It is a fine body composed of the pick of our young people.

The graduating exercises and presentation of diplomas occurred last night, but as we go to press before the meeting is over we must defer the report till next week.

Mastodon Found

Frank Kettler returned from Glasgow Monday with a curiosity, which was a portion of the skeleton of an extinct animal known as the mastodon, which was much larger than any animal now inhabiting the earth. The portions of the skeleton he brought home were the ball of the hip joint which was about as large as a boys head, and a portion of an ivory tusk. The animal doubtless died many years ago as Mr. Kettler informs us that the tusks and skeleton fell to pieces when exposed to air, but the outlines of a complete skeleton could be seen as the earth was removed. George Vaughan, of Glasgow secured a portion of the jaw bone containing teeth six inches wide and a foot long. The skeleton was discovered near the old boat landing and large trees were growing over it.—Slater Rustler.

Birthday Anniversary

Mrs. Julia James, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Albert R. James in this city, was tendered a surprise by her children on the occasion of her 71st birthday anniversary last Friday, May 13th. She was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Potter, in the northern suburbs of Marshall, and there found her children and some friends assembled in her honor. They were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. James, Sedalia; Mrs. Wm Diggs and daughter Miss Nora Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davidson; Mr. Ian Morris, A. R. James and family Mr. and Mrs. Tasso Potter.

A big dinner was one of the pleasant features of the occasion. May the good lady live to enjoy many more happy returns of the day.

The Ball Games

The Kirksville Osteopaths played the M. V. C. boys on the campus Thursday and Friday. In Thursday's game our boys defeated the Osteopaths in a score of 10 to 7. In Friday's game the table was turned and the score was 5 to 12, in favor of the Kirksville boys. They are a fine lot of boys and we hope they will come again.

Resolutions of Respect

The following resolutions were passed by Sumner, Mo., Royal Neighbor Camp No. 474 in honor of Mrs. Nancy Diehl, well known in Marshall, who died at Sumner on March 4th, 1910:

Whereas, it has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to send His angel of death into our camp and sever one of the links of our fraternal chain, by taking our neighbor, Nancy Diehl, from our midst; and

Whereas, in the death of this esteemed member we are again reminded of the uncertainty of human life and the rapidity with which our lives are drawing to a close; therefore, be it

Resolved, that by her untimely death this camp has lost a tried and true member and that we, the members of Autumn Leaf Camp, No. 474, Royal Neighbors of America, extend our sincere sympathy to the bereaved husband, children and other relatives, of our departed neighbor in this their hour of great sorrow, and our earnest prayer goes up to our Heavenly Father whose gentle hand we pray will always remain with the bereaved family guiding them safely through the remainder of their lives. And be it further and also her chair, as receiver, and remain for a period of thirty days in token of our sorrow.

Confessed Murder

Frank Creasey, foreman of the bridge gang at work near Pilot Grove, yesterday made affidavit that Wm. Tilgers, one of his men voluntarily confessed to having killed the negroes, Sam Evans and Cecil Montgomery that were found dead Saturday morning. Tilgers and another man went to Pilot Grove Friday morning on the train and got on a drunk, the conductor would not let them go back on the afternoon train. They then hired the negroes to drive them out to camp. Tilgers said that he committed the crime alone.—Boonville Gazette.

Died at 104

Frederick Saugrain, the oldest resident of Sedalia, and the first white person born in St. Louis when that city was a village and a chief trading post in the territory owned by Spain and afterwards designated as the Louisiana Purchase, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Waddell, corner of Broadway and Harrison avenue, at 10.20 o'clock Sunday night, May 18, aged 104 years, 1 month and 14 days.

The immediate cause of the death of Mr. Saugrain was an attack of pneumonia and for two days preceding the final summons his death was expected at any moment, but the wonderful vitality of the centenarian prolonged his life beyond the expectations of his family physician.

A Pipe Dream

Marshall, Mo., May 8.—Willie Jones, 10 years old, probably is the youngest chauffeur in the State.

Recently Willie has ridden beside the driver of his father's large touring car and has frequently expressed a desire to run the machine. He had a well developed case of "automobilitis."

A few days ago the father was away from home, the driver was taking a vacation and the machine was in the shed.

When nobody was looking Willie got the big door open and tried to crank the thing, but failed. A large overgrown boy came along. He assisted, and soon was in the rear seat of the tonneau. Willie was at the wheels. Willie knew how to start it, and thought he knew how to manipulate the lever and foot arrangements.

The car shot out of the shed and into the main road. The machine was going smoothly and increasing in speed. For about a mile Willie had the right of way.

But at the corner of the land Willie lost his head. As a result the auto butted into a negro shanty across the street, carrying away the front porch and tearing out a window sash.

The inmates had visions of the "last day." The machine did not stop. It was only deflected.

Then it acquired a grudge against a blacksmith shop across the road. The blacksmith was shoeing a mule. Willie's auto made a bee line for the shop. The boys remained at their posts but the mule did not. He is still running. The machine pushed its nose through the opposite wall, carrying with it a part of the bellows. A team of horses broke loose from the hitching rack as it passed.

The runaway car was captured when it tried to climb a telephone pole. The boys walked home.—Slater Rustler.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative powers of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Liver Stomach or Kidney trouble and never disappoints. Only 50c at P. H. Franklins.

Too Many Families of Two

Is race suicide threatening Kansas City?

Here is one side of the question. In one apartment building on a fashionable boulevard in the city the census enumerator found fifty families and just exactly one hundred persons. There was not a child in the building.

The supervisor of census says these figures are correct, but he is not permitted to make known the name of the apartment building.

Now the other side. The same enumerator found in another house occupied by four families the heads of which were laborers, four pairs of twins besides many other children.—Kansas City Star.

It is a well established rule of economics that the young man who rises with the sun should not stay up later than 10 o'clock with the daughter.

The hausfrau has the shanty rug, from kitchen sink to parlor rug, for dad is coming home, of dust there is no sign or trace; and everything is in its place; contentment glows upon her face, for dad is coming home. She's worked all week from sun to sun; the hausfrau's work is never done—but dad is coming home; her hands are hard from doing things—the bread she bakes, the clothes she wrings!—but as she does her work she sings, for dad is coming home. She'll see him in a little while, and he'll reward her with a smile, for dad is coming home and all her weariness will fly, as evanescent as a sigh, before his loving gentle eye, for dad is coming home. The little kids can hardly wait! They are out there watching by the gate, for dad is coming home! And he will draw the youngsters near, and exercise each childish fear, and tell the yarns they like to hear—their dad is coming home. These humble homes where love abides, where Trouble takes its grip and hides, when dad is coming home! They are this nation's greatest prize; so let there still be joyous cries, and happy hearts and smiling eyes, when dad is coming home!—Walt Mason.

Not Sorry for Blunder

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, leg-gr-ppe, asthma, croup hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c $1.00 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by P. H. Franklin.

Braymer Comet: A baby boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wright who lived near Carthage has only one eye. The right eye appears to be normally developed but there is no sign of an eye on the left side. The child is apparently normal in most other respects and will probably live. Carthage physicians are much interested in the case as it is decidedly unusual.
