

Can You Grasp It?

Would you like to own your own HOME, the only certain "independence" in the world? There is nothing that adds so much to life as a HOME in a strictly HOME locality.

Why crowd yourself up on a small dusty lot when you can get a HOME in beautiful Westwood or Westmount at such a remarkably low price. Drive out at once and see the beautiful HOMES that have already been built in these two beautiful additions and catch the inspiration.

I appeal to HOME builders only, as I do not care to sell to speculators. DO IT NOW.

TO VOTERS OF BOONE COUNTY
Having served as County Superintendent of Schools in Boone county since the new county supervision law went into effect August 15, 1909, I am asking your support in the election at the annual school meeting, April 4, 1911. At this meeting the people will elect for the first time, under the new law, their county superintendent to serve for a period of four years. I respectfully solicit your support.

J. KELLY WRIGHT.

Trustee's Sale Notice.
Whereas, Joseph Winn, now more than nine months deceased, a single man of Boone county, Mo., by his certain deed of trust dated the 4th day of June, 1894, and recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of Boone county, Missouri, in book 52, at page 234, of the mortgage records of said county, conveyed to W. A. Goodding, as trustee, the following described real estate, situated in the City of Columbia, County of Boone, and State of Missouri, to-wit:

A part of that parcel or lot of ground known and described on the plat of the town of Columbia in said county and state, as the old Market Square, commencing at the southeast corner of said Market Square, thence west eighty (80) feet on Locust street, thence north one hundred and forty-two and one-half (142½) feet, thence east eighty (80) feet to the west line of Water Street, thence south along the west line of Water Street to the beginning.

Which said conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of a certain promissory note, in said deed described; and whereas, it is provided by the terms of said deed of trust that in case of the refusal to act by said trustee named in said deed of trust, then the sheriff of Boone county, Missouri, for the time being, shall thereupon become his successor to the title of said property, and the same becomes vested in him, in trust, for the purpose and objects of said deed, and with all the powers, duties and obligations thereof; and whereas, said W. A. Goodding, trustee named in said deed of trust has removed from said Boone county, Mo., whereupon the title to said property and the obligations imposed by said deed of trust on the trustee therein have devolved upon the undersigned Wilson Hall, sheriff of Boone County, Mo., by virtue of his office as sheriff of Boone county, Missouri, and whereas said note remains due and unpaid, default having been made in the payment thereof, therefore, I, the undersigned, sheriff of Boone county, Missouri, and substituted trustee, at the request of the legal holder of said note, in pursuance of the provisions of said deed of trust, will on between the hours of nine o'clock a. m. and five o'clock p. m., on that day at the south front door of the Court House in the city of Columbia, Missouri, sell the above described property to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy said note, interest and costs, of executing this trust.

WILSON HALL,
Sheriff Boone County, Missouri,
Substituted Trustee.

HOW THOSE BEATEN BISCUITS ARE MADE

Annie Fisher, Famous Negro Cook, Gives Recipe for Delicacy.

IT TAKES "ELBOW GREASE"

Has Baked a Million This Year and Has Big Demand.

1 quart of sifted flour.
1-3 cup of pure lard.
1-3 cup of butter.
1 cup of sweetened water.
Salt to taste.

"This is my recipe but you won't have any luck unless you put in plenty of elbow-grease—go at it from the shoulder; that's the thing that counts," says Mrs. Annie Fisher, Columbia's famous negro cook, in talking about her beaten biscuit, for which she has become widely known. Mrs. Fisher says she uses part lard and part butter to keep the biscuits light, so they won't become elastic; and sweetened water so they will not spoil. The sweetened water makes them brown just as well as milk, and they do not sour nearly so quickly.

The ingredients must be mixed thoroughly and after the dough becomes about as stiff as pie crust, it must be worked for fifteen minutes "to put life into it," as Mrs. Fisher says. "But don't work them too long," she advises, "or you will work it out again. That's where your common sense comes in. Many persons say they can't have the luck I have even when I tell them how to make the biscuits. But you just can't put your common sense into any one else," says she with a broad smile, her white teeth shining.

Invented a Cutter.
Mrs. Fisher uses a cutter which is her own invention. When the biscuits come out they have some little holes on top, put there by what she calls "sticking." She says it was too slow going over each one with a fork, so she took a coca can to the tinner and told him to put some nails in the bottom of it. With this contrivance she can cut her biscuits out and "stick" them at the same time.

Mrs. Fisher says she has made at least a million biscuits this year. Fifteen hundred is the largest amount she has made in a morning with a little help from her daughter. She has a big stove with a double oven and pans that hold forty-five biscuits each, so ninety can be baked at one time. Usually she bakes a batch of forty dozen. She charges ten cents a dozen for them.

Her Fame Has Spread.
Mrs. Fisher cooks and serves for all sorts of occasions in Columbia. She owns enough silverware to set plates for 250 people, and takes charge of an entire dinner or banquet. In addition to her large supply of silver and ordinary china, Mrs. Fisher has a large closet of Japanese, Venetian and handpainted china for smaller private functions.

Besides serving Columbia patrons, she fills frequent orders for people in Los Angeles, Cal., Denver, Col., and New York City. It is chiefly for fruit cakes and beaten biscuits, her specialty, that the orders come from these places.

Born and reared within five miles of Columbia, Mrs. Fisher has lived here all her life except for frequent short trips and vacations. She owns her own home, which she bought with money made by her cooking, and has a good-sized bank account.

A TALK ON BREAD

cannot fail to be interesting, and we are never tired talking about the purity and wholesomeness of our bread, rolls and biscuit. We make it from the choicest flour that is rich in nutrients, and our bakery is spotless in cleanliness from ceiling to floor. We employ clean, conscientious and competent help, and hence enjoy a reputation for baking the best bread in town.

M. U. IDEA COPIED IN NEW ZEALAND

Course in Journalism to Be Given at University of Christchurch.

WILL ISSUE DAILY PAPER

Candidate for Diploma Must Work a Year in Newspaper Office.

The Missouri plan in preparation for journalism has been adopted at the University of Christchurch, New Zealand. John Ward, Journalist, of Invercargill, writes to the University Missourian that "New Zealand is about to get into line with Missouri in the matter of preparing students for journalism. The Chief Justice, Sir Robert Stout, has long favored such a system."

Mr. Ward sent a clipping from the Wellington (New Zealand) Dominion, of January 30, in which appears the following dispatch by United Press Association from Christchurch:

"A suggested course of study in preparation for journalism was contained in a report presented by the Authors and Periods Committee to the University Senate today.

"The committee recommended:

"1. That a course of study in preparation for journalism be established, and that a diploma be granted on the examination in the course prescribed.

"2. That the following be the course prescribed: I, English language and literature, as for a B.A. pass; II, general history, as for a B.A. pass; III, economics, as for a B.A. pass; IV, constitutional history, as for a B.A. pass; V, geography, as for Bachelor of Commerce; VI, statistical method, as for Bachelor of Commerce; VII, psychology and logic, as for a B.A. pass; VIII, a paper on the practical work of journalism, the meaning of "news," the respective value of facts as "news," reporting, writing of heads and titles, paragraphing and summaries, the economy of words, interviews, preparation of copy, proof reading, the uses of works of reference, dictionaries, atlases, encyclopedia handbooks and year books of history and statistics, quotations, civic, the proper application of a knowledge of history, economics, and political science to contemporary public affairs, the relations of a newspaper to the public, comparison of the methods and styles of representative newspapers and journals, advertising, general acquaintance with the mechanical processes of printing books and newspapers, the general organization of a newspaper office (note, a candidate for this diploma will be required to forward to the registrar a certificate from a lecturer on this practical division of the subject that he has had practice for not less than one year in a newspaper office.)

"After a short discussion the report was adopted."
