TIGERS ROUNDING INTO GOOD FORM

Best Practice This Year Seen on Rollins Field Last Night.

LINE WEAK IN OFFENSIVE PLAY

Graves' Hand Improves and Driver and Ristine Are Playing.

The practice last night was about the best seen here this year. Driver and Ristine were out and took their regular position on the team. Graves would have been out also had he been able to find his suit. His hand is nearly healed and he will be out tonight.

Coach Monilaw is not sure he will use Graves in the Ames game as he does not want to run the risk of having his hand hurt again, which would probably keep him out of the Drake and Washington games. Driver's ankle is in good condition now, but Ristine's still bothers him.

Lighter Work After Tonight.

The line is weak on offense, and particular attention will be paid to it during the rest of the week. The team has been doing hard work this week and the men are beginning to feel the effect of it. After tonight Coach Monilaw will ease up on the work.

The Ames team will arrive here Friday at 4 p. m. It is not likely that they will bring any "rooters." The game will be called at 2:30 and the price of admission will be 75 cents.

"ALL-AMERICA" CLASS TEAM

Senior vs. Junior	Oct. 30
Junior vs. Freshman	Nov. 3

The results of the games already played are:

SOPHOMORES EASILY DEFEAT

JUNIOR TEAM, SCORE 25 TO 0

The Sophomores defeated the Juniors last night by a score of 25 to 0. The field was wet and slippery, preventing any first-class football. Ridgeway and Bohner did star work for the Juniors and Shuck and Claire for the Sophomores, the latter pair making three and two touchdowns respectively.

The scoring was made on straight football. The field was too slippery to permit use of the forward pass and the teams confined themselves to running the ends and bucking the line.

RULER OF TIBET

WON'T BE COACHED

Delai Lama is Sulky And Can't See Chinese Emperor.

PEKING, Oct. 2.—The scene of the China-Tibet comedy has been transferred from the provinces to Peking. The latest act is the cancellation of the proposed audience of the Delai Lama of Tibet with the Emperor of China. This was to have occurred today, and elaborate preparations for it had been made. The Delai Lama had been brought to the capital for the meeting, but he finally resisted the coaching of the Chinese officials in the ceremony that China wished at the audience, and his attitude made a meeting impossible.

Instead of conferring with the Emperor the Dalai Lama has been engaged in granting audiences to the diplomatic representatives in Peking, and he is described by those who have seen him as lacking in intelligence and character.

There is no love between the city officials and the followers of the ruler of Tibet. The chief priest of the Dalai Lama is often in conflict with the officials.

JAYHAWKER TEAM IN FINE CONDITION

That Was Demonstrated in Game With Washington Last Saturday.

K. U. STUDENTS ARE HOPEFUL

Coaches Are Highly Pleased at Showing of Men on Muddy Field.

The 10 to 0 defeat of the Washington University eleven by Kansas Saturday demonstrated one thing above all others—the Jayhawkers are in excellent physical condition, says the Kansas City Star. And for that reason, if no other, the followers of the Lawrence team have reason to rejoice. Never was a game of football played under conditions more adverse.

The gridiron was deep in mud and snow and water, and the battle of twenty-five minutes was waged in a driving snow storm. But the men of Kennedy and Mosse never flinched. They went into the grimy struggle with a dash and a gingery speed that was quite surprising. Each player was coated with sticky soil after the first scrimmage, and before ten minutes of the game had been played the gridironers were soaked and chilled. But they waded through the eleven from St. Louis and they waded through with a peppery play that was as good to see, as it was unexpected.

Cayou's Men Helpless.

The men of Cayou were utterly unable to hold the Jayhawkers, and only the condition of the field curtailed the score. On the other hand the Washington eleven was unable to gain the required ten yards in three downs during the twenty-five minutes' play. Johnson's work at quarter was a pleasing feature, as was the play of Right Half-back Bond. This pair played together like Elgin clockwork.

When the first half closed the Washington players were exhausted, and their Indian coach, Cayou, petitioned the referee to call off the game. Masker was only too glad to check up the second half, so with the consent of the Kansas management the game was called. But the Kansas team was in excellent condition, considering the grill it had been through, and the coaches were greatly pleased at the excellent showing and the fine physical condition of their gladiators.

SHE MUST SETTLE EARL'S WINE BILL

Countess of Rosslyn is Ordered to Pay Her Husband's Debt.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Countess of Rosslyn, formerly the American actress Anna Robinson, has been ordered to pay $560 balance on a bill for thirty-two cases of wine sent to Thurso castle, in Scotland, soon after her marriage to the Earl of Rosslyn in 1905. Her plea was that she was not responsible for the wines ordered by her husband, but the wine agents established the claim by showing that she ratified the order.

The evidence was to the effect that the countess did not herself select the wine. The agent went to luncheon with her and the earl at the Carlton hotel by appointment, and after luncheon the countess went away in a motor car, saying she had other things to do, and "Harry," meaning Lord Rosslyn, would come around and order the wines.

She Was Much Upset.

Later she told the wine agent she had had to pay several sums on behalf of her husband, including gambling debts, and she was much upset by the question as to whether she was responsible for his debts.

The Earl of Rosslyn, called as a witness, said he selected the wine. When it arrived at Thurso castle his wife playfully, but unkindly said: "See it is addressed to me. Your credit isn't good enough."

In cross examination Rosslyn admitted he had been served since his divorce and remarriage with wives for large sums of money his wife had lent him. His wife furnished him $5,000 or more to entertain at Thurso castle. The countess was wearing costly furs when she entered the witness box.

Settled Sums on Husband.

"When I was married," she said languidly, "I settled a generous sum of

I am going to give to each man on the football team, if they beat Ames next Saturday.

CHINA PREPARES TO WELCOME FLEET

Dwarf Trees 300 Years Old Are Sent From Canton to Amoy.

AMOI, Southern China, Oct. 28.—Shiploads of potted plants have been brought here from Canton to be used in decorating the city in honor of the American fleet, one division of which is due here next Friday. Among these plants are a valuable lot of dwarf trees more than 300 years old. A fleet of river boats will bring the living bamboo, to be renewed daily, from the North River.

Lofty arches, to be illuminated with red, white and yellow and blue electric lights, have been erected on the road and at the entrance to the reception grounds.

The Namporto Temple, located near the grounds, which is 700 years old, will be thrown open to the country's guests. A corps of 120 especially trained interpreters will explain the history and legends of all the interesting objects.

All classes regard the visit of the money on my husband and often paid other sums for him."

It was not true, she said, that she made the remark attributed to her by Lord Rosslyn when the wine arrived at Thurso. She merely said: "I don't think it nice to have boxes of wine all sent in my name."

When called the earl merely affirmed in Scotch style, while the countess dramatically swore to tell the truth and nothing but the truth.

The Earl of Rosslyn's most widely known achievement was the discovery of a "system" for winning at roulette. He wagered with Sir Hiram Maxim that he could win with his plan. With a $50,000 roll of stage money he "bucked the game" and after playing 3,382 times his last chip was gone.

The Countess of Rosslyn is the daughter of George Robinson of Milwaukee. She was an actress and the Earl of Rosslyn met her while she was playing in a London theater. He married her in 1905.

Fleet Leaves Tokio.

TOKIO, Japan, Oct. 28.—The departure of the fleet was one of the prettiest features of the week. The flagship Connecticut slipped her cable at 8 o'clock. She steamed past the Louisiana and saluted and was followed by the remainder of the first division. When the eight ships had passed, the Louisiana led the second line and the whole fleet then formed in single column.

As each of the battleships passed the head of the Japanese column the crews of both nations cheered heartily, and the band on the American ship played the Japanese national hymn.

When the last of the sixteen ships was saluting the Connecticut had passed out of sight. The entire manoeuvre was finished in precisely fifty minutes.

President Roosevelt's message to the Emperor was presented through Count Komura, the Foreign Minister, and the Emperor probably will make a reply tomorrow.

All the members of the United States Commission to the Tokio Exposition will be decorated by the Emperor. Francis B. Loomis, Frederick J. V. Skiff and Francis D. Millet receiving one of the higher class orders, and John C. O'Laughlin and W. A. Newcomb receiving a lower class.
