Mrs. Annie Hasket.

Mrs. Annie Hasket, wife of W. F. Hasket, died at her home in Blosser on Sunday morning. For years she was an active member of the Christian church. She has raised a large family of children, who in speaking of their mother say, "she was never known to be angry." She was a faithful Christian, a good woman, genial and kind to all. She was a victim to that dread disease, spinal meningitis and fell asleep trusting in Jesus and will awake in his likeness. Burial at Ridge Park on Monday; services at the grave conducted by Rev. E. E. Morris. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

Death of H. O. Bardell.

Mr. H. C. Burdell, died at his home on Marion street on Sunday morning, from the effects of a dose of rat poison, taken during a temporary aberration of mind. He had been an invalid for years and for two weeks had been suffering with some congestion about the head, which seemed to prey upon his mind.

Deceased was a deacon in the Christian church; he was a conscientious devoted Christian man, and leaves a wife to mourn for him. The funeral was held Tuesday from the residence, Rev. Wharton conducting the services. Burial at Ridge Park cemetery.

County Court Compromised.

In the case of William Lucas against the judges of the County Court of Pettis Co., a compromise was effected, whereby the court pays $500 to the man whom they declared insane. As stated in the REPUBLICAN at the time of the institution of the suit, Lucas was taken before the court on a capias and declared insane. He was turned over to the Nevada Asylum authorities for awhile, where he was confined, but afterward released.

When free again, he started out to make it hot for those who had done him the injustice claimed, of a false arrest and judgment of insanity when such was not the case.

Store Burglarized.

R. L. Gaudin's grocery store was on Saturday night the object of two lads' avarice who were doubtless in need of spending money and thought of this method of burglary to replenish their pocket books. The bar holding the back door was pushed upward by a rod through the crack, so as to allow the door to be pushed open. The cash drawer was looted and $7.50 in nickels, dimes and pennies was secured, and perhaps a sack of Duke's mixture and a handful of cigarette papers. Doc Smith and Clay Lemmon were called upon the next day to interview two boys who were suspected. Placed in a sweat box, they soon fessed up and turned over the coin, which had been equally divided and put away in tin cans. Leslie Smarr and Chas Carver were then taken to city quarters.

They were tried before Justice Ferrill Tuesday and bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

A Change of Firm.

W. H. Hurt sold his Hardware and Furniture Store on Friday to Mr. O. H. Johnston of Texas. Mr. Hurt will leave soon for Barton Co., where he expects to superintend the fruit farm.

We are sorry to lose Mr. Hurt and his excellent family, and wish them prosperity wherever they may go. Mr. Johnston is a wide awake, thoroughly up-to-date business man, having been in the Hardware and Furniture business for years. We bespeak for him a liberal amount of patronage.
