MARSHALL, SALINE COUNTY, MISSOURI, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1912.

NUMBER 47

DEATHS

LEE P. VILEY whose death we briefly mentioned last week, died at St. Mary's hospital in Kansas City Nov. 14th.

Mr. Viley was born in Georgetown, Ky. Feb. 8, 1857, came to Blackburn in 1886 and from there came to Marshall in 1889. They resided here till 1917, when they moved to Kansas City. Mr. Viley was a successful real estate man. While here he was first in partnership with N. B. Noble, then later with G. W. Newton and also by himself awhile. He was an active member of the Baptist church.

He is survived by the wife and four children—Dr. L. P. Viley, Warren and Miss Katherine of Kansas City, and Charles of Chicago.

The remains were brought to Marshall and funeral services held at the Baptist church at 2 p. m. conducted by Rev. Clarence Hodge, and the remains were laid to rest in Ridge Park cemetery with Masonic honors.

BEN P. HOWELL, whose death we briefly noted last week, died at his home near Arrow Rock, on Monday, Nov. 11th, at the age of 72 years. He had been ailing all summer from consumption of the bowels.

Mr. Howell is survived by a son and daughter—John Howell and Mrs. Earl Martin of Arrow Rock. He was a substantial citizen and well liked by a large circle of friends. His life work was completed and he was ready for the summons, knowing that life had not been spent in vain.

At Rest

Benjamin P. Howell passed away at his home near Hardeman, Nov. 11th after a lingering illness of tuberculosis.

Deceased was born in St. Charles county Mo., on Sept. 3d 1840, moving to this county with his parents when he was a young man. In 1881 he was united in marriage to Miss Cora Moore of St. Charles who preceded him to the grave last January. To this union were born four children, two dying several years ago. The others, John who is residing at home and Mrs. Nora Martin of Arrow Rock.

Mr. Howell was truly a good man he was in every sense a devoted husband and father and was loyal to his friends and fellow citizens. Having never professed his faith in Christ and we are not here to judge but we firmly believe he is with his father and loved ones gone before.

Funeral services were conducted at Concord the following day by Rev. C. Q. Shouse of Nelson after which his remains were laid to rest beside those of his wife in Concord cemetery. We extend our deepest sympathy to his many friends and kindred and especially to the brother A. W. Howell. To the children we know not to say to comfort them. Their sorrow is double having just given up both father and mother, but dear ones raise your drooping heads and let us live so as to meet our dear ones where there is no separation.

A Friend.

Murder and Suicide

Alice Haggins, col. of West Morgan, received the sad news yesterday that her sister, Mrs. Jennie Wilson, had been killed by her husband, who then committed suicide. The shooting occurred at their home in Chicago, but so far no particulars have been received. A brother-in-law went up at once from Jefferson City to take charge of the remains, which will probably be brought back to Marshall for burial. Mrs. Wilson was formerly Jennie Haggins of this city and was a fine appearing colored woman, so light that she was barely recognized as colored, and a good dresser. She left here with her husband five or six years ago and it seems they did not get along very well.

They were both here on a visit several months ago. She has many relatives around Marshall. E. J. Haggins, brother at the court house is a brother-in-law.

Saline County Home

On invitation of Superintendent W. N. Wilson a "bunch" of editors visited the Saline County Home Tuesday and made it a point to be there at noon time. On Mr. Wilson's part the idea was to acquaint the people with the home. The editors had several motives in accepting—some needed a good dinner at once and others wanted to get familiar with their future home.

The editors all found what they were looking for—Editor Francis, of Slater, said everything looked "Progressive" around the place; Editors Miller and Preston disagreed somewhat—Preston thought it would be nice to sit in a soft chair on the south porch, while Miller thought it would be more fun to gather peanuts from the tall timbers. Editor Newton took a fit over the fine lot of "Holstein" chickens; Bob Dunn hadn't had such a dinner for a long time, so tackled it like a man but forgot about the second and third course, and he missed the best part of it. He said he had to forego the pleasure as he couldn't risk not issuing the Progress this week. He asked Mrs. Wilson to send him in the last courses for supper, so probably he has been feasting since.

But our readers are not interested in editors or their prospects for the "poor farm," so we will try to give a little about the home.

W. N. Wilson succeeded Conrad Oser as superintendent six years ago. He had considerable opposition and many said he would not succeed, but he has made good. He took his visitors over the place and showed the splendid improvements made during his regime.

The farm has 260 acres of good land, but it is considerably broken and some is badly washed. He has been improving the overworked fields by resting and fertilizing and is getting the farm in good shape.

In March, 1909, the new home was completed. It has 42 single rooms and four large rooms, and has a capacity of 60 inmates. At present there are 36 inmates—five white and three colored women; 22 white and six colored men. The building cost $15,000 and $21,000 has been paid. The last bonds will be paid in 1914. It is steam heated, but lighted with coal oil lamps, which are dangerous and unsatisfactory. It requires about four cars of oil during each winter. The inmates have very warm comfortable rooms. The home has the only steam laundry in a county farm in the state. Supt. Wilson's salary is $850. He resides in the residence across the street with his wife and two daughters.

There is considerable work about the place, so three or four employees are necessary, as none of the inmates at present are able to assist. They are either mentally or physically disabled.

At present Mr. Wilson is assisted by G. T. Harris, cook and assistant; T. P. Henry, attendant; and J. M. Hinton on the farm. Mr. Wilson says he is badly in need of a woman nurse at present.

Some of the inmates are in a miserable condition and require much attention. The furnace must be watched, rooms kept in order, meals cooked and the big farm looked after. It costs about $300 to maintain the home over what is raised on the farm. Mr. Wilson turns all he sells into the county treasury from which also all bills are paid, subject to the county court. Surplus sold last year was $1200, this year about $100. Hog cholera did a great deal of damage to the hogs the past year and compels the home to buy meat although this is done sparingly as meat is served only once a day.

We can say for Mrs. Wilson that she is a most excellent cook and all the editors agreed that the dinner and hospitality was the best on earth.

Public Sale

P. H. Hay will sell at public auction his entire personal property consisting of horses, mules, cattle, hogs, household and kitchen furniture and farming implement, at his farm six miles southwest of Marshall and 1 1/2 miles west of Mt. Olive church on Tuesday, December 11th, 1912.

Doing a Good Work

R. T. Milnes of Kansas City was here this week in the interest of the Children's Home Society of Missouri. He told Sunday of one family from here which they had provided for. The Robb family lived on Eastwood near the East school building in 1899. The mother had just died and left three children in poverty. Ivy, aged 12, was blind and they sent her to the Missouri School for the Blind, where she is doing nicely; Virgil, 10, and Florence, 4 were adopted by a nice family. The boy is inclined to be a little wild but the girl is a most excellent young lady. The Society's plan is to find homes for orphan children. Their motto is an excellent one, "No child without a home, no home without a child."

One of the things which works against an enterprise of this kind is the indiscriminate giving of our people and the fact that they are at sea as to the reliability of the different causes to which they donate, making it hard for the worthy enterprises and missions.

Mr. Milnes showed us a long list of Saline county children cared for but desired that the names be not published, out of regard for the relationship.

Church Notes

The series of home missions meetings held in our churches this week have been well attended and very interesting.

The First Presbyterian church will have a congregational meeting next Sunday to elect three elders.

Geo. H. Althouse, Henry Shirk, Mesdames E. H. Mitchell and Emma Olson attended the Sunday school convention in Kansas City this week.

Remember the union Thanksgiving service at the Baptist church next Thursday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. R. C. McArdie, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will preach the sermon.

Mesdames E. E. Elsea and J. J. Witt and Misses Tillie Pink and May Brandon spent Wednesday at the elegant home of Mrs. Ed Shannon, where an all day missionary meeting was held by the ladies of Memorial church.

The Ellen Bowen Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church held its annual praise meeting Thursday afternoon, at the manse, with Mrs. S. W. Armentrout. A short program with light refreshments made the afternoon a delightful one, and the generous praise offerings made it a profitable one.

The woman's missionary society of the Christian church held their annual praise meeting at the home of Mrs. P. H. Rea, Tuesday afternoon. One of the special pleasures was the talk by Charles Benish, a missionary from Domah, India, under the support of the Marshall Christian church. A social hour and delicious luncheon followed the program. There were about seventy ladies present.

A good many Saline county people went to Forest Green last Sunday to attend the dedication of the new Evangelical Lutheran church. Some attended from Sweet Springs, but most of them were from the eastern part of the county. Among them were Rev. R. Klintworth, Fred Dotmer, Mrs. Mary Maschmeier, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bender, Albert Borgman, Fritz Teckmeyer, Mrs. John Kessler and daughter, Miss Nora and Miss Frieda Klintworth, A. C. Poister and family, Miss Anna Kruger, Miss Lydia Bilars and others.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Will Keith are the proud parents of a twelve pound boy who arrived Nov. 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy of near Shickoford, announce the arrival of a fine boy on Friday, Nov. 21st. Mother and child doing nicely.

Owing to the excitement of the election, we overlooked the arrival of a daughter in Marshall on Nov. 15th. She arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts, in north town, and husband and mother are doing well. They have

Another Fire

About ten o'clock Monday night fire was discovered on the second floor of the Broken Dollar store, which was used as a stock room. The prompt arrival of the fire department enabled the boys to put fire out before gaining much headway. The building is owned by Robt. Campbell, Sr., and is but slightly damaged. Mr. Grimes thinks his loss will be about a thousand dollars. It also seriously interferes with his holiday business.

Accidents

Nim N. Nooe got his hand into some machinery at the City Meat Market Saturday and had the first joint of the middle finger on the left hand mashed off. He said he had a narrow escape from having his hand drawn in and crushed. He will have to lay off a few weeks.

Frank Rose, brother of Jett and Geo. Rose of this city had a leg broken Saturday at Sweet Springs.

He was attempting to board a train for Sedalia when his foot slipped and the moving train struck him and broke the leg. He went up to Sedalia and had his injuries attended to there.

E. G. Guthrey, Jr., of Malta Bend fell Monday morning at his home and had his right arm dislocated. Dr. Alken was called and attended him. It was necessary to put him under the influence of chloroform.

John H. Bellow, wife and daughter of Malta Bend, passed through town Monday on their way to Sedalia.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM Baking Powder

Purity in food, lower cost of living—these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods—biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry, when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such food should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

But bear in mind that alum, or unwholesome baking powder, can never make pure, wholesome food.

Bernard-Redman

Miss Ida Redman, one of Marshall's most lovable and interesting young ladies, was married to Mr. Ernest Bernard of Liberty, Tuesday evening, Nov. 12 at 7 p. m. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, J. T. Redman and wife, 439 East Yerby. Rev. A. R. Faris, the officiating minister.

The ceremony took place in the drawing room under an arch artistically arranged with lilies of the valley, simlax and roses, with the wedding bell exquisitely fashioned of brides roses and orchids. Miss Iva Hahn presided at the piano and played Lohengrin's wedding march, as the bridal party entered the ceremony room. Shubert's serenade during the ceremony and Mendelssohn's after the nuptial service. She was accompanied by Miss Mariah Hyatt, one of Marshall's gifted young violinists.

The little ribbon bearers, Virgil Nichols and Mary Dawes in fairy like French dresses of lace with pink ribbons in their hair, came first followed by the maid of honor Miss Corinne Loper of Blackburn, a cousin of the bride, then Mr. and Mrs. John Landruth of Chicago. The latter who is a sister of the bride was matron of honor and Mr. Landruth was best man. They were closely followed by the bride and groom. The ceremony mingled with the soft tones of piano and violin, was said in Mr. Faris usual impressive manner, and the picture presented as the group stood under the archway and bell was beautiful.

An interesting feature of the service was that Mr. Faris had officiated at the baptism of the bride.

Her gown was ideal, a white charmeuse satin trimmed with real point lace, the veil of tulle caught with lilies of the valley felt the full length of the full court train and she carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and orchids.

Miss Loper wore pink charmeuse satin trimmed in rose point lace and carried Killarney roses.

Mrs. Landruth wore an exquisite crystal robe over pink satin and also carried pink Killarney roses.

Immediately after congratulation had been extended the brides cake resting upon the table surrounded by crystal candelabra and Dresden baskets of lilies of the valley, was cut, Miss Loper, maid of honor presiding. Miss Neely Long got the ring and Newton Redman, a cousin of the bride, the dime. The dancing needle disappeared as usual and was later found upon the floor. Cutting the wedding cake is always the source of much pleasure and affords lots of fun for the young people assembled.

cake and mints, all representing the wedding colors, were served in the dining room, which was beautiful in pink Killarney and brides maid roses. Upon the table was a luncheon cloth, on which rested a large basket of roses.

The presents displayed in an upper room were many of them elegant and there were a large number of them.

The guests were admitted at the door by a colored maid and were received in the reception hall by Mr. and Mrs. Redman, Mrs. D. F. Bell and Mrs. Eugene Dawes. The latter wore a pale yellow charmeuse satin, and Mrs. Bell's gown was a grey embroidered chiffon over satin. Mrs. Redman wore a gown of white lace and embroidery.

In the dining room Miss Ruth Rose and Miss Eugenie Fleming assisted in attentions to the guests and Miss Cecil Grey received the ladies up stairs. Miss Pearl Landruth of Joplin and Miss Elva Coleman presided over the bride's table.

As we have said the bride, who has been reared in Marshall is one of our sweetest and most admirable girls, with all the graces of character that will fit her well for the new relation in life upon which she has entered. The only regret of her hosts of friends is that she is to leave us.

Mr. Bernard is a young business man of great worth and is connected with the postal service of Kansas City, but he and his bride will make their home at Liberty for the present, after their wedding trip, which will include a visit to relatives at Louisville, Ky. They left Tuesday night on the Hummer and the brides going away gown was a night blue cheviot tailor made with hat and gloves to match.

The out of town guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Loper and daughter, Miss Corinne, of Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. Wall of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. John Landruth of Chicago, Miss Pearl Landruth of Joplin, Mr. Johnson, Kansas City, Mrs. Bernard of Liberty, mother of groom.

The bride and groom received a great many telegrams and letters of congratulations. A Guest.
