

COWHERD EXPECTS TO TRIM "JAYHAWK"

Candidate Says Bird Will Be Badly Ruffled by Thanksgiving Day.

PLEDGES AID TO UNIVERSITY

Democratic Nominee Speaks to Big Crowd in the Columbia Theater.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM APPROVED BY COWHERD

At the close of his speech last night W. S. Cowherd was asked by a reporter for the University Missourian to give his opinion of the teaching of journalism. His reply was: "I think both the theory and practice of journalism can be taught, just as law or medicine or any of the professions is taught. I believe it is a good thing that the University has taken up the work of teaching journalism, for it will raise the profession to a higher level. The School of Journalism cannot help but be a success."

W. S. Cowherd, Democratic candidate for governor, declared in an address at the Columbia Theater last night that the Kansas bird, the "Jayhawk," would get his feathers so ruffled on election day, next Tuesday, that he would be totally unable to cope with the Missouri Tiger on Thanksgiving Day. The sentiment was heartily applauded by the crowd, including many students of the University, which packed the theater.

The Democratic candidate was scheduled to speak at 8 o'clock, but his train on the Wabash did not arrive till 9:15. The crowd was entertained in the meantime by the University cadet band and speeches by Morton H. Pemberton, Boone county's representative in the State Legislature, Judge N. M. Bradley and W. F. Woodruff, a Senior Law student.

E. W. Stephens, chairman. The band met the candidate's party at the station and marched to the theater. From boxes to balcony the house was filled and many were turned away at the doors. Mr. Cowherd was introduced by E. W. Stephens, chairman of the meeting, an alumnus of the University and "the next governor of Missouri."

The audience stood as the band played "Old Missouri." Nine lusty yells from the students greeted Mr. Cowherd as he arose to speak. For an hour Mr. Cowherd discussed the issue of the State and National campaigns. He declared that the primary elections frauds in St. Louis, committed without his knowledge, were equally divided in favor of him and of his opponent, David A. Ball.

He attacked the official record of Attorney-General Hadley, saying that Mr. Hadley was derelict in his duty when he failed to bring suit for the forfeiture of the Anheuser-Busch Association's charter after it had been shown by a Senate investigating committee that the brewing company, in violation of the state statutes, had contributed to the Republican campaign fund in 1904.

Mr. Cowherd referred to his days as a student here and pledged himself to do all in his power, if elected, for the advancement of the University of Missouri. He was frequently cheered during his speech. Following him, W. R. Painter, candidate for lieutenant-governor, spoke briefly, pledging himself to work for the interests of the University. Mr. Painter is a graduate of the School of Mines at Rolla. Mr. Cowherd was graduated here with the degree of A. B. in the class of 1881.

After the speech-making the party were entertained at lunch at the Elks' Club. They departed last night for St. Louis, where Mr. Cowherd speaks at the Odeon today.

DAVID A. BALL ARGUES FOR OPENING BALLOT BOXES

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 30.—David A. Ball, defeated candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, today argued before the Supreme Court in favor of opening the ballot boxes to investigate the charges of fraud in the election.

Mr. Ball argued that the refusal puts a premium on fraud. Civil action, he stated, cannot reach criminals. The question of the secrecy of the ballot, he said, was only a subterfuge to protect election thieves.

MUST BLOCK AMES' FORWARD PASSES

Unless Missouri Can Do This, Team Will Meet Defeat.

TIGERS WILL BUCK THAT LINE

Place Kicks Will Be Used If No Wind is Blowing.

Coach Monilaw said this morning that whether Missouri wins tomorrow depends entirely upon the team's stopping Ames' forward passes, and keeping them from blocking place kicks.

"Bluck's kicking leg is in fine condition," Dr. Monilaw said, "and unless there is a strong wind he will probably kick a few field goals. The men are not overconfident and they are going into the game expecting the hardest fight of the year.

"Graves will not be in the game on account of his sore hand, and so we will not be able to do anything with the forward pass, as we depend on him for that. Our game will be line bucking and kicking if the weather is good. If the field is wet or a strong wind is blowing we will confine ourselves to straight football."

Past Practice. The practice last night was good. It consisted of place-kicking, punting, handling punts, and some good stiff line work. In addition to this the whole team was put through signal practice and formation drill.

The team had another workout in the gymnasium last night from 7 until 8 o'clock, when Coach Monilaw put it through signal practice. The quarters received special attention and did not get through until 10 o'clock.

Driver and Ristine will be in the game, although their ankles still bother them. Neither is able to run at full speed, and this will weaken the team. Tomorrow's game will be the first big game of the year for Miller, and it is felt that with him the team will be greatly strengthened.

AMES' PLAYERS CAN'T BLAME WEATHER IF TIGERS ARE VICTORS

Good Football Weather, Fair and Cool, Is Promised in Forecast for Tomorrow.

Good football weather is promised for tomorrow by the Weather Man. Anyway, the "Cyclones," if they are beaten, can't blame the heat.

The official forecast: "Fair and continued cool tonight and tomorrow." The temperature was 33 degrees at 7 a. m. and 51 at 2 p. m.

COLLEGE BOYS' FUNDS TIED UP BY FAILURE

Wesleyan Students Inconvenienced by Closing of Trust Company.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Oct. 30.—The atmosphere—has it any food value? This question is being seriously discussed by several hundred students of Wesleyan University, whose board money has been suddenly tied up by the suspension of the Columbia Trust Company of this city. There are loud cries for Prof. Atwater, who some time ago reported his observations on the nutritive value of whisky.

The members of the university football team, whose funds were in the trust company, are wondering if they will have to walk to Springfield Saturday, where they are scheduled to play. "Bozey" Reiter, the former Princeton player, now Wesleyan's director of athletics, is among those "tied up."

BOONE COUNTY ELECTION RETURNS IN AUDITORIUM

Through the courtesy of the Columbia Telephone Company, the University Missourian will be enabled to give bulletins Tuesday night on the precinct vote in Boone county, in addition to the regular news service of the United Press covering the nation.

The telephone company will compile the Boone county vote at its offices and will send the results immediately to the University Missourian. The complete county vote, it is expected, will be in by 11 p. m.

The University Missourian will flash election bulletins on a canvas in the University auditorium. Everyone is invited to be the guest of the paper election night.

ST. LOUIS SPENDS $50,000 A MONTH FOR OLEOMARGARINE COLORED LIKE BUTTER

Wily Dealers Advertise It As "Fresh Creamery" and "Extra Elgin."

HAYSEED MAY ADORN YOUR "JAM"

Pure Food Commission Finds Many Adulterations in Market Products.

St. Louis spends $50,000 a month for oleomargarine sold as butter, according to M. H. Lamb, acting Pure Food Commissioner for Missouri. In a statement to a reporter for the University Missourian, Commissioner Lamb says careful investigation shows that no butter is sold at the Union Market in St. Louis, but that the "Fresh Creamery," "Extra Elgin" and "Fresh Creamery" so conspicuously displayed in the booths there are in fact specimens colored oleomargarine.

In Columbia oleomargarine sells at twenty cents a pound. It is said none is sold here as butter.

In no other Missouri city, Mr. Lamb says, is oleomargarine sold under false pretenses so extensively as in St. Louis. Here is his advice to the housewife as to how to detect the fraud.

How to Detect Oleo.

"Heat the suspected butter to the boiling point in a spoon.

"If the fat melts down clear, and sputters and snaps, it is oleomargarine. "If it froths up, it is butter."

"The oleomargarine will, when heated, give off a tallowy odor. Butter will give off the odor distinctive to it."

The wily oleo dealer in St. Louis evades the law, Commissioner Lamb says, by rigidly refraining from the use of the word "butter" on the signs advertising his "extra Elgin." On the paper wrapped about it, he says, the word "Oleomargarine" is usually printed in ink so nearly the color of the paper that it escapes any but the closest scrutiny.

Fat Profit for Dealer.

By this means, the dealer gets about 10 cents a pound more for oleo. Commissioner Lamb says, than if it were sold under its rightful name. But the product he sells is somewhat cheaper than butter, and tempts the unwary purchaser as a "bargain."

This oleo is worked over, according to Commissioner Lamb, in dark stables and dirty cellars, and he maintains that, aside from the deception practiced, it is sometimes unhealthful.

Under the new pure food law, which has been effective since June 14, 1907, Commissioner Lamb and the other men associated with him on the Pure Food Commission have prosecuted many oleo dealers, some with success.

Deception is Illegal.

"Oleomargarine when properly prepared is not necessarily an unhealthful food," Commissioner Lamb said. "But it should be sold much cheaper than butter, and should be sold as oleo. When it is not sold under its own name, the person selling it violates the law. We are watching the situation in St. Louis, and hope to break up the 'monopoly' there. In Kansas City very little oleomargarine is sold as butter, and in Joplin, St. Joseph, and the other cities of the State, even less."

In order to cover the ground the State was divided into four nearly equal parts by the Pure Food Commissioner under R. M. Washburn, Mr. Lamb's predecessor, and one Inspector assigned to each part, to collect foods from the larger towns in his territory.

Educating the Public.

Two inspectors have been kept on the road nearly all the time, inspecting city milk supplies and giving advice regarding city milk ordinances. Although strong opposition was encountered in much of this work, a great deal of good was accomplished in the way of creating public sentiment against unclean, preserved and adulterated milk, cream and ice-cream.

The matter of tuberculosis in dairy cows received some attention in co-operation with the State Board of Health and the State Veterinarian.

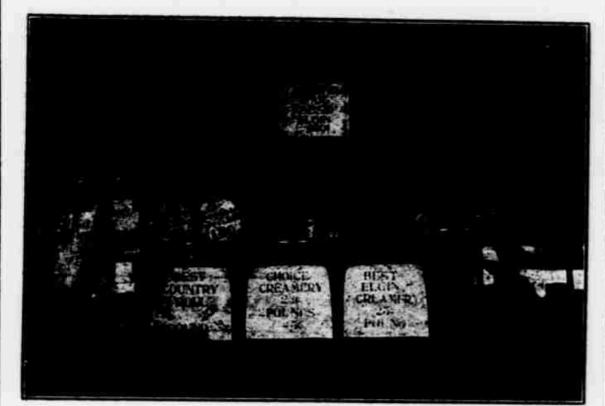

The milk inspection of the State shows this result: Of 207 samples of milk collected and analyzed, 62 per cent met the state's requirements of 3.25 per cent or more of butter-fat; 20 per cent of these 207 samples were dirty, and 9.5 per cent were preserved. These samples were largely from the retail trade of market milk.

How "Jam" Is Made.

The laboratory work of the Department shows that of 807 samples analyzed 353 were illegal. This includes the

TIES BETWEEN U. S. AND JAPAN FIRMER

"Heaven Helped Us to Join Hands," Says Admiral Takahira.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—"I suppose heaven helped us to join our hands firmly," said Japanese Ambassador Kogoro Takahira yesterday, with emotion, as he discussed the visit of the American battleship fleet to Japan which has just come to an end. Ambassador Takahira had a short while before returned from the White House, where he was the guest of President Roosevelt at luncheon, and he had delivered a message of thanks to the President from the Japanese emperor, replying to that which the President sent as the fleet departed.

Speaking of the fleet's visit, Ambassador Takahira said: "The people of Japan are greatly gratified with the visit of the American fleet, for which they had been looking forward with the greatest pleasure, in order to prove the sincerity of feeling entertained toward America and Americans. In respect to the details of the visit the American people are already fully informed. I am now satisfied to hear from Japan directly that heaven and the weather helped us to do all that we wanted."

STUDENTS MEET TONIGHT

Lungs Will Be Tested for Big Game Tomorrow.

A mass meeting of the students of the University of Missouri will be held in the auditorium at 7 o'clock tonight, to get lungs in trim for "rooting" at the football game with Ames tomorrow.

Coach Monilaw will make a speech and the Ames team will be present. Raymond Lee is chairman of the student mass meeting.

The meeting will not conflict with the first number of the Y. M. C. A. lecture course, a program by the International Symphony Club, which begins at 8:30.

TAFT A SIX-TO-ONE BET

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Much talk and little betting is being done on the political situation throughout the country. According to dispatches received here Taft is a six to one favorite. It is reported that one bet of $30,000 has been made at this figure.

In the state fight the odds have shifted from Chanler to Hughes at ten to eight, and few bets at this figure are offered without takers.

Other "Books."

By United Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Many bets under $100 are being made at odds favoring Taft.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 30.—The odds here are three to one that Bryan will carry Kentucky with no takers.

Clay to Return Home.

A. J. Clay, bank president of Des Moines, Mo., whose disappearance from home last Monday excited comment and who has been in Columbia visiting his sister, said today that he expects to return home next week. Mr. Clay said he took no money whatever from the bank on his departure.

MRS. MILLER MAY HEAD CLUBWOMEN

Columbia Woman Mentioned for Presidency, if She'd Accept.

By United Press.

Mrs. C. W. Greene and Miss Edna D. Day, of Columbia will attend the meeting of the State Board of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs in Chillicothe next week. Press dispatches say Chillicothe is making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the delegates.

Mrs. Walter McNabb Miller, wife of a member of the faculty of the Department of Medicine, who is one of the prominent clubwomen in Missouri, has been repeatedly mentioned for the presidency of the Missouri federation, but doubt is expressed as to whether she would accept the office. She will not attend the meeting in Chillicothe. In regard to her, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat said yesterday:

"Mrs. Miller has made a splendid record as chairman of the General Federation Committee on Pure Food. Mrs. Miller has traveled all over the country and has visited Europe in the interests of her work on the committee, and if she could be induced to accept the state presidency, would no doubt make a record administration."

GEORGIA SHERIFF KILLED

Wounded, He Slays Assailants He Had Tried to Arrest.

By United Press. LAFAYETTE, Ga., Oct. 30.—Sheriff John Carlock was fatally wounded, and John and Charles Henderson were killed in a revolver fight here today.

The Hendersons resisted arrest and shot Carlock. The sheriff, although dying, returned fire and killed both men.

Improving Club Dance Hall.

The Casino dance hall of the University Dining Club in Lathrop Hall is being enlarged and remodelled. The partitions are being torn out and a ladies' dressing room built. The hall is also being repainted. The members of the club who dance will be assessed a small amount to pay for the improvements.

Diaz Wants Another Term.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—President Diaz is preparing an open letter regarding his rumored retirement at the close of his present term, in 1910, in which he will say that the reports are premature and unfounded, that the statement attributed to him was merely an expression of a personal desire. He intimates that he will again be a candidate.

HALLOWEEN TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow night is Halloween, the night of pranks, especially dear to the hearts of students.

Property owners will arise Sunday for a cautious survey of the premises, to see whether all the gates and fences are in place. The University of Missouri campus will be eagerly scanned for evidences of class spirit in the student pranks.

The outcome of the Missouri-Ames game probably will have much to do with the character and hilarity of the celebrations.

NO MISSOURI FLAG; D. A. R. PLANS ONE

Mrs. Walker of Kansas City Chairman of Committee to Choose Colors.

SEAL ISN'T LEGAL, EITHER

Should the Bear Be White or a Grizzly?—That's the Question.

It remained for the Kansas City chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to discover that the state of Missouri not only has no flag, but has no legal colors for a flag and no seal.

All the other states in the Union, even Oklahoma, the youngest, have flags and legal colors, and the D. A. R. will attempt to get the state legislature to adopt them for Missouri.

Missouri's deficiency was discovered by Mrs. Alice Ewing Walker of Kansas City who, a year ago, was appointed chairman of a committee to have a Missouri flag put in Continental Hall in Washington. In her research among the records of the Legislature, Mrs. Walker found that Missouri had never adopted a flag. She also found that no two authorities agree on the Missouri seal. Some books say the bears on the seal are white, and others that they are grizzly. The records of the Legislature say, "white or grizzly."

U. of M. Colors Suggested.

Mrs. Walker brought these facts to the attention of the Missouri D. A. R. at its recent conference in Columbia, and asked that some action be taken. It was proposed that it be suggested to the Legislature that the University of Missouri colors, old gold and black, be adopted as State colors, but this plan did not meet with approval. It was finally decided to appoint a committee to investigate the matter and see what could be done. Those appointed were: Chairman, Mrs. Alice Ewing Walker, Kansas City; Mrs. B. T. Whipple, Kansas City; Mrs. T. O. Tolls, Jefferson City; and Mrs. R. B. Oliver, Cape Girardeau.

The committee is now at work. When Mrs. Walker was asked here whether she thought the plan would succeed, she said:

Anticipates Success.

"There are some men in the Legislature who do not want to be bothered with what they consider such trivial matters, but there are others who realize their importance, and we hope to interest these and obtain their help. With their aid there is no doubt in my mind but what our plan will succeed.

"I think Missouri is the leader of all other states, and there is no reason why she should be behind them in having her colors and flag. If the Legislature adopts colors, I think the University should adopt those of the state." The Missouri D. A. R. has honored Mrs. Walker, one of its foremost members, by hanging her picture in Continental Hall. She is a member of a distinguished family.

CALLS MARRIAGE THE "SUICIDE OF LOVE"

Leland Stanford U. Professor Shocks Women's Literary Club.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—When Prof. Edward D. Munroe of Leland Stanford University told the Woman's Literary Club of Woodlawn that "Marriage is the Suicide of Love," they were shocked. Then they got mad.

"The increasing number of divorces in America seems to substantiate this conclusion," the Professor added. "In the first place, marriage is entered upon by thousands of foolish and frivolous girls and young men without the least consideration of the question of mutual adaptability or congeniality.

"Before long there appears on the horizon of love's young dream the dreaded 'affinity.' Either the husband or wife falls a victim to 'affinity brain storms' and when that fatal malady comes on it is quite safe to assume that the beginning of the end of an otherwise happy wedded life is at hand.

"This has been called the land of liberty. Well, it certainly is a sweet land of liberty for all who seek to break up housekeeping."
