WINTER LOSS OF BEES Queenless Colony Will Certainly Die in Few Months.

Among Known Causes of Damage Are Lack of Numbers, Insufficient Food, Dampness, Lack of Air and Low Temperature.

The winter losses of bees are great every year. Beekeepers can reduce these losses by protecting their bees for winter and giving them good winter quarters.

The chief known causes for winter losses are queenlessness, lack of numbers in colonies, insufficient food, poor food, dampness, lack of air, the breaking of clusters, and low temperatures.

A queenless colony will certainly die in a few months. If the number of bees in a colony is small, the cluster cannot generate enough heat to keep the heat it generates and the bees freeze.

BEES MUST ENTER IN THE WINTER IN ORDER TO GENERATE HEAT. They must have about 40 pounds of honey when they go into winter quarters.

FEED STOCK IN THE WINTER Never Safe to Trust to Open Grazing—Unexpected Storms Often Cause Loss of Animals.

The essentials for a successful campaign in feeding are an abundance of feed to draw from as needed and the stable and shed protection in times of storm and inclement weather.

When the stock are located in their winter quarters it is not pay to change them in an effort to suit or in the spring weather that often makes its appearance in the months of January, February and March.

The hay-fed stock reach the early grass season in the best condition for profit.

Loss of $45,000,000 Every Year to Farmers and Poultrymen on Account Poor Handling.

Farmers and poultrymen of the United States lose $45,000,000 every year through bad eggs, and nearly every bit of this loss is due to carelessness.

Eggs are left on the nest too long before being gathered, are kept in the house too long before being sent to market, and kept in a warm or in a mold cellar, are carelessly packed and inadequately protected.

Worst of all, because most easily prevented, fertile eggs are produced when every egg ought to be infertile. If the egg contains a germ, it is bound to develop when exposed to heat, and the result is a blood ring.

Doctor Rommel of the bureau of animal industry states that at least one-third of the annual loss in the egg industry is due to blood rings.

TRACK PROTECTS BARN DOOR Two Steel Stampings So Formed and Riveted Together That Sturdy Track is Produced.

A new track, designed to protect as well as support a sliding door on barn or garage, is being marketed.

The track consists of two sheet-steel stampings so formed and riveted together that a track of sturdy construction is produced.

Between the stampings, on ridges made in the metal, the trolleys supporting the door ride. Since the various sections of the track are fitted together with lap joints, the entire runway where the trolleys travel is protected from the weather at all times.

This is in contrast to the way ice and sleet sometimes make a door inoperative in winter weather, when ordinary track is used.

No brackets or joint splices are necessary in erecting this runway, since the stampings are nailed or screwed directly to the surface of the building.

The outer part of the track is especially shaped to keep water from running down onto the upper edge of the door and rotting the wood.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

FRESH WATER IS IMPORTANT Add Enough Potassium Permanganate of Potash to Make it Wine Red, Says Lippincott of Kansas.

Chickens need a constant supply of fresh water, according to W. A. Lippincott, professor of poultry husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural College.

"Running water is best," says Professor Lippincott, "but if this is not available keep the water fresh. Add enough potassium permanganate of potash to make it a wine red. This amount will act as an antiseptic in preventing the transmission of disease through the water and will also in keeping down intestinal parasites."

NARRAGANSETT IS LARGE BIRD Second Only to Mammoth Bronze in Some Parts of Country—Weight for Tom is 20 Pounds.

The Narragansett is a breed of turkeys second only to the Mammoth Bronze in some parts of the country.

The Narragansett is also a large bird. The standard weight for the tom is 20 pounds, for the hen 18 pounds.

The breed took its name from the Narragansett Bay, where it originated. It is a very popular domestic bird in that locality. The color is gray mixed with black.

PRACTICAL HINTS OF DAIRY Large Mouths Indicate Good Feeding Qualities—Keep Cows Out of Fith for Clean Milk.

Large mouths and wide bodies indicate good feeding qualities and great digestive capacity.

No man can produce clean milk from cows that are permitted to lie in their own filth.

A cow underfed is not doing her best work, and a cow overfed is losing something in her production.

EXERCISE REQUIRED BY COW Considerations of Good Health Forbid That Animal Be Kept Closely Confined to Barn.

While it is doubtless true that a cow kept at perfect ease will, other things being equal, give the greatest quantity of milk, yet considerations of health forbid forcing and require that the cow be given moderate exercise in the open air.

ORCHARD TOPICS TREES DESTROYED BY FUNGI No Kind of Fruit-Bearing Trees Enjoy Immunity From Parasitical Vegetation.

In extremely warm countries, it not infrequently occurs that lichens gnaw fruit trees and kill them. It is usually the citrus orchards that suffer greatest, but no kind of fruit-bearing trees enjoy entire immunity from these parasitical vegetable growths.

A large and healthy apple tree growing in an orchard in southern California was killed by lichens. This is said to be the first case on record in this section of the country.

The killing of the tree is supposed to have taken about three years.

though the fungous growth was first observed not more than a year ago. The fungi came up from the earth first, covering about one-third of the trunk.

They continued their growth to a height of about three feet, when they completely surrounded the tree, sending large filament-like suckers deep into the heart of the trunk.

Even now, when the tree and the lichens are both dead, close inspection of the broken cross-sections shows white lines where once these rootlets burrowed through the wood.

FRUIT OF HIGHEST QUALITY Opportunity Without Limit Awaits Man Who Will Supply Demand—Variation Is Fatal.

"The difference of the multitude is the opportunity of the few." This is a recent utterance of a college professor, but there never will be a more truthful statement of the situation regarding the fruit-growing industry.

opportunity without limit awaits the man who will supply the demand for strictly first-quality fruit.

The man who has the nerve to put up a pack that can be absolutely depended upon is the man who will make money, and there are not enough of that sort of men yet in the fruit business to cause any very serious competition, but the slightest variation in quality is fatal to success.—Fruit Grower.

DESTROY PEACH TREE BORER Work May Be Done From Now On—Cold Weather of Winter Will Kill the Insects.

Worming the peach trees for borers may be done from now on, and after it is finished the dirt may either be left away from the tree or the hole filled.

If there is no danger of water collecting about the base of the trunk the cold weather of the winter will kill the borers, and when worming is done again early in the spring the holes can be filled.

NOT MUCH TRIMMING NEEDED For First Three Years Cut Out Only New Growth of Current and Gooseberry Bushes.

Currants and gooseberries do not need much trimming. For the first three or four years only the surplus new growth needs cutting out to prevent bushes getting too thick.

After that some of the old stalks should be taken out every year or two to permit the new growth to develop, as it produces the most and largest fruit.

INSECTS INJURE MUCH FRUIT Twenty Per Cent of Crop of Country Destroyed Each Year—Loss Amounts to $30,000,000.

Insects destroy 20 per cent of the fruit crop of this country every year. This means $30,000,000 yearly taken from the pockets of American fruit growers.

Seems as if it would pay one to get acquainted with these bugs, even if he grows only a little fruit for his own use, doesn't it?

A Good Rule. "Every doubtful apple is a call." Frame that sentence and hang it where every person having anything to do with sorting or packing your fruit can see it constantly. It will do much toward solving the price question.—Fruit Grower.

Pruning. Pruning is an art. Pruning will change a tree from the largest size to the smallest size. Pruning trees will make them fruitful if done properly, or unfruitful if not done properly.

The Secret Out. The widower and the ex-widower danced to meet in a downtown wet goods emporium. "You seem to be remarkably happy since you married the second time," remarked the widower. "What's the explanation?" "My wife is a firm believer in fairy stories. See?" rejoined the ex-widower. And as the seeing was good, the other looked through the bottom of his glass and saw clearly.

Getting Old Too Fast?

Late in life the body shows signs of wear and often the kidneys weaken first. The back is lame, head aches, and the kidney action distressing. This makes people feel older than they are.

Don't wait for drops, gravel, hardening of the arteries or Bright's disease. Use a mild kidney stimulant. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands of elderly folks recommend them.

A Missouri Case. Louis T. Hollich, 102 Benton Ave., St. Charles, Mo., a 57-year-old man, writes: "My back ached so badly I hardly knew what to do. I kept getting worse daily and could hardly drag myself around. Had a poor appetite, didn't sleep well and was subject to headaches and dizzy spells. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills and improved from the first. I had used four boxes, my kidneys were normal and the other troubles left me."

"What's the next query?" he asked, when he had gone half way through the pile of letters.

"Oh," replied the "sub," "a reader wants to know how to prevent the hair in his mustache from falling out."

"Well," answered the editor, with a sigh, "just put down." The best way to prevent hair from falling out is to brush them lightly and keep them from quarreling."

TO PREVENT OLD AGE COMING TOO SOON! "Toxic poisons in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such poisons. If we wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase our chances for a long life, we should drink plenty of pure water and take a little Auric." says the famous Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

When suffering from headache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little Auric from your nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results. You will find it thirty-seven times more potent than lithia, and that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.
