a florist, beat out the brains of his sister-in-law, Catherine De Paoli, and then surrendered to the officers. De Paoli declared that his sister-in-law held his children under a hypnotic spell.

GEO. ADAMS' PECULATIONS

Instead of $25,000, to Which He Has Confessed, It Is Believed They Will Reach $200,000.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 25.—Late developments in the arrest of George Adams, late cashier in the United States assay office here, for embezzlement, indicates that instead of stealing $25,000 in gold dust, to which he has confessed, his peculations may amount close to $200,000, and that instead of covering a period of six months, they will run farther back than 1903. Adams' bondsmen have withdrawn from the $30,000 bond, and Adams was remanded to jail to await his preliminary hearing.

Several Alaska men have already informed the federal officers that they believe they have been defrauded by some one in the assay office. One man declares that out of $6,000 in gold dust deposited there, only $5,200 was returned to him.

Friends of the family have not dared to inform Mrs. Adams of her husband's trouble, for she is very ill and the news might kill her. Mrs. Adams was Miss Emily Clary, a well-known society girl. A few days ago she became a mother.

FIERCE FIRE AT DECATUR

Several Large Factory Buildings Either Destroyed or Damaged, and Entire District Threatened.

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 23.—Fire laid in ruins the large plant of the Decatur Milling Co., one of the buildings of the Decatur chair factory, and damaged other adjoining factories injured two men and threatened the main manufacturing district of the city. Never so fierce a fire fought by the fire department.

For several hours the firemen fought the spread of the flames, and saved half a dozen big factories, as well as the gas plant. A gas holder containing 200,000 cubic feet of gas was within a quarter of a block of the fire, but fortunately the wind was blowing in the opposite direction.

Two of the firemen were injured by the falling of walls, but neither is fatally hurt. The total loss is between $50,000 and $100,000.

EFFECTS OF MILD WEATHER

Unprecedented Activity in Industrial Lines, But Retail Trade and Collections Unfavorably Affected.

New York, Nov. 25.—Bradstreet's weekly review says: Mild, open weather favors in a high degree the unprecedented activity in all industrial lines, but unfavorably affects retail trade in wearing apparel and other collections, which also feel the influence of country wide freight congestion. Evidently in an effort to avoid trouble from this latter source, holiday trade at wholesale is active beyond all preceding years. In wholesale and jobbing lines, the backwardness of retail trade is reflected in slower re-order trade than expected, but confidence in the general outlook is evidenced by the liberal orders reported for spring goods. Perhaps the most marked evidence of confidence in the future is found in the metal markets.

DOUGHERTY GETS HIS DOSE

The Peoria School Fund Embezzler Was Given an Indeterminate Sentence.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 25.—Newton C. Dougherty, former city superintendent of schools, pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement, and was given an indeterminate sentence.

Dougherty has paled and aged considerably since he went to jail. He trembled slightly as he entered his plea, being anything but the debonair, suave, hypnotic man who was able to loot the Peoria school fund out of a million dollars.

TRAGEDY OVER HORSE TRADE

Samuel Douglas Killed and John Lawrence and Charles Casson Wounded at New Berlin, Ill.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 25.—In a fight resulting from a disagreement in connection with a horse trade, Will and James Hinman shot and killed Samuel Douglas, probably fatally wounded John Lawrence and severely wounded Charles Casson, all of New Berlin. Francis of this state, as guests of honor the members of the Commercial club of Kansas City, to the number of 400, sat down to their eleventh annual banquet at the Midland hotel. In addition to Secretary Taft's speech on the Philippines, addresses were made by former Congressman Wiegman, of Virginia, Gov. Hoch, of Kansas and former Gov. David R. Francis of Missouri. The banquet was the most successful ever given by the commercial club.

River Gambler Goes Free.

The supreme court released Bert Anderson, who was prosecuted and convicted of gambling on a steambot on the Mississippi river. The evidence showed that the crime was committed outside the jurisdiction of the city of St. Louis. The statute allows prosecutions in such cases in any county through which a steambot or railroad may run or at the termination of the line, but the supreme court holds that statute to be unconstitutional, because the constitution requires all prosecutions for crime must be in the county where the crime was committed.

A Hitching Hack Law suit.

Callaway county has filed a suit for $1,600 damages against the town of Fulton, alleging that the city council unlawfully moved the hitching rack around the court house. The town councilmen have been made personal defendants in the suit. The council had the rack moved. It claimed that it was a public nuisance. The county alleges in its suit that the rack was on county property and that the city had no jurisdiction in the matter. The case will come to trial in the December term of court.

Convict Hid in a Box.

Ben Brumley, a convict sent to the penitentiary from St. Louis in March to serve seven years for forgery, tried to escape recently. Convicts were loading a wagon with kindling and Brumley, catching the eye of the guard diverted, concealed himself in an empty box, which was loaded on the wagon. After the wagon was drawn through the gate he was missed, and the officials thought it possible that he was concealed in a box. They went over the load of boxes and found him.

The Powell Button Industry.

A unique Missouri industry, which is gaining in importance, is the turning of clam and mussel shells into pearl buttons. In Missouri there are 12 button and blank factories large enough to make returns to the state labor bureau. The total capital invested is $150,000. In 1904 they gave employment to about 450 men, women, boys and girls, and paid out in wages $49,000. The buttons and the blanks turned out by the eight factories sold at wholesale for $126,882.

Senator Warner's home for the winter will be at the Cairo hotel in Washington.

To Hang Negro for Murder.

Cassius W. Brown, the negro twice convicted of the murder of Mrs. Nancy Ann Gay, was formally sentenced in the criminal court at St. Joseph to be hanged December 29 next. Brown was released from the Illinois penitentiary a year ago, two weeks before the murder of Mrs. Gay, a few miles south of St. Joseph. He had served 25 years for criminal assault.

Convicts to Have Holiday.

Thanksgiving day will be appropriately observed at the penitentiary on the 20th inst., for the first time since D. R. Francis was governor of Missouri. The big factories will all suspend business and the convicts and foremen alike will have a holiday. The order to this effect has been made by the prison inspectors.

Patterson Found Guilty.

The jury in the Patterson murder trial at Marshall returned a verdict finding the defendant, Charles G. Patterson, guilty as charged, and assessed his punishment at two years in the penitentiary. CONVINCING EVIDENCE

That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Will Cure Rheumatism.

"People can cure themselves of a good many common ailments at a very small cost if they go about it the right way," said Mr. Hoar, recently. "For instance, I have just cured myself of a very painful disease. I might have mistaken it sooner, that's all the mistake I made in the matter. But I found the root of the difficulty and I picked out the right remedy without the aid of a doctor."

"It was really all in my blood. I first felt a twinge in my left foot and ankle in the middle of last January, following exposure to cold. I realized I had rheumatism and I knew that really comes from bad blood. Cold simply develops it. Then my hands and feet were cold and clammy even in hot weather, and numb a great part of the time. I concluded that my blood was thin and poor and the circulation sluggish."

"After a time my feet and ankles swelled so badly that I could only tie my shoes half way up. My legs swelled terribly and I could walk only a short distance before giving out completely. "When I read of the cures of all kinds of blood diseases, that had been effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I was convinced that they were just the remedy for my case, and so it proved. I could see that they were benefiting me before I had quite used up the first box. The improvement was decidedly marked after I had taken two boxes. Three more boxes restored my hands and feet and legs to natural size and feeling and then I stopped taking medicine and have since been perfectly well."

Mr. F. Le Roy Hoar lives at No. 133 Constitution street, Bristol, R. I. Any one can get convincing evidence that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured anemia, rheumatism, sciatica and other serious diseases of the blood by simply writing to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schuetteville, N. Y.
