

Mitchell-Campbell.

Mr. F. E. Mitchell, who lives near Shackelford, surprised his many friends by getting married early Tuesday morning. Such a thing had been expected for some time, but Frank had so far succeeded in veiling the happy event with secrecy, that but a very few of his friends guessed the exact date. The happy bride of the happy groom was Miss Annie Campbell, who lived two miles south east of Marshall. They had been sweethearts for some time, and this joyous culmination of their courtship was looked forward to as an event that would surely happen. The nuptial ceremony which made this couple one, was performed at five o'clock Tuesday morning, at the Catholic church in Marshall, Rev. Francis O'Neill officiating. Thomas Flynn of this place acted as best man, while Miss Mary Campbell of Slater, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. As soon as the ceremony was over the bridal party were driven to the C. & A. depot, where the bride and groom took the early train for an extended tour through the west.

Those who know this young couple predict for them much happiness in life. The bride is young, beautiful and talented, abundantly blessed by nature with all those charms that make women admired, loved and respected. The groom is also young, manly and enterprising, whose business concerns have been well looked after and whose sterling qualities of worth have won for him the respect and confidence of every one. When the union of such a couple as this is blessed with a love that binds, no fear need be felt for their continued happiness throughout life. Their many friends join in wishing, what they expect them to enjoy, the choicest of God's blessings until death does part them.

As soon as the bridal tour is completed they will return to the home of the groom near Shackelford, where they will reside.

Naylor-Mackey.

Mr. Frank Naylor and Miss Lula Mackey, both of this place, were married at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. F. Manning on South Odell avenue, Wednesday evening, Oct. 9, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Bernard of St. Louis and Rev. Howell of this city, officiating. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the immediate families and a few intimate friends being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Naylor took the east bound train for St. Louis, where they will visit relatives and friends and after their return, will be at home to their friends on South English avenue.

The Monday Club.

The Monday Club met in the parlors of the K. of P. hall. The morning was taken up with a fine program by the Home department. Mrs. W. J. Fulkerson was the efficient leader, and Mrs. B. T. Wharton proved to be an interesting critic. Roll Call—A lunch receipt, a new dish, or suggestion, for simpler living.

The leader, Mrs. Fulkerson, read a fine paper, "Economics as a Science."

"Home Making and Home Building" was a sweet and helpful paper, by Mrs. E. E. Morris.

Mrs. Ed Conway's excellent paper on "Sanitary and Economical Cooking" was one of the best of the morning, and was rich in helpful suggestions.

Table Talk—"The Most Healthful Way to Prepare Meats," was taken part in by all the ladies present, and was thoroughly enjoyed.

FICTION CLASS.

Mrs. D. F. Bell was the leader for the afternoon session of the Fiction class, and contributed in a large measure to the pleasure and profit of the program. The subject, "Scott's Kenilworth," was discussed in several fine papers, reading, etc.

Roll call was answered with quotations from Kenilworth.

A very fine paper, "Character Sketch of Sir Walter Scott," was read by Miss Louise Noble.

The dramatic elements in Kenilworth were ably presented by Miss Mary Ellis.

"Edinburg" was an effective reading by Mrs. D. F. Mauning.

Geographical Sketch—The cities mentioned in Kenilworth was given in a paper by Miss Anna Booth.

Miss Stella Hicks compared the literature of the 18th and 19th centuries in a splendid paper, which received much favorable comment.

"England, in the Days of Elizabeth," was the topic of the table talk.

Mrs. John R. Hall was critic for the afternoon and made her corrections and suggestions in her usual pleasant and affable manner.

Goes to Manila.

Prof. John Harold, who taught school near Slater for four years, and who for the past year has had a position in the census department at Washington, D. C., as clerk, has just received an appointment as clerk and stenographer in the civil service at Manila. He will leave to-day for San Francisco, where on October 16th he will sail on the Thomas. Mrs. Harold and children will not go to Manila for two or three months.

Dr. W. G. Fisher.

Dr. W. G. Fisher died at his home, on South Odell avenue, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 9, 1901, at 2:50 o'clock. About two weeks ago an operation for appendicitis was performed by Drs. Hall and Jackson, of Kansas City, and Drs. Manning and Hall, of this place, but his condition at that time left little hope for the patient's recovery.

William G. Fisher was the son of Jacob and Mary Fisher, who came to Missouri from Virginia in the early days and located near Napton, Mo., where the doctor was born February 10, 1845. Three sisters and one brother survive: Mrs. S. Conway, of LaMonte, Mo., Mrs. W. P. Howard, of St. Louis, Mrs. L. F. Wood, of Kansas City, and T. S. Fisher, of Kansas City.

Dr. Fisher was a graduate of the Missouri Medical College of St. Louis. Soon after the close of the civil war, he began the practice of medicine in Napton, this county, and built up the largest practice of any physician in Saline county. In 1896, he with his family, moved to Marshall, where he continued to practice his profession until his death. He married Miss Mary Field, of this county, who with 3 children, Misses Mabel and Nadine and William survive him. Dr. Fisher was a Christian gentleman, a friend to the rich and poor alike, and in his profession he ranked with the best. No citizen of Saline county, had more warm and sincere friends among all classes than had Dr. Fisher.
