The Mistletoe Ball

A Brilliant Social Event of Full Week

One of the happy events of a gay week was the ball given on Friday evening by the Mistletoe Club, and certainly Mistletoe Hall never sheltered a happier or handier group of young ladies and gentlemen than those who responded to the invitations upon this evening, when merry making ran at a high pitch.

The club is composed of young men who spare no expense to make every detail of their delightful parties complete.

The music by the Pickaninny Orchestra was inspiring and made dancing a delight.

Miss Martha Rea, the queen of the ball, and Mr. Frank Mills led the dance, which opened at precisely o'clock, after which the programs were distributed.

Miss Rea, who owing to her sweet, sunny disposition, makes friends for her wherever she goes, is a universal favorite and made a model queen, and never did she appear to greater advantage than upon this occasion, gowned in white silk with a most becoming way and worn with a style all her own.

The young ladies all looked handsome, some beautiful costumes being worn.

During the evening a waltz, which had been composed recently by Prof. Smith, the leader of the orchestra, was named and dedicated to the Mistletoe Club. We are told that the music was the best ever heard in the hall. Several songs, all comic selections, were given between the dances by the pianist, which made a decided hit with the young people present.

The guests from a distance were: Misses Estelle Dawes of Slater, Rosalind Reid of Jefferson City, Cathie Campbell of Lexington, Lucille Edwards of Kansas City, Nelly and Leta Hancock of Black-

The table, the laid with covers for twelve guests, was beautifully decorated with pink and white as tures and masses of ferns.

At the table were Misses Janette Leonard and Lucille Edwards, guests of honor: Agnes Langan, Flora

Verby, Elizabeth Williams of Boone-ville, Edith and Dora Leonard, Miss Fulkerson of Lexington, Rich ey Stephens of Booneville and Mrs. W. Leonard of Fayette.

Miss Mollie Lee Hawkins.

A telegram received by Mrs. N. C. Cannon of the county, last week, brought the sad news of the death of her sister, Miss Mollie Lee Haws kins, in the terrible hurricane at Cape May.

Miss Hawkins was living with her uncle, J. R. Corvill, in the beautiful city in which there is so much of sorrow and heart ache.

Mr. Coryll also lost a young daughter, Miss Patty Ross Coryll, in the storm, when Mollie having visited in Slater frequently, is both well and favorably known.

Her bereaved family have the sympathy of the community in this great sorrow.

Abraham Hardin.

Henry Akeman, of Marshall and Miss Maude Hardin of Fairville neighborhood, were married on Friday, Sept. 14th, 1900, at 11 a.

m. at the home of Rev. B. T. Wharton, the officiating minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Akeman left on Sat day morning for Kansas City for a short visit, but received a tele gram shortly after reaching the city, telling them of the sad death of little Lewis Hardin, the bride's only brother.

CAPABLE mother must be a healthy mother.

The experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation.

Correct and practical counsel is what the expectant and would-be mother needs and this counsel she can secure without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham at Lyon, Mass.

CAPABLE MOTHER

HOOD

Mrs. Corda Gibson, Yates, Manitoce

Co., Mich., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Two years ago I began having such dull, heavy, dragging pains in my back, menes were pro flous and painful and was troubled with incorrable. I took patent medicines and consulted a physician, but received no benefit and could not become pregnant.

"Reading one of your books, I wrote to you telling you my troubles and asking for advice. You an swered my letter promptly and I followed the directions faithfully, and derived so much benefit that I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. I now find myself pregnant and have begun its use again. I cannot praise it enough."

Mrs. Perley Moulton,

Thetford, Vt., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine. I took several bottles of it before the birth of my baby and it went along nicely. I had no after-pains and am now strong and enjoying good health. Baby is also fat and healthy."

Mrs. Cha. Geryre, 504 South Monroe St., Bad

more, Md., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Before tak ing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was unable to become pregnant; but since I have used it my health is much improved, and I have a big baby boy, the joy and pride of our home."
