

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course.

A good Lecture Course is almost an essential feature in every college and its educational value to a community cannot be estimated. It is a sort of circulating university brought right to your own door, in which all the members of the faculty are specialists. No one can afford to deprive himself of its advantages.

For some years the Y. M. C. A. of M. V. C. has offered a course of lectures to the student-body, and the public, which have been well received by all who attended them. This year they come with a course which they feel to be equal to the best and they are confident that it will give satisfaction to all who appreciate a first-class course.

The Course will consist of five numbers. The first to appear will be The Euphonium Glee Club, composed of four men who have gained very enthusiastic recognition as artists wherever they have appeared. Their "team-work" is splendid, and their specialties are original and skillfully rendered. A soloist, reader, whistler-cartoonist and accompanist make up the club. Be sure you hear the Euphoniums—Oct. 21.

"Rare Fun Well Done" is one of the things that keeps the world young, and Alton Packard comes this year as the humorist and cartoonist. He is original, spontaneous and delightful. They are sure you will like him. Dec. 17.

Gen. Z. T. Sweeney, author, diplomat and lecturer will add breadth and keenness of thought to the course, and his brilliance and eloquence always captivates his audience. (He is the author of the book "Under the Flags!") Jan. 29.

Prof. Amherst Ott needs no introduction to a Marshall Audience. He has been secured as the fourth number on our course and will give us something good. He comes Feb. 14.

For the closing number of our course they have engaged The Oriole Concert Company which has been attracting so much attention among Lyceum Circles the past three years. The company is composed entirely of ladies, and they are all artists. We feel confident that they will give a most enjoyable evening March 16.

In presenting this course to the public they feel that it is one of the best ever offered. They ask your hearty support as they endeavor to give a first-class course for pleasure and profit.

Ira W. Barnett has charge of the lecture course this year and will be glad to furnish any further information.

All these numbers will be rendered at Stewart Chapel.

AMONG OUR SUBSCRIBERS

J. J. Bizantz, of Herndon, called in last Thursday to order the Republican another year.

Rev. T. H. Boulware, the able Baptist minister, has our thanks for a dollar on subscription Friday.

W. R. Richart, who is with the Mo. Pac. carpenter gang, renewed Saturday for the Republican, "since he could get none better." Thanks!

L. H. Jett and J. M. Harris were over from Miami Saturday and made us a pleasant visit. Mr. Jett gave us a dollar for the Republican another year. Both gentlemen are among Saline's best citizens and it's a pity they're not on the "same side of the fence" politically.

Geo. Buesse, one of our new citizens from Osage county now residing near Arrow Rock, was here with his family Monday and took the trouble of looking us up and ordering the Republican.

W. L. Slater, one of Slater's leading young Republicans, took in the fair Monday and as the street fair didn't want his dollar he brought it to the Republican office.

John S. Lynch, of Red Point, Okla., who is the guest of his brother, W. B., this week, gave us a dollar for a year's subscription Monday. Mr. Lynch moved from Marshall in 1872 and after a long residence at Sweet Springs, moved to Oklahoma a year ago. He likes his new home very much.

H. Henke, one of the Plains' enterprising farmers, decided to try the paper awhile longer and so handed us several dollars Monday for renewal while here.

J. M. Fulkerson, one of Saline's biggest farmers, was here from Mt. Leonard Monday trying to buy a farm. We could not accommodate him in this regard but sold him the paper another year—next best thing.

C. W. Bell, who recently sold his farm east of town and purchased another at Falls City, Neb., before leaving for his new home ordered the Republican Monday. We wish Mr. Bell much success and happiness in his new home.

Frank Kiso, of near Little Rock, was a Slater visitor

Tuesday and there fell victim to the editor's collecting habit and will read the old reliable another year.

Postmaster Barron was here from Nelson Tuesday and called in to hand us the name of Louis Speece as a new subscriber.

Wesley Grant, of near Slater, handed us his renewal for the Republican and Globe-Democrat Tuesday.

E. W. Fowler, of near Fairville, was a substantial caller at our office Wednesday morning while taking in the fair. He has been on the farm several years only but says it agrees with him.

Walter M. Carr, of Napton, was a new subscriber this week through the courtesy of Postmaster Shackelford.

C. W. Willig, of near Herndon, was taking in the fair Wednesday and handed us a dollar for renewal while here.

Geo. B. Fletcher and son, Joseph, were here from Ridge Prairie Wednesday attending the fair. Mr. Fletcher called in to order the Republican. He is one of Saline's prominent farmers and we had been expecting him a long time.

SLATER

Steve Magee's little girl, Merl, fell at school Monday and dislocated her wrist.

Harold Morris spent Sunday with home-folk at Nelson.

G. H. Flower, a brakeman, fell off his train at Mexico Tuesday and was brought in with a badly sprained foot.

Saturday was a big day with our merchants; H. B. Yates says he was unable to look after his crowd.

B. Butts, our night watchman, says the chicken-stealing article of several weeks ago did him an injustice. In the first place chicken stealing is a state's offense, and in the second place none of the parties who claimed to have caught the chicken thieves would swear to an information that would permit their arrest. We gladly make the explanation. Mr. Butts has always borne a splendid reputation as an officer and the city has greatly improved since he has been on police duty.

Wm. Reid was down from Excelsior Springs Tuesday.
