

Promotion for J. B. Frawley.

It is reported from Denver, Col., and Omaha, Neb., that J. B. Frawley, general agent of the Union Pacific Railroad in this city, is slated to succeed S. H. Hutchinson as general passenger agent of the road. Mr. Hutchinson retires to accept a position with the Northwestern Railroad. The promotion of Mr. Frawley is well merited and if it comes to pass, the Union Pacific Railroad will make hundreds of new friends in Kansas City. Mr. Frawley has been with the Union Pacific for many years. For the last six years he has been in charge of the passenger department in the Southwest territory.

It is hoped that with the advancement of Mr. Frawley, the Union Pacific Railroad will recognize the importance of Kansas City as a commercial and transportation center by locating the headquarters of the assistant general passenger agent here. Kansas City is the largest city on the Union Pacific system and there are many good reasons why the importance of the passenger office of the road here, should be increased.

The above news item taken from Wednesday's Star, will be well received in Marshall, where genial Mr. Frawley has many friends. All that is wished for by them is to know for a surety that the advancement will come as reported.

Smothered in Wheat.

Mack Collier, a twelve-year old boy was smothered to death Thursday morning in the elevator bin of wheat at Mt. Leonard. The boy, it seems was in the barn, when one of the chutes was opened below to load a car standing on the track. He was suddenly carried below the surface by the sinking grain and though a comrade, Jim Armstrong, tried to save him, he was pulled beneath and there smothered to death. Several holes were cut in the bin in order to save the unfortunate boy but all to no avail. He met death in a very short space of time.

Old Settlers, Attention!

The annual business meeting of the Old Settlers' Association of Saline county will be held at the court house at Marshall at 10 o'clock a. m. on Thursday, the 9th day of August, 1900. A good attendance is desired, as officers for the ensuing year are to be elected and time and place selected for holding the annual picnic.

Concluded to Plead Guilty.

Emma Henderson, charged with burning the barn of Sam'l Black on April 28th, was tried in the criminal court on Friday. The testimony was of a very convincing character and after the evidence was all in and the case ready to go to the jury, her attorneys plead her guilty. The penalty was fixed at one year in the penitentiary.

She was at one time the housekeeper at Mr. Black's, but for certain reasons was replaced by another, which it is supposed she resented by setting fire to the barn.

A Desirable Book.

Miss Nellie Young of Boonville is in the city engaged in working up a pictorial hand-book of Marshall to which the merchants and residents are responding liberally. A similar work was recently made for Boonville, a copy of which is carried in explaining her present object. The sample is neat and artistic, the photo-engravings being of a high order. Such a book would prove a good advertisement for Marshall, and might often prove useful in showing upon paper just what kind of a town we have.

Resolutions of the Bar.

During Tuesday morning's session of Criminal Court, the resolutions of respect to the memory of Leslie Orear adopted by the bar, as published in our issue of July 6th, were presented to the Criminal Court by Alf. F. Rector, in a very eloquent and touching tribute to the lawyer, citizen and man, which our own city has recently mourned in the death of Mr. Orear.

Opportunity was given those who desired to express themselves upon the loss sustained in the death of this beloved fellow practitioner and among those who responded were:—A. F. Rector, Judge Sam'l Davis, J. H. Hunter, W. G. Lynch, E. D. Martin, C. M. Hawley and Judge Rich. The resolutions were ordered by the court to be spread upon the records.

Tours in the Rocky Mountains.

The "Scenic Line of the World," the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, offers to tourists in Colorado, Utah and New Mexico the choicest resorts, and to the transcontinental traveler the grandest scenery. Two separate and distinct routes through the Rocky Mountains, all through tickets available via either. The direct line to Cripple Creek, the greatest gold camp on earth. Three trains daily each way with through Pullman palace and tourist sleeping cars between Denver, San Francisco and Los Angeles, and Denver and Portland. The best line to Utah, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington via the "Ogden Gateway." Dining cars (service a la carte) on all through trains. Write S. H. Hooper, G. P. and T. A., Denver, Colorado, for illustrated descriptive pamphlets.

Musical at Leonard Home.

Miss Margaret Leonard's tenth birthday was properly celebrated on Tuesday afternoon, according to her expressed choice, in a musicale given to her young friends.

The program was arranged by George McMillan, consisting of thirteen numbers, which were all well executed and received by the little people present.

After the rendition of these pieces, ice cream and assorted cake were served on the lawn, which ended a happy afternoon and one upon which the hostess and her guests may always look back upon with pleasure.

Carroll Conway Logsdon.

Little Carroll Conway Logsdon, the infant son of Carroll and Ruby Logsdon of Blackburn died Tuesday at the home of the parents.

The funeral services were held at the home of the mother's father, Mr. Thomas Conway's at five p. m. Wednesday, conducted by Rev. B. T. Wharton.

Burial followed at Ridge Park, where the young body was laid away to await the resurrection morn. The parents in this loss of an only child upon whom their affections were centered, have the sympathy of their many friends.

Entertains on North Street.

Miss Louise Hunter entertained on Tuesday afternoon in honor of her Fulton guest, Miss Ruth Hunter, at her home on North street. Progressive dominoes furnished much amusement for the afternoon to the invited, who were:

Misses Berenice Vance, Bessie

King, Rachel VanDyke, Iva Hahn, Lela Hays, Berenice Clark and Ethel Sharp. Miss Ruth Hunter delighted her company with some well rendered selections and the afternoon, during which refreshments were served, proved a most pleasant one.
