

TO TEACH PUPILS BY MOTION PICTURES

Mothers' Club of Lee School Planning to Buy Machine.

"FREE SHOW" TODAY

Manufacturing Industries, Geography and Other Subjects Tonight.

The Mothers' Club of Lee School is contemplating the purchase of a moving picture machine for the projecting of educational films. The club and the teachers in the Lee School are meeting this afternoon in the high school with a representative of a moving picture company, who will give a demonstration with his machine.

Much can be accomplished in this line, as has been demonstrated in the larger cities where the plan has been tried. The various industries can be made familiar with the pupils. For instance, one film shows the manufacture of paper from the time the tree is felled in the forest until it is ready for the printer. Geography is also successfully taught in this way.

J. E. McPherson, superintendent of schools, agrees with the idea.

"The ladies of the Lee district are contemplating the purchase of this machine as a monument to the efforts and interest in public school work," said Mr. McPherson. "This is an instance of what can be done when parents and teachers co-operate in giving the children the best in educational lines."

Of the four grade schools for white children here, two have mothers' clubs. The Lee School Club was only recently organized, while the Benton School has had a mothers' club for about two years.

The Benton School club is planning a campaign to raise money to furnish equipment for manual training and domestic science courses in the school. This club has 150 members and co-operates with the teachers to further the interests of the school.

Mrs. Alonzo Jeffries, 509 Ann street, is president of the club. The Columbia School Board intends to build two extra rooms on the Benton School next fall. The board has not the money to furnish the room for the courses in manual training and domestic science. The club saw the possibility of raising money and furnishing the basement with the necessary equipment. The club will meet Friday to discuss the plans for raising the money. The plans are to have the new courses ready when school opens next fall.

The club meets the last Friday in each month. The members plan with the teachers of the school how to help the children in their work.

ART FOR STATE CAPITOL

But E. W. Stephens Says Pictures Should Be Historical.

Suggestions for the decorations of the new state capitol will be discussed next Saturday in St. Louis when the Capitol Building Commission will attend a meeting of the Artists' Guild.

According to E. W. Stephens of Columbia, chairman of the commission, paintings ought to be commemorative of the history of Missouri.

"So far as I am concerned, we can dispense with figures of nude women and have paintings of the great rivers, and the beautiful scenery of the agricultural and industrial features of Missouri," he says. "There seems to be a wealth of material for the artists to draw upon in the lives of Lewis and Clark, De Soto, Joliet, La Salle, Laclède and Benton."

The daughters of the American Revolution are taking particular interest in the matter of mural paintings for the capitol.

Sunday School Convention Here?

Herman Bowmar, general secretary of Missouri Sunday School Association, will be at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow. He will meet with the Sunday school teachers and workers at 4 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the advisability of holding the next state Sunday school convention at Columbia this fall.

5 TUBERCULARS AT DISPENSARY

After City Dispensary Was Opened, These Cases Were Found.

Since the opening of the City Dispensary less than a month ago, five cases of a tubercular nature have come under the direct supervision of those in charge. Dr. J. E. Jordan, the dispensary physician, says that the people are not well enough acquainted with the work of the dispensary to get the greatest benefit from it.

The two rooms of the dispensary, just north of the Athens Hotel, have been fitted up by the lodges of Columbia. The I. O. O. F. lodge furnished the stove, the Acacia and Twilight Masonic lodges gave the instrument cabinet and instruments, and the Elk lodge will furnish the office table. The rooms have been refurnished in white and are clean and well lighted.

An open house will be given the first week in February. The physicians of the town will attend.

NO ROOM IN SCHOOLS

J. E. McPherson Says New Buildings Soon Will Be Needed.

Columbia must have some new school buildings soon, according to J. E. McPherson, superintendent of schools. Public schools here now are crowded to their capacity and with continued growth of the town, will be unable to care for the large attendance.

"On one block in Columbia there are 920 students and instructors. In the high school alone, 453 of these are enrolled. In the seventh grades of the Jefferson and Grant Schools, now in the high school building, are eighty pupils. In the Jefferson school there are 357 pupils and these with the thirty teachers, bring the total for the one block up to 920."

"I don't believe the people of Columbia have any idea of the crowded condition of the city schools as regards accommodations. The Jefferson and Grant schools became so congested that the seventh grades had to be moved to the high school building. They are now settling into their new environment and are doing very creditable work."

"This overflowing of the school buildings shows how fast Columbia is growing. It is only a matter of time until new school buildings must be erected, as each building is now accommodating its maximum number of students."

At present Doctor Brown is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is a member, also, of the advisory council of the Simplified Spelling Board.

RIVER DISRESPECTS ROADWAY

"Big Muddy" Crowds Rutland Road Out of Its Course.

A public road has no "right" when the Missouri River is near. That is demonstrated plainly near Rutland, in this county. There the Big Muddy crowded a highway over so close to the Katy tracks that a train and wagons can't pass. The river kept cutting away the road and pushing, forcing the vehicles closer to the right of way of the railroad.

The County Court decided, from the report of a committee sent to inspect the road yesterday, that nothing could be done, except post warnings. The County Engineer will post the warnings tomorrow.

MAKE STATE WHITE ON SUFFRAGE MAP?

More Than Half of Required 23,000 Names on Initiative Petition.

VOTE IN NOVEMBER

Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Columbia Is President of Woman's Association.

What Missouri Will Be Asked to Vote Upon.

The amendment to the Missouri constitution which the women expect to submit to the men of the state by an initiative petition follows:

"Females shall hereafter have the same right under the same conditions to vote at all elections held in this state as males now have or may hereafter have."

Missouri is bounded on the East by Illinois, a woman's suffrage state, and the west by Kansas another equal suffrage state. It is the hope of the women of the Missouri Equal Suffrage Association to make a white strip on the woman's suffrage map from Indiana to Utah.

Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Columbia is president of the association and the state headquarters are here. Mrs. C. K. Burdick is corresponding secretary. The work of the local organization is directed by these two Columbia women from their room in the Miller building.

Initiative petitions are being circulated in two thirds of the congressional districts of the state now. More than half of the required 23,000 names have been secured and the women are sure that Missouri will vote upon the question of equal suffrage next November.

"Many people have a wrong idea of woman's suffrage," said Mrs. Miller. "Missouri women are not seeking the ballot through any antagonism to man. We feel that the men have had too much to do in the past. We have been asking our husbands to earn the living and at the same time to carry all the burden of public life."

"We are not entering the work as a fad or for gain. Every worker in the organization is voluntary. The number of college women in our association is an example of the type of women who are leading the campaign. We see in the present industrial conditions that some women have too much leisure and others have none at all. It is our hope that we will be able to help make these conditions better. It is our ideal to live in a nation where sweatshops are impossible and child labor unknown."

The women are students of sociology and economics. In their circulating library are books by John Stuart Mill, Jane Addams and other well-known writers.

After the initiative petitions have been filed and accepted, a campaign similar to that of a political party will be used. The women will have their county and township chairmen. There will be ward and precinct captains. Speakers will be brought into Missouri from all the other states. There will be automobile tours and booths at all county fairs.

SENATOR DENOUNCES W. N. U.

Evidence Shows $40,000 Yearly Paid for Canadian "News."

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—That the Canadian government has paid the Western Newspaper Union $40,000 a year for twelve years to run news of the opportunities in Canada in the "patent inside" of the newspapers distributed over this country, was admitted today by the advertising manager of the union before the Senate lobby today.

The union was severely denounced by Senator Nelson of Minnesota. He pointed his finger at the advertising manager and thundered:

"Hired by a foreign government to act disloyal to your country. Aren't you ashamed!"

It is estimated that 50,000 Americans have gone to Canada yearly since the "news" has been used by the Western Newspaper Union.

WILL TRY INTENSIVE FARMING NEAR HERE

S. C. Wampler of Harrisburg Will Try System on 100-Acre Plat.

FAVORS GOOD ROADS

Says Governor Major's Road Days Should Be in June.

S. C. Wampler, of Harrisburg, near Sturgeon, has just bought a farm near his town. He closed the deal here. He left this morning for Harrisburg. Mr. Wampler is a believer in intensive farming.

"If I can make as much on fifty acres as my neighbors do on a hundred, they lose their extra labor and time," he said. "The trouble with most farmers is they think of nothing but the acreage. The don't take any care of the land."

"Back in Virginia, where I came from, land is worth $125 an acre. It usually is no better than some of our land in this county. The reason is that they fertilize the soil every year."

"That is what I'm going to do. I'm going to put fifty acres of my hundred in wheat and fertilize it. I'm going to show my neighbors. The place is run down, but I'm going to make it pay."

Mr. Wampler thinks the greatest need of the farmer is good roads. He criticized the Good Roads Days of Governor Major, because the work was done in August instead of May or June.

"The governor ought to have known," he said, "that working the roads in August would make them all the softer for the fall rains. They should be worked not later than June. Then they will be firm all summer."

"In muddy weather the farmer has to stay at home. There are times when four horses can't pull an empty wagon. Now if there were a macadam road to Columbia from Harrisburg, I could get out any day and haul 2,500 pounds with one team."

NEW PHYSICAL TRAINING COURSE

Demand for Instructors in Gymnasium Creates New Department.

The large demand by high schools and small colleges of the state for teachers able to give all or part of their time to the coaching of athletic teams has led the School of Education to offer courses in physical education for this next semester. These courses are a part of the School of Education and are given primarily for those who intend to be teachers. A few courses have been given for the last three semesters, but it is now planned to keep adding new courses until a student will be able to major in the subject.

There will be seven distinct courses offered next semester, and with the exception of two, all are new. Occasional additions will be made until the full quota is reached. Some of this work has been offered before in Summer School in an incomplete form. A full four-year curriculum has been planned for those who wish to major in the work. This includes all work offered in physical education, and in allied subjects, such as medicine and education. W. W. Charters, dean of the School of Education, said:

"The large high schools demand athletic coaches who are able to devote their entire time to this work. From the smaller schools there is a call for teachers who are trained in physical education along with special subjects they teach. Then there are calls for men from the Y. M. C. A.'s and playgrounds. We have ten times more calls for teachers trained in physical education than we are able to supply."

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Three new homes for American diplomats abroad it was formally announced today, will be recommended in the diplomatic appropriation bill which will be reported about February 1. WILL NOT SHAVE TILL JUNE

Most of Senior Engineers Will Observe Custom Second Semester, Too.

Mustaches, side-burns, goatees, and just plain whiskers will probably be worn by the senior engineers until after the final examinations in June. No stringent rules will enforce the wearing of the same after the finals of this semester are over. But it is probable that most of the seniors will follow the custom of wearing some kind of a hairy adornment all spring.

For years this has been the custom of senior engineers. So far it has been rigidly observed this year. There are about eighty seniors in the different engineering departments.

HE NEEDS TO BE "SHOWN"

Professor Knows Not Whence Missouri "Show Me" Song Came.

W. L. Howard, professor of horticulture in the University, received a song and a note from Springfield, Mo., this morning. The name of the song is "Missouri" and the sub-title is "Show Me" song.

The writer is Miss Minna B. Quinn, a resident of Springfield. Mr. Howard said this morning that he knew no reason for the song being sent to him, unless he was known by the young woman. He lived in Springfield some ten years ago.

SENATOR CULLOM DIES

Illinois Statesman Served Sixty Years in Politics.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—Former United States Senator Shelby Moore Cullom died this afternoon.

Former-senator Cullom of Illinois was an active man in politics about sixty years. He began his political career in his election as city attorney of Springfield, Ill. He was a member of the Illinois State Legislature, member of Congress and later was elected to the United States Senate in 1883 and served continually until 1913. He made the presidential nominating speech, naming General U. S. Grant as the Republican nominee in 1872.

BOY FROM EACH COUNTY NOW!

St. Louis Republic Urges Another Plan for College of Agriculture.

Is a man with property assessed at $125,000 financially able to spend $160 a year on his son's education in the University of Missouri?

The St. Louis Republic suggests that the people of every Missouri county could afford to invest $160 in sending a boy from that county to the College of Agriculture. The lands of the poorest county in Missouri are assessed over a million. This is about one-third their value.

The expense of sending a boy to the University for a year, according to The Republic's figures, totals $160. This includes tuition and laboratory fees at $35, board $80 and room rent at $45.

In return for this scholarship the boy should agree to remain in that county at least for five years after he has finished his course. This would help stay the exodus which is made every year from different sections of the state.

The methods for carrying out this campaign will be for every county to decide. In some, commercial clubs might act, in another a county association of farmers and in another an enterprising newspaper.

This is the second campaign started by The Republic to secure better farming in Missouri. Recently the paper raised enough money to send thirteen farmer lads to school at the University next year.

FOUGHT FOUR TRAIN BANDITS

One Passenger Resisted; Others Helped Capture One Robber.

By United Press. ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Jan. 28.—Four masked men held up a passenger train between Bellaire and Zanesville on the Baltimore and Ohio railway this morning. While the robbers were taking their money and valuables from the passengers, one man resisted. Others joined in the fight. Three of the bandits leaped from the train with what booty they had, leaving one of their men in the hands of the passengers and train crew.

Athletic Committee to Meet.

The Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics of the University will meet Thursday night. The schedule of all the athletic events of the University of Missouri for this year is to be submitted for approval.

CAPTAIN TAAFFE IS INELIGIBLE AGAIN

Protest From University of Kansas Automatically Disqualifies Him.

SUSPENDS NEW RULE

Law That Graduates Play Is Void Till Next Meeting.

"I'm saving a cherry-wood pipe for you, Taaffe, as soon as you're through training."

"Well, give it to me now. I'm ineligible again."

A protest from the University of Kansas makes George R. Taaffe, captain of the Varsity basketball team, ineligible for the second time this season. The protest, sent to Professor W. G. Manly, secretary of the Missouri Valley Conference, is against the new rule permitting athletes to play three years whether they have a degree or not.

This rule was passed at the last meeting of the Conference, December 5, 1913. According to another rule of the Conference, any institution in the organization can protest any action within sixty days. Such a protest suspends operation of the new rule until the next meeting of the Conference. The old rule requiring that college athletes be undergraduates is now in effect as a result of the action of the University of Kansas.

The next meeting of the Conference is May 30. Doctor Manly sees no hope of making Taaffe eligible by means of any special action. The new rule was passed by the Conference December 5 by a vote of six to one. Kansas voted for it. As there are no graduates on the Jayhawk basketball team, they will not be affected by the protest. Ames and Nebraska each have a graduate player on their teams.

"The only way that Taaffe can become eligible again," said C. L. Brewer, professor of physical education, "is for the Conference to repass the rule before the regular meeting in May. This could be done either by mail or by a special meeting of the conference. There will be a meeting of the Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics tonight to consider the matter."

TURNER SUIT NOT FINISHED

Eleven Witnesses Heard in Court Today.

Eleven of the forty-eight witnesses in the case of Carter and Anna Stewart against M. A. Turner, executor of the estate of the late Thomas Turner, were called this morning. Little evidence was given. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are suing for $6,000 for the care they took of Thomas Turner a few years previous to his death in 1913.

The depositions of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gibson of Oklahoma City were read first. Mrs. Gibson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and the granddaughter of Thomas Turner. The testimony was that in the autumn of 1908 Mr. and Mrs. Stewart received a letter from Mr. Turner asking them to come to Columbia and take care of him. They left their home in Oklahoma.

The will of Thomas Turner was then read. It says that each son had already been given a piece of land valued at $1500, and that the two daughters, one of them Mrs. Stewart, had been given $500, each, in cash. A sum of $1000 was to be paid to each of the daughters, after which the remainder of the estate was to be divided equally among the heirs. Mathew Turner was named executor. A sale bill was read, showing that the personal property had been sold for $2047.40.

The only important testimony of the witnesses was that of James Weigenar. He said that from the autumn of 1907 until March 1910 he had been under a contract with Thomas Turner to put in and harvest all the crops on the half shares. The only work he ever saw Mr. Stewart do was to feed and care for the stock. Mr. Weigenar also said that during that time Mr. Turner was sick only once, and except for three weeks then, never required any special care.
