Sturdy and Stylish New Coats for Winter Wear.

We are proud of our new display of Winter coats and justly so for this exhibit outclasses in a most decided way any previous showing that we have ever had and presents a diversity of styles that will prove to be unusually pleasing to every woman who views them, particularly in view of the scarcity of good coats.

The models this season are being shown in many different lengths although the most popular is the seven-eighths length which is strongly favored in many models, while in the more dressy garments there is a strong tendency to use draperies. We have just received several new coats by express.

A Picture . . . . .

A photograph will convey more real sentiment than anything else we know of.

Send one home to the folks or "her" this Thanksgiving. You will be here. Remember the ones you left behind you.

10c ANNEX 10c

The Cameo of the films

"JEWELL"

in five charming parts.

FEATURING

ELLA HALL with RUPERT JULIAN.

Produced by Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley from the famous novel (Jewell) by Clara Louise Burnham. Adopted for the Screen by Lois Weber.

Jewell is a child's play for grown ups of infinite tenderness and charm. It is dainty, sweet and humorous. It makes one cry one minute and laugh the next, although the laugh always borders close to tears. "Little Jewell" comes into a household containing the worst and sorriest woman in the world. A gruff soured old "codger" and a mercenary mother and daughter.

"Little Jewell," a 12-year-old girl transforms this household of scheming intrigue which lies under the shadows of hatred into a Heaven of warmth and love and tenderness. One feels that he is peeping into the hearts and home lives of a real family. No train leaps over a precipice with a loss of a thousand lives. "Jewell" is a better picture than "Cabaria" "Quo Vadis" and the "Birth of a Nation" rolled into one, says an admirer of a film feature.

A great picture for 10 cents. See it!
