

A Reception and Anniversary.

Mrs. Charles Bell gave a series of entertainments on Tuesday afternoon at her pretty home on East Arrow St., which was one of the daintiest incidents of the season, when some 50 or more guests were royally entertained from 4 to 5. The hostess was assisted by the following ladies: Misses Vaughan and Bell, of Miami, Mesdames J. P. Huston, J. W. Adams, W. R. Dobyys, W. S. Huston, T. W. Galloway, H. L. Huston and Miss Sadie Buckland who formed a pleasing party of ladies who made the hours pass swiftly.

ANNIVERSARY RECEPTION.

On the same evening from 8:30 to 12 Mr. and Mrs. Bell celebrated the fifth anniversary of their marriage, by giving quite a large reception to their friends and relatives throughout the city and county.

The receiving party upon this occasion was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, Rev. W. R. Dobyys and wife, J. P. Huston and wife, W. S. Huston and wife, Dr. T. W. Galloway and wife, J. W. Adams and wife, Mrs. H. L. Huston, the Misses Bell and Vaughan, Buckland, Pearl Parrish, Elizabeth Whitaker, Florian Yerby, Dr. M. F. Ming and T. W. Harvey.

The parlors were decorated in yellow chrysanthemums, the sitting room was beautifully trimmed in pink chrysanthemums, while the attractive dining room was done in pink carnations; the handsome table was draped in pink silk and asparagus ferns, the corners banked with carnations.

Mrs. Bell received her guests in her wedding gown, a pretty creation of gray and pink changeable silk, with trimmings of pink chiffon and jet, and it is said that she was if any thing, handsomer than when she stood at the altar 5 years before, as a bride.

Sweet strains of music from the Mandolin Club, whose presence never fails to please, was a marked feature of the evening. The youthful musicians were as follows: Messrs Arch Naylor, Warren Colvert, Robert Ward, Noble Bru-nough and Charles Chapline.

Some handsome and useful presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Bell, and this evening, in which 90 friends or more were entertained, will long be remembered, as the years come and go, by those present.

The following elaborate menu was served at a late hour: oyster patties, salmon croquettes, saratoga chips, fruit salad, hot rolls, pickles, Roman ice, coffee, cake, and chocolate wafers.

Club Reception.

Mrs. R. C. Horne's reception on Thursday afternoon at her home on College Hill was a delightful social affair in which some 50 or more guests enjoyed the hospitalities of this pleasant home, including the Fancy Work and a number of the Allegrezza, Pierian and Harmonic clubs.

The hostess is a member of several of these clubs, the members of which always look forward with more than usual pleasure to their meeting with her, as her receptions are only lacking in one thing, and that is formality, making them all that could be desired for the entertained. She is herself one of those low voiced, cultured, gentlewomen, which always attracts, and her lovely home, with its hard wood floors and artistic furnishings, reflects in every way her own personal taste and tactfulness.

There is always a quantity of flowers and ornamental plants somewhere in Mrs. Horne's house and on this occasion the decorations were the graceful clematis vine, the colors green and white predominating. This beautiful vine which reaches the maximum of its beauty at this season of the year, was gracefully festooned over mantel and doorways, with here and there a bunch of bittersweet.

Mrs. Horne was assisted by her husband, who is equal to six ordinary people, when it comes to entertaining and Richard Horne, Jr., also made himself quite useful. A luncheon prepared with much care was served by Loomis, consisting of oyster patties, chicken salad, Arabian punch and cheese straws, after which the guests adjourned to the dining room, where Mr. and Mrs. Horne served coffee and marmarites.

Mrs. Broughton.

Mrs. Broughton, aged 84 years died at the home of her son, Oscar Broughton, in the northern part of the city on Tuesday night at 10 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Three children survive this good old lady, Oscar and Ed Broughton of Marshall and Charles Broughton of Kansas City.

For RENT 600 acre farm, good house, barn, fences, & c. Also 50 acre farm.

R. Campbell, Sr., 6132w

In Honor of Miss Kinsel and Guest.

Misses Lillian Kinsel, of Santa Rosa, Cal., and her visitor Miss Nellie Moore, of Kansas City, were the guests of honor at a very pleasant entertainment, given at the Mistletoe Club rooms Wednesday evening. Both of these two visiting young ladies are very affable conversationalists and delightful entertainers, and the fact that this function was in honor of two such favorites, added to the interest and enjoyment of the evening.

Progressive anagrams, the feature of the evening's diversion, is by no means a listless game, when you are required to think heavily and quickly for words which seem few at such critical moments, and arouse the excitement and rivalry, yet withal good feeling, which adds spice to pleasure, and gives it the enjoyable flavour.

A very neatly framed water color and a gentleman's hat mark were the prizes, which fell to the lot of Miss Frances Vawter and Gus Mayer.

At a late hour, the party retired to Loomis' cafe and there indulged their Epicurean tastes in a very seasonable and elegant luncheon.

Menu—blue points, pickles, olives, crackers; quail on toast, June peas, salmon salad on lettuce, Saratoga chips; brick cream and cake; coffee and wafers; cigars.

Those present were: Misses Kinsel, Nellie Moore, Florian Yerby, LaRue Campbell, Agnes Langan, Martha Rea, Pet Parrish, Fannie Kincaid, Frances Vawter; Messrs. Frank Miles, Chat Fisher, Will Rea, M. P. Lyons, Gus and Karl Mayer, Chas. Chapline, M. F. Ming, Percy VanDyke, Judd Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Amos, and Mrs. Cecil Wilson.

Pierian Club.

The Pierian Club will meet with Mrs. Brandon Nov. 20, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll-Call—Quotations from Franklin Patriotic Instrumental.

Music—Mrs. Place. Lesson—Revolutionary War, conducted by Mrs. Black.

Reading—Grandmother's Description of the Battle of Bunker Hill, Mrs. Mitchell.

Table Talk—Revolutionary Her-ones.

Patriotic Vocal Music—Mrs. Van-stone.

Critic—Miss Nordike, Mrs. G. S. Hardin, Pres. Miss May Brandon, Sec.

THE NEW YORK STORE.

Gentlemen should dress well
Let us help you do so, wear
one of our

Schloss Beos.,
Tailor
Made Suits.

A nobby, up-to-date

"Young" Hat

such as we carry, a

Lyon Brand
..... Shirt

One of our

New Ties

and you will look well and happy, and then your friends will be pleased when they see you

Every one of the brands
we carry, in the above lines are synonymous with Excellence of Quality. Don't fail to look at the tan covert

OVERCOATS

we are showing

at $10 and $12.50

They cannot be beaten.